HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Newton Council Knights of Pythias entertains in a most enjoyable manner.

Newton Lodge, No. 110, K. of P., gave a real—with strong accent on the real—Halloween Party on Tuesday evening, October 24, for the pleasure of the wives and friends of the members. A great many guests were invited to come back to Castle Hall, Newtonville, to see their old friends and brother lodge members.

Among them was a tall, lanky ghost who welcomed the guests at the outer door after Mrs. Fred Howe had bestowed a becoming (and otherwise) Halloween hat on each. Thru a narrow door into a pit of darkness they were conducted. Two sprightly ghosts, with gibberish of an unknown world, led them up the "Plank of Destiny." Some screamed, some laughed, while others—Kipling would say: "But that's another story."

The next ghost was corpulent, and his hands were cold and clammy. Just as cold and clammy as any ice could make a rubber glove! Amid the lightning and thunder, produced by an accomplished musician and expert electrician, a ghost ushered them to their seats. Other ghosts wandered and groaned, or posed, even as the Goddess of Liberty, at the platform lights, which were mammoth pumpkins with grotesque cuttings. These were used for light and were fed by electricity.

In the background was a veritable forest of "ancient oaks and evergreens." The stage curtains were radiant with Halloween decorations. At the right a grinning skeleton stepped forth from a big black cauldron. At the left a donkey stood inert on the wall waiting for his numberless tails to be "mis"-adjusted. The ghosts groaned dismally as clanking chains foretold the arrival of more "Spooks from Spookland."

At eight o'clock the Chancellor Commander, still a ghost, addressed and welcomed the audience which then filled the hall to the limit. He spoke of a ghost who desired to sing a song he knew when he was on earth, so Brother Howe entertained with a comic song. Brother Lucas, as interloper, and known as Mr. Ku-Klux, introduced his amateur, miniature ghost minstrel show. Brothers H. E. Brayman, E. Freeman, F. Howe, W. Whalin, D. Skelton, P. Smith gave a pleasing number of jokes; hits on brother lodge members and songs fitted for the occasion.

One touching scene was the aftermath of a solo that was rendered. Back, far back in the shrubbery, hidden voices sang, "Listen to the Mocking Bird." It was immensely enjoyed and the joke taken with brotherly spirit. The closing chorus was written especially for Newton Lodge and sang to the tune, "Maryland, My Maryland."

Then followed the Ghost Song by Brother Howe with pantomime. Piano selections by Brother Albert Allen.

By preliminary reading of creepy, ghostly verse and prose Chancellor Commander Walter Whalin read the ghost story, "The Haunted Wood," which was carried out in pantomime. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Baker taking the lovers' part. The colored lights, ghost faces and the "crying in" of the Haunted Wood was ably done by a band of ghosts. The finale was unexpected and "explosive." The applause was gratifying.

Brother Howe gracefully sang another old time song. In civilian clothes again Chancellor Commander Walter Whalin introduced Chancellor Commander Heald of Needham Lodge, also Sister Heald of the Pythian Sisters.

Cafeteria lunch of pumpkin pie (to be eaten with tiny spoons) doughnuts, cheese and sweet cider were served by Mrs. Whalin, Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Baker, the men helping, also.

The games came next. The "Saltine Whistle," in the vernacular was a scream. Also the raisin race and pie eating contest. Suitable prizes were awarded. The party became general at this time and apple games were indulged in as Roman gipsies told the fortunes of many. "Gold" was at a premium, but some got quite a fortune for seven cents. "That's all there is, there isn't any more," and the lights went out after a merry evening and a merry throng.

EAGLE SCOUT BANQUETED

This evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A., Charles E. Barba, Jr., will be given a surprise banquet by a group of Newton Citizens who will join with Troop 11 to do honor to the first Eagle Scout in Norumbega District Council of Boy Scouts.

The rank of Eagle Scout, which is the highest any member of the organization can attain, has been won by Charles Barba, who for several years now has filled the office of Senior Patrol Leader in Troop 11 Newton. The winning of this distinction by Barba is the logical outcome of his most consistent and efficient work in the troop, as well as of a great deal of perseverance which enabled him to overcome the many obstacles. The presentation and banquet is also in honor of his many splendid services to the troop ever since his joining of the troop on his moving here from Pennsylvania, where he had previously been a scout. The troop at that time was at low ebb, and its present success is in large measure due to Barba's fine work, without the slightest doubt. He has continually set a high standard of performance, and his work as Senior Patrol Leader is of unusually high quality. His associates in the work take this opportunity for expressing their deep appreciation of what he has done.

The dinner will be served by the Women's Auxiliary of the troop, under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Woodbridge, Mrs. Charles H. Barney, Mrs. W. K. Stafford, Mrs. C. E. Rees, Mrs. C. E. Barba, Mrs. W. F. Soch, Mrs. Alden Clark, Mrs. F. M. Fellows, and Mrs. E. W. Crawford; every family connected with the troop is assisting in some way. Through the kindness of Mrs. Loren D. Towle, appropriate red, white, and blue flowers will be among the decorations.

Mr. Charles E. Rees will be the Toastmaster for the banquet program and among the guests will be Mr. James A. Stafford, President of the Norumbega Council; Mr. John Benbow, Scout Commissioner; Mr. Varney, Chairman of the Court of Honor; Mr. W. B. Sharratt, Scout Executive; Mr. Chase Kepner, Chairman of the Boys' Committee of the Newton Y. M. C. A.; Mr. C. E. Barba, Sr., Mr. C. H. Woodworth, first scoutmaster of the troop; Deputy Commissioner Jerome M. Carley, the third man to be Scoutmaster of the troop; Mr. Frank E. Lichtenhaeler, Scoutmaster of Troop 4 Newton Highlands; Mr. Edmund I. Leeds, Senior Member of the Troop Committee; and Mr. Julius Kohler, formerly a member of this troop.

Mr. Robert P. Waller joins the staff of troop officers in the capacity of an Assistant Scoutmaster in addition to the present Assistant Scoutmasters, Mr. H. H. Stafford, Mr. C. H. Barney, Jr., and Mr. C. A. Butts.

At the conclusion of the banquet the main event of the evening will take place in the presentation of the Eagle badge to Charles Barba. The same evening, the Scoutmaster of Troop 11, J. M. Woodbridge, Jr., will receive his Ten Year Veteran's Badge, marking ten years of service in the troop, during which time he went from Tenderfoot rank to that of Scoutmaster. Five newly-enrolled members of the troop, Gilford Currier, A. Michael Alford, LeWitt Clinton Grubbs, and Wilkinson Pratt, will receive their badge and certificates of membership, thus crossing the threshold of Scouting for the first time.

THE GOBLIN FAIR

For the past five weeks the West Newton Girl Scouts have given up practically all of their Scout work in order to get the entertainment ready which they were asked to give in aid of West Newton Library Fund. They were glad to be able to be a part of the group who are doing this splendid thing and yesterday afternoon in Players' Hall presented "The Goblin Fair" as their contribution to the Memorial Fund. The entire Troop 5 either took part in the play or helped in some way in the production. The cast was as follows: Constance Upham, Priscilla Bacon, Elizabeth Pittman, Velma Lawrence, Catherine Rich, Eleanor Gile, Eleanor Hartel, Katherine Bolster, Mary Rich.

Mushroom Fairies—Priscilla Ballou, Kathlene Andrews, Barbara Lippincott, Margaret Barber, Barbara Eaton, Ruth Williams, Barbara Lester, Barbara Reed, Elizabeth Phalen, Julia Bacon, Virginia Blunt, Mary Cloud, Eleanor Bingham.

Moonbeam Fairies—Marion Hutchinson, Margaret Hatch, Margaret Blunt, Elizabeth Bingham, Margaret Jack, Elvira Ogden, Elfrida Carter, Dorothy Tufts.

Mice—Ruth Cook, Dorothy Gilman, Cleone Place, Ruth Larned, Marion Haynes, Ruth Haynes, Virginia Newhall, Constance Barber, Virginia Hatch, Elfrida Rich, Anna Buchanan, Alice Batson, Elizabeth Moynihan, Wilhelmina Bosworth, Elizabeth Snow, Bertha Hicks.

Goblins—Elizabeth Bowen, Velma Lawrence, Catherine Rich, Dorothy Flint, Alice Eaton, Lois Ladd, Dorothy Newton, Elizabeth Kilburn, Elizabeth Leighton, Eloise Andrews, Elizabeth Brooks, Eleanor Clough, Marion Timby, Barbara Jack.

The Scouts were assisted by Genevieve Ford, Edna Morrison, Miss Dorothy Murphy, Catherine Couran, Catherine Donahue, Helen Madden, Ruth Pearson, Mary Macpherson.

VESPER SERVICE

The First Vesper Service of the season will be held at the First Church in Newton, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

First Church orchestra, D. Ralph Maclean, conductor; J. Robert Lunge, baritone soloist. Prelude Adagio (for strings), Bizet; Vorspiel, Kistler; Baritone Solo, "I Hear Thy Voice," Lang; Traume, Wagner; Baritone solo, "Omnipotence," Schubert; Les Preludes, Liszt.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The Pomroy Home for Orphan Girls in Newton celebrated its Golden Anniversary on Tuesday. The home was founded fifty years ago by Miss Mary C. Shannon, Miss Mary Shannon, Mrs. Daniel Furber, and Mrs. Rebecca Pomroy, who was the first superintendent, and after whom it was named.

Since it was opened, the home has cared for 160 girls, and there are twenty in the home at present. Each is assured of a high school education and training in some trade before leaving the institution.

Miss Clara M. Hayes, the present superintendent, has been with the home twenty-five years. Under her able administration, the home has a delightful atmosphere that cannot fail to be felt by all who enter its portals.

Assisting Miss Hayes on Tuesday were Mrs. Vernon B. Swett, and Miss M. Louise Riley, Miss Lucy E. Allen of West Newton and Mrs. Frank W. Webber of Newton presided at the tea table, while Mr. O. M. Fisher and Mr. Charles A. Haskell received at the door.

Nearly a hundred took this opportunity of visiting the home with its shining kitchen, its attractive play room, its appealing nursery, and its immaculately-kept bed rooms. Several of those present had at one time been members of the home and one had been in the home in Mrs. Pomroy's day.

Among the visitors was Mrs. George S. Harwood, eighty-eight years old, who has been interested in the home from the beginning.

The directors of the home are: President, Charles A. Haskell of Newton; Miss Lucy E. Allen, principal of the Allen School for Girls, West Newton; Mrs. George Angier of Newton; Mr. James E. Clark of Newton; Mrs. Charles E. Gibson of West Newton; Mrs. George S. Harwood of Newton; Mrs. Vernon B. Swett of Newton; Mrs. Arthur C. Walworth of Newton Centre; Mrs. Frank W. Webber of Newton; Miss Abby A. Miller of Newtonville; Mrs. Howard M. North of Waban; and Mr. Oliver M. Fisher, treasurer.

EASTERN STAR

A very enjoyable Halloween party was held on Monday night at Temple Hall, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

Frank H. Briggs was chairman of the whist which was held in the afternoon. There were twenty-five tables. Prizes were won in auction bridge by Mrs. F. L. Mason and Mrs. Clifford Flye, and in plain whist by Mrs. Luella Ryall, and by Mrs. Arthur Heald.

Mrs. Grace E. Twigg of Newtonville was in charge of the supper, and Mr. Herbert McGill, assisted by Mrs. Burdett Mensfield had charge of the dances. The hall was tastefully decorated in Halloween colors. Between two and three hundred were present.

NEWTON RED CROSS

Reports at recent annual meeting show that excellent work has been accomplished

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter American Red Cross was held at Headquarters, 306 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Wednesday evening, October 25, 1922. Reports were made by the Chairman, Treasurer and Secretary and Chairmen of the various Service Committees covering the Chapter's activities for the past year.

Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Chairman of the Home Service Section impressed upon the members the importance of continuing service which the Chapter is rendering to ex-service men in Newton, especially those who are disabled.

This work consists principally in assisting in the adjustment of compensation, insurance and vocational training claims, in the securing of additional evidence and information necessary to establish these claims and especially in contract hospitals for the insane in establishing the right compensation which might pass by unnoticed if it were not for the Red Cross Worker. The Red Cross acts as the counselor and attorney presenting the case logically, sympathetically and clearly to the Veterans Bureau thereby not only assisting the ex-service man, but also being of great help to the Bureau itself. The Newton Chapter is co-operating very closely with the local post of the American Legion and Mr. Noone the Legion representative, has given our secretary very valuable help in handling some of our most serious cases. The bulk of the Home Service work may diminish, but the difficulty of handling cases will not. With the lapse of time the task of gathering and presenting evidence in claims becomes more difficult and the need of intelligent championing of just claims becomes greater.

Since the establishment of the Home Service Section the committee has rendered service in one form or another to 1139 families of ex-service men.

The principal disabilities of those wounded in service are General Medical, Mental, Tuberculosis, Gassed and Shell Shock. Of the cases handled during the past year it is interesting to note that 15 per cent of them were due to mental disorders of some kind.

and it is in these cases that the Red Cross renders itself especially valuable to the ex-service men.

It was unanimously voted by the members present that the Chapter continue during the ensuing year the active work of the Home Service Section and to render to any ex-service man in Newton every service possible.

Interesting reports were made by Miss Herrick, who has been in charge of the Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes; by Miss Bragg on the work of the Junior Auxiliary in the Schools and a very interesting report was made by Miss Jamieson, who described in detail the work of the Life Saving and First Aid classes. She told of various methods of rescuing drowning persons and laid especial emphasis on the Red Cross means of resuscitation.

During the past year the Newton Chapter has awarded life saving and first aid certificates to over one hundred boys and girls in Newton. Classes in Newton which were held at the Y. M. C. A. swimming tank and at La-Salle were organized and directed by Miss Herrick and many Newton boys and girls are now wearing the life-saving insignia.

Mrs. Angier gave the report of the Production Committee for the past year and called the attention of the members to the fact that the Red Cross would soon be called upon to supply clothing to hundreds of thousands of refugees who are now pouring into Greece and adjacent islands from Asia Minor and Thrace, in a migration that is causing terrible suffering and death, and may start a devastating pestilence. It is estimated that a million refugees may have to be cared for. The situation is a world disaster which the American Red Cross, in keeping with its charter and its traditions, has agreed, with other organizations, to meet.

Every citizen of Newton who has on hand any new or used clothing that is clean and in good useable condition is sincerely requested to drop a post card to Red Cross Headquarters, 306 Walnut Street, giving his name and address and amount of clothing on hand. The Production Committee is now organizing to take over garments (Continued on Page 4)

NEWTON W. C. T. U.

An important public meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held in the First Baptist Church parlors, Newton Centre, on Thursday, at 2.30 P. M. The speaker was Rev. Charles N. Ar-buckle, D.D., subject, "Freedom and Its Responsibility."

The hostesses were Mrs. J. A. Groves, Mrs. S. D. Whittemore, Mrs. G. E. Tufts, Mrs. C. H. Russell, Mrs. J. B. Manning, Mrs. S. P. Melaney, and Mrs. E. R. Longsdorf.

DEATH OF MR. RAND

Mr. William H. Rand, long engaged in the real estate business in Newton, died Saturday at his home, 247 Austin street, West Newton. He was 70 years of age, a native of Weston, and was the fifth generation of the family to be born in that town. His father was Willard Rand. Early in his business life he was engaged in the grocery trade in West Newton.

He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons of Newtonville, and he belonged to the Odd Fellows and the Golden Cross. He always had been active in the temperance movement and was a member of the Good Templars. He was a member of the Beth Eden Baptist Church in Waltham, where he was chairman of its music committee.

Mrs. Rand, who was Miss Nellie Butler of West Newton, died several years ago. He is survived by a daughter, Dr. N. Louise Rand of West Newton; two brothers, Francis Rand of Boston and Charles Rand of Lynn; and a sister, Miss Abbie M. Rand of West Newton.

Services were held at his home, 247 Austin street, Sunday, and were largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. Herbert Levey, pastor of Beth-Eden Baptist church of Waltham, of which Mr. Rand had been a member for some years, officiated, and rendered the same selections that were sung at Mrs. Rand's funeral three years ago. The masonic service was held at the close. The bearers were Mr. Roscoe Packard and Mr. J. Olcott of Dalhousie Commandery, Mr. Harvey Wood and Mr. Henry Buck of the Odd Fellows lodge, and Mr. Henderson and Mr. Edwin Kimball of the A. O. U. W.

DEATH OF MR. GILMAN

Mr. John Abbott Gilman, a resident of Newton for nearly 60 years, died at his home on Franklin street last Saturday in his 86th year. He was a native of Hallowell, Me., and was the son of Samuel and Lucy (Dummer) Gilman.

In 1863 he came to Boston with his two brothers and established the house of Gilman Brothers, wholesale druggists. Their first location on Milk street was destroyed by the Boston fire in November, 1872. They later occupied a site on Washington street, and in 1893 moved to Franklin street. Mr. Gilman continued his active connection with the business until June of this year, when ill-health forced him to retire.

In 1861 he married Miss Louisa Sprague of Hallowell, Me., and in 1911 they celebrated their golden wedding. Mr. Gilman is survived by four daughters, Miss Louise Gilman, Miss Ellen Gilman, Miss Margaret Gilman, and Mrs. Atherton Clark of Newton, and one sister, Miss Sophy Gilman of Hallowell, Me.

He was for many years one of the deacons of Eliot Church. Services were held at his late residence on Tuesday, Rev. H. Grant Person, D.D., officiating. The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

AN OPEN MEETING

The Newton Highlands Improvement Association in Executive session on Wednesday last voted to throw open its doors to the public on the evening of November the 10th. Plans are now under way to make this meeting a genuine old-fashioned Village affair and anyone with a grievance or a suggestion for the improvement of the Village will have ample opportunity to state the facts.

The membership of the Improvement Association is growing rapidly and it is the desire of the officers to close the year with an enrollment of 1,000 members.

FREE SWIMMING AT Y. M. C. A.

Beginning November the 13th, and continuing throughout the week, afternoons and evenings, a free city-wide swimming campaign for men and boys will be conducted at the Y. M. C. A.

All school boys from the sixth grade up will be given free instruction. Older boys not in school, as well as men, are also invited to take advantage of this opportunity to learn free.

Jack Manning of the Humane Society, crew coach at Harvard for seventeen years will do the instructing again this year. Last year over two-thirds of those attending learned to swim during the week of the campaign.

The water in the pool will be drained to a shallow depth and kept at a warm temperature. Each boy will be given a physical examination before being permitted to enter. Letters and cards are to be distributed through the schools. All those who do not know how to swim and wish to enter the campaign should stop in at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday 9.30 A. M., November 11, at which time they will be examined and assigned to periods for the following week.

Fellowship Club

Mayor E. O. Childs will be the speaker at the first meeting of the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, November 6th. Supper will be served at 6.30. We shall be glad to have all who wish to attend, at this first meeting.

Boys' Division, Newton Y. M. C. A. Younger Boys' Club Meetings and Social

Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the Junior B Class will hold its regular Club meeting and Bible study. Following the meeting a lunch will be served and Saturday afternoon will be spent in playing games both indoors and out. The Giants and Yankees are neck to neck in their contest and Dick Duly, leader of the Giants is putting in some of his pinch hitters, trying to win the shield.

The Debating Club will hold its first social Saturday evening.

CITY HALL NOTES

Chief W. B. Raundlett has recommended the appointment of the following persons as members of the Fire Department, in order to provide for the one day off in three recently authorized by the city government:

Edward J. Pollock, Capital street, Edward A. Keegan, Middle street, John Babbitt, 304 Watertown street, Nicholas F. Bibbo, 361 Watertown street, Arthur R. Pierce, Rustic street, Nonantum, Joseph F. and Francis E. Fitzgerald, 346 Elliott street, Upper Falls, Edward R. Dunn, Ripley street, Michael Spauldske, 310 Langley road, Newton Centre, Joseph P. Murphy, Emerson street, Newton, Joseph F. Columbus, 1461 Washington street, West Newton, John L. Keating, John street, Thompsonville and Michael L. Keegan, of Waltham.

134 building permits were issued during October by the Building Department, with a total estimated value of $799,910, of which 41 were for single dwellings valued at $390,600. This makes a total valuation for the year of $5,807,282.

THAT SHE-MANITY DEGREE

The general problem for discussion will be, "Training Pupils in Giving." Dr. Herbert W. Gates will speak.

—The first regular meeting of the Otyokwa of the Newton M. E. Sunday School was held at the home of Mrs. W. G. Lennox, 53 Bennington street, on Oct. 26th. It took the form of a Hallowe'en party and after an important business meeting, masks were donned by all. The chief entertainment of the evening was the publishing of a humorous newspaper, "The Otyokwa Weekly, the heads of the paper having been appointed previously; these being Mrs. Bertha Hartzell, editor-in-chief; Mrs. Florence Mansfield, city editor; Mrs. Pauline Peterson, advertising manager; Miss Elsa Leonard, sporting editor, and Mrs. Bertha Plinn, Poet's corner. It was a huge success and many bright hits were made. Choice refreshments crowned the evening's enjoyment.

—Mr. Henry Richardson has moved into the house number 145 Collins road.

—Mrs. C. Adrain Sawyer of Waban avenue entertained at luncheon bridge on Monday.

—A "YES" Vote next Tuesday endorses the well-considered action of the Legislature and the Governor.

—Mrs. Herbert W. Kimball and daughter of Woodward street have returned from Boxboro where they spent the summer.

—A Hallowe'en party for children was held last Saturday at the home of Mrs. James G. Meissner on Chestnut street. There were over thirty children present.

—About 190 partook of the bountiful Harvest supper at Union Church last Friday night. Mrs. Stephen L. Croker was chairman of the supper committee, and Mrs. Roy E. Angersinger had charge of the harvest decorations. The boys of the church provided an amusing minstrel show.

—A very successful Hallowe'en party was held last Saturday night at the Neighborhood Club. About 300 were present. The decorations of evergreen and orange and pink paper were very attractive. Ices and cakes were of orange and white. Those in charge of the decorations were Mrs. Stanley Newton, chairman, Mrs. Harry Wood and Mrs. Donald G. Robbins.

Mrs. Sidney Clark was in charge of the of the dancing and of the refreshments.

FATHER AND SON WEEK

A program of interesting and suggestive activities for church groups during the "Father and Son Week" is being printed and distributed to church leaders by the Norumbega District Sunday School Association. This program begins on November 12, Armistice Sunday, and includes ideas for "Father and Son Banquet," for "Dad and Son at Home Night," and for "Father and Son Day," on Sunday, November 19th. Suggestions for the Sunday observance include material for the church service, for the Sunday School session and for the Mens' Bible Class.

It is suggested that men's Bible classes or mens' clubs of a church take the responsibility for seeing that the "Week" is observed in co-operation with the older boys and young men. The Young People's Executive Committee of the Norumbega District has appointed a sub-committee to promote the "Week" among the older boys of the Sunday Schools.

SCHOOL OF DANCING

Prof. Salvatore Paparone's School of Modern Dancing is now located at 110 Boylston St., Back Bay.

The latest New York dances and all the favorites taught rapidly and artistically by Salvatore Paparone. Master of the Modern Dance and a Graduate of the famous Royal Dancing Academy of Naples, Italy.

Mr. Paparone is in touch with the Centre of the Dance in New York, and is a member of the largest dancing society in the world, "The Inner Circle," of New York.

For the past seven years, Mr. Paparone has been Dancing Instructor and Master of Ceremonies in various fashionable winter and summer resort hotels, formerly at the Old Orchard House, Old Orchard, Me., where he taught in 1917, 1919, 1920 and 1921.

While two years in the U. S. Army, Mr. Paparone volunteered his services as Dancing Instructor, where he taught thousands of boys during his time of leisure.—See advertisement.

Not Philanthropy— Just Good Business

Once in a while a skeptical friend eyes me doubtfully when I tell him he can save time and money if he will make his toll calls on a station-to-station basis. When I ask him to speak out, he tells me frankly that he is wondering why I am recommending something that will decrease our toll revenue. The fact is, as I explain to him, I expect that his compliance with my suggestion will increase our toll revenue and save us time and money, too.

Here's why: Station-to-Station toll service is simply an extension of the "call by number" practice of local service. A few years ago we extended this "call by number" practice to short-haul toll calls—calls of 15 to 25 miles. It worked so successfully that we are now applying that practice to toll calls to any point in the country. Over 80 per cent of our toll business is now being handled in this way.

It enables us to handle a larger number of calls over a given circuit, thus saving construction costs. It enables us to save the time of operators, thus saving operating costs. We can and do, therefore, pass on to subscribers a saving of at least 20 per cent, and up to 75 per cent in many cases, on toll calls made on the station-to-station basis as against the old-fashioned person-to-person method.

But my friend says: "I want to talk with Mr. So-and-so, and he may be out." That contingency is worth considering, of course. However, when I ask: "Where would you expect to find Mr. So-and-so during business hours?" my friend unhesitatingly replies: "Why, at his office—or at his bank or his factory as the case may be. Of course, that's where a business man usually is found these days—sticking pretty close to his business."

That's why our station-to-station method of handling toll calls has grown so rapidly in the favor of business men who have tested it and found that it would—and does—save them time and money. And because it makes it easier for them to do business—because it is speedier and more economical than the old method—they have given us more and more of their business to handle. It's not philanthropy with us, therefore—it's good business to recommend station-to-station toll service.

Test it for yourself. Make a call for the number or the listed name of some person or concern, simply adding that you will talk with anyone, to indicate that you desire station-to-station rate, and see if you are not able to reach the person you want, or someone who can satisfactorily act for him.

If you don't know the number, simply give the name and address and our toll operators will make the connection so quickly you will be surprised and pleased at the result.

JOHN W. BYERS,
Com'l. Manager.

EDITORIAL

The voters of this city will be called upon next Tuesday to approve or disapprove five matters which have been enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor after public hearings and a thorough consideration of all phases of each. If you are indifferent, therefore, you may vote "Yes" with the assurance that by so doing you are sustaining the position taken by the elected servants of the people. If you are inclined to vote against any of these questions, we suggest that you give careful consideration to the size of the vote by which each matter was passed to be enacted, as well as to the merits of the questions themselves.

The first matter is purely routine and there should be no question as to a favorable vote. It is intended to save the time of the Legislature now taken up by perfunctory and unnecessary roll calls.

The second question is on an act to allow unincorporated associations, like clubs, political groups, trade unions, employers' associations, etc., to sue and be sued, as if they were legally incorporated. The act is based on the principle that an individual is responsible for his acts, and if a group of individuals desire to act as a unit, they must assume collective responsibility. Vote "Yes" on this measure.

The third question is the so-called censorship of moving pictures about which so much unfair and untruthful propaganda has been circulated. A newspaper is prohibited by law from publishing obscene matter and this act merely extends that principle to the moving picture business. The opponents of the measure carefully refrain from stating that Massachusetts has had a "one man" censorship of moving pictures for several years on all films shown in the state on Sunday. No one has been annoyed or inconvenienced by this "censorship" and in fact, hardly anyone in the state has been aware of it, and it has done its work quietly and efficiently. The proposed act merely extends this present supervision over the Sunday pictures to those shown on Monday and other days of the week. "Freedom of the press" and similar arguments against the act are demagogic appeals to a supposedly unthinking electorate.

The fourth referendum is what is called the "State Volstead Act" and is intended to harmonize the laws of Massachusetts with the present Federal laws to enforce the 18th Amendment to the United States Constitution. It should be looked upon merely as an effective way of enforcing law and order in this State by authorizing the local and State police to act on any violation of the liquor law. A vote against this measure will not lead to a modification of the present law, will not help out the program for light wines and beers, and should not be confused with these measures. Vote "Yes" on this measure also.

The last referendum explains itself and should have a large majority in this city. There can be no question but what a district attorney should be a member of the bar, and we have merely to look at the Pelletier situation in Boston to see what a negative vote might mean. Vote "Yes."

There should be a cordial and hearty support next Tuesday of the entire Republican ticket by the voters of Newton. Governor Cox and other State officials have given the Com-

REPUBLICANS OF MIDDLESEX COUNTY:

ARTHUR K. READING, Republican, is your candidate for District Attorney, nominated by the Republican Primaries by an overwhelming vote.

Aided by a few persons of uncertain political faith, the Democratic machine has put more money and effort into the contest than in any District Attorney campaign since it elected Corcoran.

ARTHUR K. READING'S superior qualifications for the office, his character and standing as a lawyer which will make a reputation of recent conditions impossible, are attested by eminent citizens throughout the county.

FORMER ATTORNEY-GENERAL HERBERT PARKER SAYS: "I believe Mr. Reading has the capacity, both through learning and knowledge of trial of cases, and acquaintance with public service, to efficiently, faithfully and honorably discharge the duties of District Attorney."

FORMER DISTRICT ATTORNEY JOHN J. HIGGINS SAYS: "I know Arthur K. Reading to be a lawyer of the highest type, of unusual ability, sound judgment, honesty and courage, whose election will reflect great credit and honor upon Middlesex County and the Republican party."

GILBERT A. A. PEVEY, CHAIRMAN OF THE GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE OF THE MIDDLESEX BAR ASSOCIATION, SAYS: "Mr. Reading is an able lawyer, honest, independent and fearless. He will make an ideal District Attorney."

ALBERT HUSNELL HART, PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT, HARVARD COLLEGE, SAYS: "The Republican party is to be congratulated upon its selection of Arthur K. Reading as its candidate for District Attorney. We need more men like him in American public life."

CONGRESSMAN FREDERICK W. DALLINGER OF CAMBRIDGE SAYS: "Arthur K. Reading is a lawyer of ability and a man of the very highest standing in his own community."

FORMER PRESIDENT CHARLES H. MCINTYRE OF THE MIDDLESEX BAR ASSOCIATION SAYS: "I am convinced that Arthur K. Reading has the character, the ability and the courage to be a District Attorney of whom the people of Middlesex will be proud."

THE CAMBRIDGE CHRONICLE, THE OLDEST AND LARGEST NEWSPAPER IN CAMBRIDGE, SAID EDITORIAL UNDER DATE OF OCTOBER 21, 1922: "Mr. Reading's election is practically sure, and we are equally sure that before the passage of a single year he will establish a reputation as one of the ablest and best of our prosecuting officers."

monwealth a splendid administration and deserve the commendation which is their due. Senator Lodge should have an overwhelming vote, not only in Newton but throughout the State. He is one of the leaders in our national affairs and State pride alone ought to be a sufficient reason for his re-election. But there is something more involved than State pride in this election for the size of the vote will be indicative of the intelligence of Massachusetts voters to discern ability, and statesmanship, even when it may lead to a position contrary to the popular idea. In other words we trust the voters of Massachusetts will judge Senator Lodge, not by his unpopular vote on one or two matters, but by the sum of all his work and all his votes during a long and brilliant career in the Senate.

We also hope there will be a good majority for Arthur K. Reading, the Republican candidate for district attorney. There has been so much misrepresentation in regard to his candidacy that the Republicans of this district owe it to themselves to rebuke such methods by giving Mr. Reading their hearty support. Incidentally, as we said before, he is able, alert, and aggressive, and in our opinion will make a capable and forceful official.

As we go to press we heard a rumor that the women of Newton will not support Senator Lodge, at the coming election. We trust this rumor is not true for we believe that if the women of Newton will give the matter any serious thought they will realize that if Senator Lodge has not always voted as this or that one would like, much of the some called objectionable voting was done several years ago and since that time Senator Lodge has certainly earned the good will of every American citizen for his work in defeating the League of Nations and in formulating the four power treaty. It would be a disgrace to Massachusetts to deprive the country and President Harding at this critical period in the history of the world of the experience and statesmanship of Senator Lodge. Do not let any petty pique or prejudice pervert a broad minded and wise view of the entire situation.

In taking up the question of fire insurance rates in this city the Chamber of Commerce is doing the country a real service. We understand that the present rates were established when the city was served with horse driven apparatus and there can be no question but what the motor driven apparatus of the present is far more efficient than the former. A reduction in fire insurance rates will benefit every house owner in the city.

Boiled down to a nut shell, a vote of "Yes" on any or all of the questions on the ballot next Tuesday is an endorsement of the action of a majority of the Legislature and the approval of Governor Cox. A vote "No" is an endorsement of the opinions of small groups of persons who were unable to convince a majority of the Legislature and the Governor of the wisdom of their cause.

While no one has any objection to decent fun on Halloween, the ringing of fire alarms and the damage to property goes altogether too far. The police should take strong measures next year to prevent a recurrence of the manner in which Halloween was celebrated last Tuesday.

This is Tree Planting week throughout the country, and special emphasis is laid on the need of fruit trees in the future. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A vote of "YES" on the 4th referendum next Tuesday is a declaration that the people of Newton support the constitution of the United States.

The one day off in three for firemen in this city goes into effect on Monday, requiring the appointment of 14 more men.

Be sure you take time to vote next Tuesday. Elections are not carried by the voters who do not go to the polls.

Y. W. C. A. NEEDS $7500

The local Young Women's Christian Association is busy with plans for the raising of its first budget. The week of November 13th to 20th will be Y. W. C. A. week in Newton. Miss Lucile Rader of the Y. W. C. A. National Headquarters, New York City is in town assisting the Board of Directors in the management of the campaign.

The amount to be raised during the week is $7,500 which is needed to carry out the program planned, provide necessary equipment, especially for the gymnasium, and for co-operation with the Student Branch of the Y. W. C. A., which is meeting the needs of girl students who are studying in Metropolitan Boston, including Newton.

The Newton Y. W. C. A. was organized in March, 1922, and the Association Headquarters at 251 Washington street is daily becoming more of a center for the girls and women of Newton. The money needed for the organization in the beginning and for maintaining it for the first months of its existence has been the gift of interested friends.

Committees in preparation for Budget Week are being organized with Mrs. Fred Loveland as General Chairman. The Chairmen of the Committees are Miss Margaret Aubin, Lists; Mrs. E. P. Brown, Initial Gifts, and Mrs. Henry Harrison, Teams Chairman.

Officers of the Young Women's Christian Association are: Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, President; Mrs. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., and Mrs. Henry I. Harrison, Vice Presidents; Miss Helen A. Woodman, Secretary; Miss Emma E. Walker, Treasurer and Miss Margaret Aubin, Auditor. Other members of the Board of Directors are: Miss Hazel Beckwith, Mrs. J. William Blaisdell, Miss Agnes Bogstad, Miss Eugene Bradshaw, Mrs. C. V. Chase, Mrs. Louis D. Gibbs, Mrs. Franklin P. Lowry, Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Miss Martha O'Brien, Miss Mabel Riley, Mrs. Royal Warring, Miss Doris Badger as General Secretary.

We expect to receive definite instructions and allotment from National Headquarters within the next few days. The need is great and clothing for men, women and children of all kinds will be acceptable and appreciated.

No request for funds for Near East Relief will be made prior to the Red Cross Roll Call which comes from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving. All relief work in the Near East will be under the direction of the American Red Cross co-operating very closely with the Near East Relief and any Newton citizen who desires to contribute funds to this work may send his check to Mr. John W. Estabrook, Treasurer, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, and it will be forwarded promptly to Headquarters. All contributions for this purpose should be specifically stated "For Near East Relief Work."

Red Cross National Headquarters have already expended over $750,000 for food supplies and are constantly making shipments. Food is the first need and then comes clothing. These people must be clothed during the coming winter, and it is up to the Red Cross to do its share.

All the directors were re-elected to serve during the coming year. At the Director's Meeting the following were elected:

George M. Angier, chairman; Mrs. Albert P. Carter, vice-chairman; John W. Estabrook, treasurer; Mrs. Marcus Morton, secretary.

Vote "NO"

November 7th on Censorship Referendum 3
BECAUSE

Censorship is un-American. It strikes at your personal freedom.

It lets a political dictator do your thinking.

It adds to your tax bill and increases the cost of your amusement.

It is unnecessary. The present law provides adequate supervision.

Even Senator Chamberlain, father of the Censorship Bill, now says its wisdom is doubtful.

It is a step which threatens next to muzzle literature and press.

It invites an abuse of power.

It is desired only by a small minority.

It's another "Thou shalt not" of the intolerant few to restrict the rights of many.

Do you want ONE MAN, POLITICALLY APPOINTED, to decide FOR YOU what pictures you can see?

Committee of Massachusetts Citizens Against Censorship

John W. Weeks, Secretary of War, declares himself emphatically in opposition to the proposed law for censorship of motion pictures. He says in part:

"The whole enterprise, which is now one of the largest in the United States, has become so important that they have called to its head former Postmaster-General Will H. Hays, who has been given a guiding hand in this industry. If he finds, or it is found, that it is impossible to adjust displays so as to give no offence I believe that there should be a National rather than a State censorship. The industry is too important to have it hampered by forty-eight censorships. I therefore hope that the present management will be given a fair opportunity to demonstrate their ability to serve the public safely, and that Massachusetts will not at this time, at least, adopt Referendum No. 3."

Mr. E. Wildman has returned from a week's visit to Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans of Oak street are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter.

The firemen were called out on a still alarm Monday afternoon for a brush fire on Chandler place.

A "YES" vote next Tuesday endorses the well-considered action of the Legislature and the Governor.

Services were held at the Stone Institute last Sunday by the Rev. G. L. Barker of the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre.

The many friends of Miss Lyndel Weidner gave a very pleasant surprise party to her at her home on Linden street, last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. Wildman was called away from a vacation spent in Westminster, to attend the funeral of her uncle, Mr. George E. Foskett, in Reed's Ferry, N. H.

The Union Evangelistic meetings which have been held at the Methodist Church for the past two weeks, will terminate at the service held Sunday, Nov. 5.

A very pleasing entertainment was given to the residents of the Stone Institute last Thursday by Miss Mabel Riley and Miss Margaret Cobb. Miss Haskel sang and Miss Bennett played the piano. Delightful refreshments were served.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Halloween party given by Miss Mabel Baxter, to her numerous friends at her home, 117 Boyd street, Tuesday evening, October 31st, was one of the most enjoyable occasions.

Promptly at eight o'clock the fun began with "Hans Orchestra" in the lead. Miss Marjorie Warner of Quincy, piano; Mr. Wendall Hain, violin; Mr. Adam Hain, ukulele, and Mr. Joseph Owens, soloist.

The rooms were decorated tastefully and after one hour of whist, the prizes were awarded to Miss Hilda Macintosh and Mr. Joseph Owens.

Then a season of music and dancing followed by Halloween games and a bountiful repast, until the "Witching Hour."

The alarm from box 28 on Tuesday evening, was for a fire in the barn residence of Mr. C. W. Tylee on California street, on Tuesday, November 7th. We would ask the people of Newtonville and West Newton, to kindly help us consideration in the placing of their local business. We will try hard to make our store a pleasant place for you to visit and do business.

The Rummage Sale held last week under the auspices of the Woman's Association of Central Church was a great success. The society netted $550. The unsold articles were sent to Barnard School, West Newton, Newton Welfare Bureau, Morgan Memorial, Red Cross Work in Smyrna, Pleasant Hill School in the South, and a private Newton charity. Great credit is due to Miss Louise Sherman and to Mrs. Austin H. Decatur.

The automobile of Mr. Donald D. McKay of Newton Highlands was stolen while standing in front of the residence of Mr. C. W. Tylee on California street, Tuesday evening, and it was found by officer Hannon abandoned near the Charles river. Officer Hannon also found the car of Mr. Wm. E. Hanna of Fair Oaks avenue, reported stolen the same night. It had been pushed between two houses only a short distance from Mr. Hanna's home.

DEATH OF MISS BARKER

Miss Jessie Hosmer Barker, daughter of the late Jonathan Hosmer Barker and Antoinette Barker, died suddenly on Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lewis E. Coffin on Bellevue street, Newton, at the age of 62 years.

Miss Barker had lived in Newton about 40 years. Surviving her besides the sister with whom she made her home, there is a sister, Miss Emma F. Barker, also of Bellevue street and another sister, Mrs. Henry P. Cooke of Framingham, and two brothers, Mr. Frank T. Barker of Weymouth, and Mr. William A. Barker of Fairfield, Conn.

Miss Barker was a member of Channing Church, Newton, and the Rev. Chester A. Drummond of that church officiated at the services held at her late residence today. The burial was in the family lot at Cincinnati, Ohio.

FOOTBALL

Newton, yet to win a Suburban League game, starts its invasion of Cambridge tomorrow when it faces the strong Rindge Tech team at Russell Field. Rindge has captured the championship of the University Latin eleven and the Brown and White is sizing up to better advantage as the days roll by.

Newton will have plenty of trouble trying to score on Rindge. The Rindge line is big and strong and should prove a stumbling block to the none too good Newton backfield.

If the Newton backs continue to juggle the ball as they have in the last three contests Rindge will land on top. Rindge carries a far greater punch than Everett, Somerville, or Medford, and the Tech boys are in great shape for the Newton battle.

Newton continues to play its customary 1922 game, the linemen performing like collegians while the backfield stumbles long in grammar school fashion.

Newton played rings around Medford last week but the many fumbles of Quarterback O'Donnell kept the Orange and Black from winning. It is hard to see how Newton can hope for any gridiron title this season.

Any team that is unable to register a single point in its first three League games can hardly be considered a championship outfit. We believe Newton to be every bit as strong as the other seven Suburban teams but to date the Orange and Black scoring power has been nil.

Tomorrow's game with Rindge will either make or break the Suburban League season for Newton. If the Orange and Black score a win over the Tech eleven the outlook of the League race will be somewhat changed. But should Newton be defeated by Rindge there will be small hope for the Garden City outfit finishing very close to the top. We believe Newton can win the Rindge contest and we believe the team is going to do so.

Malden tops the Suburban League at this writing and Coach Jack McDonald's team seems to carry sufficient power to make it a favorite for the 1922 championship. Malden is not the defensive team that Newton is, but the Yellow and Blue boasts of a backfield that has had little trouble scoring up its opponents. Haverhill alone has been able to keep Malden from crossing the goal line.

Malden comes to Newton two weeks from tomorrow in what should prove to be the big game of the Suburban year. Malden has not forgotten how Newton deprived them of a title last year and Malden intends to give Newton a very proper whaling this fall. It is more than likely that Malden will come to Clafin Field undefeated. So much the better. Right now, in spite of Newton's apparently uncertain team, we are willing to predict that Coach Dickinson's men will again put the skids under Malden. And if the truth was known you'd find that more than one Malden rooster is worried to death over the possibility of just such a calamity.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt

"Read, study, and translate," was the admonition of a faithful old German teacher as she was wont to give out her lesson for the next time. The Club Editor repeats this admonition to the club women of Newton, and to all the other women who are so unfortunate as not to be club women, relative to the five referenda on the ballot next Tuesday. Read them, study them, and then "translate" by going to the polls and voting. It is a pity that so many women have cut themselves off from this opportunity by neglecting to register. Next year it will be different, for the Civics department of the State Federation is to make the registration of women one of its chief activities this coming year. If we are to have an intelligent vote, then the intelligent, thinking women must do their part, and not leave this duty to those women who having had a few advantages are easily led by unscrupulous persons. For those who are registered whatever else you do on Tuesday next week, go to the polls and express your own opinion upon these important matters then to be decided.

State Federation

With a restriction upon the number of Federation conferences this year next week will be a quiet one so far as conferences are concerned. The officers of the Federation will be on duty at headquarters, 555 Boylston street, Boston, Room 42A, each morning from 10 to 12.30, as last month, Mrs. Poole being there on Mondays. The chairman of the committee on Headquarters announced that all club women are welcomed to the new home, that it is not necessary to have a special business, but just come in and see it, and get acquainted.

Thursday, November 23, is the date of the Fall meeting of the Federation, and the Dudley Street Baptist Church, Roxbury, the place. Secure luncheon tickets at 75 cents each, from Mrs. Herbert V. Mitchell, 26 Park View street, Boston 21, Mass., not later than November 20.

Newton Federation

Tuesday, November 7, 2.30 P. M. Fall meeting at Auburndale by invitation of the Auburndale Woman's Club in the Congregational Church, corner Hancock street and Woodland road. There will be a symposium on "Education as a means of solving present-day problems." The speakers include, Dr. Payson Smith, State Commissioner of Education; Mr. Francis L. Bacon, the new principal of the Newton Classical High School, and Miss Margaret McGill, of the History department of that same school, who will speak of "Deans for high schools." There will be a social hour over the teas after the meeting. With speakers of such eminence it cannot but be a profitable meeting. The fact that the Auburndale Woman's Club is acting as hostess should draw also place an added responsibility upon the club women from other parts of the city to attend for when one gives a party, the hostess likes to have her guests come.

Local Announcements

The Newton Mothers' Club will meet on Monday, November 2, at the home of Mrs. R. E. Hatch, 38 Prince street, West Newton. Mrs. Lucinda T. Prince will speak on "A New Vocation for our College Girls."

The Waban Woman's Club will hold the first regular meeting of the 1922-23 season next Monday afternoon, November 6th, at the Neighborhood Club House.

1923 season next Monday afternoon, November 6th, at the Neighborhood Club House. Captain Andre Morize will lecture on "The Life of a French Family." The musical part of the program will be furnished by Mrs. Sidney A. Clark, violinist, Miss Jeanette Fraser, cellist, and Mrs. W. B. Sterenson, pianist. An informal reception will follow and tea will be served.

Monday evening, November 6, Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning presents before the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club a Travelogue in costume, "India—The Calling East," giving a wide range of delightful information and unique experiences in that far away land.

"The Romance of Sicily" is the subject to be presented by Dr. Vincent Ravi-Booth at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands in the Congregational Church on Tuesday, November 7, at 2.30 P. M. Members of the Art committee will serve as hostess at a series of teas to which all members are invited. These will be given at the Barn Studio on the second Tuesday of each month, the first being on November 14. The second Art Museum Class has been arranged for November 16—Subject: Needlework. Take Boston and Worcester trolley at Hartford street, at 10.05 A. M.

A large attendance of the Newtonville Women's Club is assured for next Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Edith Margaret Smail, of the faculty of Wellesley College, an accomplished reader with an international reputation, will read "A Bill of Divorcement." This English play written by Clemence Dane, a rising woman playwright who has already earned a name as a novelist, came to the Times Square Theatre in New York last October from London where it had won great applause.

It is based upon amendments to certain divorce laws recently proposed by the Royal Commission of Divorce and is of the Edward Bellamy "Looking Backward" type story, as the action takes place on Christmas Day 1932.

For the benefit of the Newtonville Branch Library, delicious home made cakes, cookies and other goodies will be on sale at this meeting.

The annual reception of the Newton Social Science Club takes the place this year of one of the regular meetings and will be held at the home of Miss Georgia H. Emery, 70 Waverly avenue, Wednesday, November 8, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The next meeting of the Newton Community Club takes the form of a "Guest Night" on Thursday evening, November 9th, at 8 o'clock, in Channing Church. The speaker of the evening is J. Edgar Park, of West Newton, who is also known under the pen name of "Bromide Smith," will talk on his "Recent Experiences in England, Ireland and Germany." The Club is very fortunate in having this opportunity of learning of conditions over there told in Mr. Park's inimitable way. Clara Sexton Crowley, Soprano, will sing, and following the program a reception will be held in the Church Parlors for the club members and their guests. Guest tickets may be procured from Miss Emma E. Walker the treasurer.

The committee on Classes Miss Helen E. Hull, chairman, offers a class on Parliamentary Law again this year. Names of those wishing to take advantage of the class should be sent to her at once. The literature committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry H. Powers, has plans made for five "Round Table Talks." The first one on November 6th, will take up John Galsworthy's Play, "Royalities," for discussion.

The group activities Committee, Miss Georgia M. Emery, chairman, has arranged for a trip to Concord by automobile for all club members who are interested. Names should be given to Miss Edith Jamieson before Monday, November 13th. The party starts from the library at 10 P. M. Wednesday, November 15th, providing the day is fair, otherwise the trip will be given up.

The Education Committee of the West Newton Women's Educational Club has planned a most interesting afternoon for November 10, at 2.30 P. M. Rev. Dudley Hays Farrell, of Lynn, will take as his subject "The Layman's Appreciation of the Short Story." Mrs. William Jones, of Newtonville, will sing.

Local Happenings

Hunnewell Club hall was crowded to overflowing last week Thursday for the opening of the season of the Newton Community Club. At the business meeting it was voted to send $25 to the Near East Relief. A note of thanks was given Mr. Frederick A. Wetherbee, who for the past three years has been the director of the club chorus. Also this resolution proposed by the Civics and Social Service Committee, Mrs. Dale Brown, chairman, was passed and a copy voted to be sent to each member of the Board of Aldermen of Newton. "Resolved: that it is the desire of the Community Club of Newton with a membership of more than 600, largely drawn from wards one and seven, that no zoning ordinance shall be adopted by the Board of Aldermen, which does not provide for a single family residential zone."

Two piano selections beautifully rendered by Miss Edith Temple brought a hearty response from the audience. The notes from the Federation meetings were full of interest, Mrs. E. H. Keach telling of the annual meeting of the State Federation at New Bedford in May, while Miss Emma E. Walker brought home from Chautauqua a spirit of enthusiasm and a true insight into the work of the General Federation that must have aroused a desire in her hearers to go next time.

Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis presented the business side of the Biennial "Suppressing Desires," a short play in two acts, was presented by Mrs. Henry I. Harrison, Mrs. Edward M. Moore, and Mrs. Charles S. Ensign, Jr. The play is full of subtle humor and delightful absurdities and was admirably given, and greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Following the play the company adjourned to the dining room for a social hour. Mrs. R. Porter Boyer was in charge of the tea, assisted by the usual large committee of members. Mrs. J. W. Gerrity, Mrs. Harry Fitts, Mrs. C. B. Gleason and Mrs. L. D. Towle presided over the tea table.

A well attended whist party was held under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls at the home of Mrs. Charles Johnnott last week Thursday afternoon. Punch, sandwiches, and home-made candy was served by the hostess.

President's Day at the West Newton Women's Educational Club, October 27th, was a delight to all present.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole, brought greetings from the State Federation and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry spoke in behalf of our Newton Federation. Professor David D. Vaughan, of Boston University gave an intensely interesting talk in the "World Sweep of Democracy." Miss Katherine Perkins played beautifully on the harp, the club was honored with the presence of many Presidents of other women's clubs.

The Newton Social Science Club opened its season on Wednesday morning, with a business meeting, at which $25 was voted for the Near East Relief. Mrs. I. J. Newton Peirce gave an account of the Chautauqua Biennial, and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, the new president of the Newton Federation, spoke of the aims and purposes of that organization. The club has decided to return to the Hunnewell Club for its meetings for the present season.

On Thursday morning, the Newton Centre Women's Club was given a demonstration of Unusual Desserts by Miss Agnes White, who is a graduate of the University of Illinois and of advanced science at Columbia.

At the regular Auburndale Review Club meeting on Tuesday, October 31, the members learned of two great captains of industry first, Andrew Carnegie, of whom we were told by Mrs. William H. Blood, quoting largely from his Autobiography, and second, Charles M. Schwab, and to Mrs. Ernest F. Drew's initiative in getting into personal communication with an intimate friend of his we owe a vivid picture of his charming personality. Mrs. Leland delighted the members with piano selections from Grieg and Nevin. At the end as there was ample time Mrs. Turner read a Spanish version of the story of Rip Van Winkle which she herself had translated.

The reception of the Newtonville Women's Club on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Austin H. Decatur was largely attended and was a most successful and enjoyable affair.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Decatur, Mrs. Edwin L. Gardiner, the new president of the club and the guests of honor, Mrs. Grace M. Poole, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, president of the Newton Federation. The ushers, under the direction of Mrs. Pitt Drew, chairman, were Mrs. Liverus H. Howe, and Mrs. James D. Bennett with members from the Hospitality Committee as aids.

Under supervision of the Social committee, of which Mrs. Robert P. Trask is acting chairman at present for Mrs. Ralph Conant, tea was served in the dining room throughout the afternoon. Presiding at the Mortgage's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Leo Marangi and Franco Marangi to D. Wilbur Eagles, dated September 15, 1920 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, book 4355, page 356, and duly assigned by said Eagles to the Newton Trust Company by assignment dated January 21, 1922 and recorded as aforesaid, book 4489, page 359, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of enforcing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises in Newton, Massachusetts, on MONDAY the TWENTY-THIRD day of NOVEMBER, 1922, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage with all improvements thereon, described in said mortgage as follows:

The land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre and being lots numbered (8) and (9) on a Plan of Land in Newton, Walnut Hill, P. S. Smith, Surveyor, dated September 1, 1906 and being recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book of Plans 162, Plan 35, and bounded and described as follows:

NORTHERLY by Boylston Street fifty (50) feet; EASTERLY by lot numbered (7) on said plan one hundred and twelve (112) feet; SOUTHERLY by the Massachusetts Turnpike (60) feet; WESTERLY by lot numbered (10) on said plan by a line through the center of a brick partition wall, between said (8) and (9) one hundred and twelve (112) feet. Containing 5600 square feet of land according to said plan. The buildings on said lots are numbered 774 and 674 Boylston Street. Together with all rights of way in said passageway in common with other owners set forth in deed from A. Alexander et al to Alfred A. Sherman, dated September 12, 1906 and recorded with said deeds, book 4354, page 472. Reference to said deed above is hereby made for a more particular description of said way.

Said premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and assessments, if any, and to the effect of outstanding tax deeds or titles, if any there be.

THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($300) in cash will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms at the sale.

THE ALL-ENGLAND BADMINTON CHAMPIONSHIPS AT THE ROYAL HORTICULTURAL HALL, WESTMINSTER
These courts have been duplicated at the Newton Badminton Club, Newton Centre, Mass.

BADMINTON

A New Lively Game for Men and Women

No indoor game in America restores health and the athletic ability of the individual so readily as Badminton. This is especially true in the case of men and women past forty, who for various reasons, business and domestic, have either for the lack of opportunity or indifference lost ground physically long before there should be any slackening of the enjoyment which comes from regular indulgence in health-sustaining activities.

Badminton is similar to tennis and is played on a court 44 feet long and 17 feet wide, for the singles game, and 20 feet wide, for the doubles game. Racquets and shuttlecocks are used; the latter being volleyed across a net 5 feet high suspended across the middle of the court. The service is underhand and may be varied with a wide range of attack for deception. It may take the form of easy placement to an unexpected corner of the court, or it may be driven with great speed or lobbed high above the head. Its tendency is always to keep one on the alert. It is interesting to note how quickly this quality develops along with agility, endurance and prime condition.

IMPRESSIONS OF EUROPE

Mr. Earle E. Conway of Waban, who with his wife and family spent several months in Europe this summer writes as follows:

One of the first questions that people ask me about European conditions is whether another war is expected. The French are, of course, extremely bitter against the Germans and the Germans are just as bitter against the French. England of course is practically always at war, policing, as she does, 600,000,000 people, and they are now widening all their roads to the coast because they had trouble during the last war in getting their lorries through to the seaboard. The impression is more or less prevalent that the Krupps are going to start ammunition works in Russia, and while in my judgment another war seems impossible for years to come, there are many in Europe who do not hold my opinion, but believe there will be another war within 15 years.

The reconstruction work is about four-fifths completed in Ypres, Belgium, although they have no water-works as yet and only three streets with street lights on them. The peasants of Northern France have done wonderfully well in reclaiming the devastated area, and they estimate that there will not be over 10,000 acres which they cannot reclaim. Verdun, Laons, Rheims, and other cities which were under fire during most of the war have not been reconstructed to any large extent.

I found that in the countries the effect of depreciated currency was not very marked, because several towns issue so-called "Chamber of Commerce" money, which is of course backed by the credit of the merchants. The Krupps issue their own money. A great deal of the export business of Germany and France is done in foreign currencies. The exporting of money from both Germany and France is prohibited, so the merchants and manufacturers ship their merchandise out of those countries and ask the buyer to deposit in London or elsewhere, where they think their money is safe from depreciation, which illustrates one means by which cheap money drives out good.

Every Englishman that I talked with said they would pay their debt to this country if we insisted on it, but they feel that the money was not used by themselves to any large extent, but loaned to their allies, which loans they will be unable to collect, and they feel that in the spirit of fair play we should cancel their debt to us as they cancel to their allies.

The taxes are certainly extremely burdensome in England, much heavier than anything we face in this country. The registration of an automobile costs a pound per horse-power a year, or roughly one hundred dollars on a Ford car. The interest on the debt owed to this country is 5 per cent of an Englishman's income.

I was very much struck with the English people as a governing race. They unquestionably have much more personal liberty than we have. For instance, I asked an Englishman about their automobile laws, and he said that they used to have ten and twenty mile speed limits, but they have got rid of all that, the only law now covering automobile traffic being "reckless driving." He stated that they did not like giving a policeman discretion of that kind, but it was the only thing that they could see to do.

Compare that with our own automobile laws, which say that a man is guilty until he proves himself innocent if he drives an automobile at a higher rate of speed than six miles an hour at corners and twelve miles an hour between corners in the City of Boston. Take the new Prohibition Enforcement Act in this state which authorizes the search of vehicles without warrant. A person may be deprived of his home for one year by injunction issued without trial by a jury. On application of two persons, who may even be paid government informers, a warrant may be issued for the search of any home in Massachusetts.

The game is peculiarly well balanced as there is as much moving forward as backward, and one must be always ready to move in any direction. The strokes are as frequently made from below the level of the net as overhead. It is evident that from this variation of movement the game provides all the necessary activity for restoring the usefulness of practically all the muscles of mobility which in turn reinvigorates and nourishes the muscular and nervous systems. There is a gently increased blood circulation and deeper breathing.

In the United States, there is a constantly increasing tendency among people of middle life toward hardening of the arteries. This may be largely due to the habit of eating foods containing too high a percentage of protein and a lack of sufficient daily physical exercise for regularly displacing the waste products of the diet and for evenly distributing the acquired energy throughout the body. Another chronic tendency is toward obesity and overweight affecting men and women alike and having its foundation in an overindulgence in a wrongly selected diet and inadequate bodily exercise.

Badminton will adjust faulty conditions of the body, increase the amount of physical activity that one can ordinarily endure, established whole-sets. While as far as I know, liquor never did any good and has done a great deal of harm, that is no reason for tyrannous destruction of fundamental individual rights.

The English have very few laws. Their judges base their decisions on common sense, and they are instructed on being placed on the bench that if common sense violates an Act of Parliament, to violate it, and there were three decisions in England while I was there that were contrary to an Act of Parliament. I think that fundamental principle is right—that a law is fixed, and that conditions of human affairs are changeable. Driving an automobile ten miles an hour on a holiday might be as fast as it is safe to drive, while the following day twenty-five miles an hour might be safe.

I also inquired if smoking were permitted in a compartment occupied entirely by my own family, so it was not a question of politeness, and the reply was, of course, an "underground" such as our subway. Their automobile busses make trips as far as fifty miles from London at very reasonable fares.

English railroads are novel to us, because their goods cars are very small, with capacity of six, eight, ten and twenty tons, but they seem to be very well adapted to English requirements. That is, they can run them in their factories without double handling. They have no long distances such as we have and therefore there is no need of a large car.

London has very few trolleys in the center of the city, as their traffic is all handled by automobile busses, which seems to be a very satisfactory solution of large metropolitan traffic. They have, of course, an "underground" such as our subway. Their automobile busses make trips as far as fifty miles from London at very reasonable fares.

The people of different countries are always interesting. The first couple we saw walking along the road in Scotland was noticed by the man who was carrying the woman's purse, and she was carrying his umbrella. The barber in Edinburgh tried to sell me everything in the shop, but I assured him that as he was bald-headed he could not expect to sell me any hair tonic. At a hotel I was obliged to pay for a night more than we stayed because they could sell the hotel room for one night more than my sojourn. There is not the slightest question about the caniness of the Scotch in my mind.

In the smoke-rooms of England, the conversation invariably turned to sports and world affairs. The French people are not very efficient as manufacturers, and are in marked contrast to both the Germans and English in this respect. We saw a line of Frenchmen passing bricks from hand to hand unloading a wagon, on the order of our old fire-bracket brigade, and if you buy ten litres of gasoline, in all probability it will be carried to you by five men. We saw them moving a couple of railroad cars at Calais, and I estimated there were about sixty men pushing on the two cars. Of course in this country those two cars would be moved by a couple of men with a push bar.

Our chauffeur inquired the road from time to time, and it was nothing extraordinary to have ten to twenty people all talking at once trying to give us our direction. If it got too confusing, we were obliged to move on and try another citizen for information.

It was quite remarkable to me, in going from Belgium to France, to find such entirely different characteristics in the people in as short a distance as two or three miles. The Belgians are a hard-working race, not much given to politics or talk. The French peasants are very hard working and frugal, but the whole nation is given to talk and politics.

NEWTON POST, A. L.
At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newton Post, American Legion, the following were made members of the nominating committee: C. Sinclair Weeks, chairman; Rev. Fr. William J. Farrell, chaplain of the post, Heywood S. French, Edward Edmunds, Francis Gaw, Joseph Cavanaugh and Harold Ames. The committee will make its report at the November meeting. The election comes in December.

THE NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE is having the fullest co-operation of the New England Insurance Exchange in its efforts to bring about a reduction of fire insurance rates in Newton. It is the conviction of not only the insurance committee of the Chamber but of many local insurance men and others familiar with Newton's low fire loss, the efficiency of its fire department, and other local conditions, that Newton is well prepared for advancement to the small group of Massachusetts cities, including Springfield, Holyoke, Worcester, and Brockton, that now enjoy the lowest rates prevailing in Massachusetts cities.

Upon the request of the insurance committee of the Chamber, comprising Clinton H. Scovell, chairman; Herbert M. Cole, Charles W. Colby, Sam T. Emery, and Arthur W. Hollis, Mayor Edwin O. Childs recently made formal application to the New England Insurance Exchange for a re-inspection in Newton, for the purpose of determining just what rate reductions Newton was entitled to at the present time, and just what the municipal authorities, the Chamber of Commerce, or Newton citizens generally must do to promote Newton to the higher classification which would automatically bring upon all insurable property in the city. The promised re-inspection is to take place about November 1, when the efficiency of the fire department, water system, and all other things having to do with fire protection, will be carefully tested by inspectors from the Exchange.

While it is hoped that this will give an immediate small reduction in rates on dwelling house property, the chief objective of the Chamber committee is to ascertain just how near Newton may be to achieving the higher classification and to determine ways to overcome those existing deficiencies, if any, which now prevent Newton from enjoying that advantage.

The last previous inspection in Newton credited Newton with 164 of the necessary 170 points which would entitle it to the higher classification occupied exclusively in this state by the above named cities. It is generally believed by those most conversant with conditions that Newton can be promoted to the higher class through reasonable co-operation on the part of all who are interested and that the report of the coming inspection will indicate just those few things that must be done to achieve that objective.

Officials of the New England Insurance Exchange are keenly interested in the plan and are as desirous as Newton itself to have the city attain a higher rank as a fire risk among the cities of the state. The Chamber insurance committee is also interested in the plan and is endeavoring to assist itself in matters of fire prevention and other activities which may tend to promote protective measures and reduce the city's fire loss to the lowest possible minimum. The economic phases of the question, regarding the loss to the city of taxable property and the loss to property owners, are being considered as well as the opportunities to save dollars and cents for the citizen through a possible reduction in rates.

SOME EXCELLENT REASONS
Rev. Frederick B. Allen of Boston, president of the New England Fire and Ward Society, has written to General Charles H. Cole, chairman of the Citizens' Committee Against Censorship, declining the latter's request that he serve on that committee.
Mr. Allen's letter follows:
Dear General Cole—Your request is received that I serve as a member of the Citizens' Committee Against Censorship.
I understand that you designate by censorship the bill to protect the public from films which are "obscene, indecent, immoral, inhuman or tending to debase and corrupt morals or incite crime."
The movers of this bill never used the word censorship, but if you call such a law censorship I must say that I am with you. I am in favor of such censorship. It is in line with State legislation generally approved. I believe in censorship of smut and diphtheria, of rotten food and adulterated eatables, of habit-forming drugs and counterfeiting.
You and your committee, I assume, are in favor of all such legislation. I do not wish to believe that you disapprove of anything which will injure the body or pocketbook, but of nothing which injures the character or morals.
I believe in a State Board of Health. On precisely the same grounds I want the State to fight not only what imperils physical health, but that which corrupts the innocence of childhood, the honor of woman and the decency of social life.
For this reason I must decline to be a member of your Citizens' Committee Against Censorship.
Very truly yours,
—Frederick B. Allen.

A NATIONAL MOVEMENT FOR CO-OPERATION
The Farm and Garden Association represents a nation-wide movement to further co-operation between the people of the country and of the city. This is effected by the Association's guarantee to sell at current prices all farm produce of high grade. The two-fold value of this plan is evident as offering an opportunity to city people to buy poultry, vegetables, home-made pies, cakes, doughnuts or jellies, besides rag rugs, baskets and other handwork, as well as encouraging country people to produce high-grade material for a guaranteed market.
A new Farm and Garden Shop was opened Friday, Oct. 27, at 657 Boylston street, Boston, to which all were cordially invited. This shop will offer unusual opportunities to housewives to do their marketing conveniently near the carline, and at the same time to feel sure that they are getting unusual goods of guaranteed quality.
Co-operation by city and suburban dwellers will do much to continue the great success of this valuable movement which should forge a strong link between the country and the town.

THE NURSERY SCHOOL
An advance step in education is the Nursery School to be established at the West Newton Neighborhood House, 89 Elm street. A school to care for a child no longer a baby and yet too young for kindergarten—"the neglected age." This seems an invaluable time in their lives in establishing the necessary habits of cleanliness, punctuality, obedience and helpfulness.

The school hours are from 9-12 and the program for the morning begins with a health demonstration, with a district nurse in charge, to guard against infection and to teach a little personal hygiene. Then occupational work of a simple nature when at ten o'clock milk and crackers are served. After this there is the supervised play of games and rhythmic exercises in the circle, then free play out of doors. In these hours each little child is carefully guided and watched and yet allowed every opportunity for individual happiness and growth.

Rather than playing on a dangerous street or hindering an already tired mother in her household work, the child is well cared for and when he returns at noon, the mother's work is well out of the way and she is ready and happy to care for him.

In the United States this movement began in Boston but there is now a Nursery School in New York and one in Detroit. Psychologists, educators and public health workers are welcoming such places as full of possibilities for better child-life and better citizenship. Dr. Charles W. Eliot has endorsed this most heartily and expressed his gratification that such a beginning has been made.

It is interesting and satisfying to know that the West Newton Neighborhood House is a pioneer in this work.

HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM
The Newton High Schools have a well-earned reputation of being one of the finest high schools in New England.

The finest teachers are procured to teach the students, and the buildings are modern, cheerful and the pride of Newtonians.

But imagine the surprise of a person who moved to Newton from Chicago that her daughter and son might enjoy and profit by this fine school, to find that it lacked a suitable gymnasium for the use of the students!

As a high school we should have facilities for physical culture as well as mental.

The present structure is anything but modern and it is too small and low studded for the best results in physical culture. Not even a drinking fountain or toilet in the building!

It is deplorable that a fine school and a city with such fine citizens should have this building as a civic eye-sore.

We cannot keep our reputation with such a detriment as this, and it is a shame to lose our well-earned reputation for such a poor excuse for a gymnasium.

What say we Newtonians?

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!!! and REMEMBER!!!!
Stop to consider that small interested minorities have placed five questions on the ballot of Nov. 7th. Look for these five questions.

Listen to the voice of reason, and vote Yes on all five to show that you support your Legislature and Governor. They have made a study of these questions, and have passed them at the request of the majority of their constituents.

Remember that two years ago 150,000 voters went to the polls who did not vote on the question of 2.75% beer. Result we have a law on our statute books carried by a majority of less than 10,000 votes.

A failure to vote has the effect of voting against your Legislature and Governor.

THE NURSERY SCHOOL

An advance step in education is the Nursery School to be established at the West Newton Neighborhood House, 89 Elm street. A school to care for a child no longer a baby and yet too young for kindergarten—"the neglected age." This seems an invaluable time in their lives in establishing the necessary habits of cleanliness, punctuality, obedience and helpfulness.

The school hours are from 9-12 and the program for the morning begins with a health demonstration, with a district nurse in charge, to guard against infection and to teach a little personal hygiene. Then occupational work of a simple nature when at ten o'clock milk and crackers are served. After this there is the supervised play of games and rhythmic exercises in the circle, then free play out of doors. In these hours each little child is carefully guided and watched and yet allowed every opportunity for individual happiness and growth.

Rather than playing on a dangerous street or hindering an already tired mother in her household work, the child is well cared for and when he returns at noon, the mother's work is well out of the way and she is ready and happy to care for him.

In the United States this movement began in Boston but there is now a Nursery School in New York and one in Detroit. Psychologists, educators and public health workers are welcoming such places as full of possibilities for better child-life and better citizenship. Dr. Charles W. Eliot has endorsed this most heartily and expressed his gratification that such a beginning has been made.

It is interesting and satisfying to know that the West Newton Neighborhood House is a pioneer in this work.

HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM
The Newton High Schools have a well-earned reputation of being one of the finest high schools in New England.

The finest teachers are procured to teach the students, and the buildings are modern, cheerful and the pride of Newtonians.

But imagine the surprise of a person who moved to Newton from Chicago that her daughter and son might enjoy and profit by this fine school, to find that it lacked a suitable gymnasium for the use of the students!

As a high school we should have facilities for physical culture as well as mental.

The present structure is anything but modern and it is too small and low studded for the best results in physical culture. Not even a drinking fountain or toilet in the building!

It is deplorable that a fine school and a city with such fine citizens should have this building as a civic eye-sore.

We cannot keep our reputation with such a detriment as this, and it is a shame to lose our well-earned reputation for such a poor excuse for a gymnasium.

What say we Newtonians?

NEWTON POST, A. L.
At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newton Post, American Legion, the following were made members of the nominating committee: C. Sinclair Weeks, chairman; Rev. Fr. William J. Farrell, chaplain of the post, Heywood S. French, Edward Edmunds, Francis Gaw, Joseph Cavanaugh and Harold Ames. The committee will make its report at the November meeting. The election comes in December.

A NATIONAL MOVEMENT FOR CO-OPERATION
The Farm and Garden Association represents a nation-wide movement to further co-operation between the people of the country and of the city. This is effected by the Association's guarantee to sell at current prices all farm produce of high grade. The two-fold value of this plan is evident as offering an opportunity to city people to buy poultry, vegetables, home-made pies, cakes, doughnuts or jellies, besides rag rugs, baskets and other handwork, as well as encouraging country people to produce high-grade material for a guaranteed market.
A new Farm and Garden Shop was opened Friday, Oct. 27, at 657 Boylston street, Boston, to which all were cordially invited. This

A BIT OF HISTORY

Long years ago, a bog extended across what was afterwards called Walnut street, near Watertown street, up to a point about where the new Junior High School Building stands. One very dry summer, a fire started in what was then the Page property, set the bog on that side afire, and it slowly burned under the road bed, causing the road to sink.

Probably about this time, a twelve-inch drain-pipe was laid from this low point to the middle of the field, at the rear of 346 Crafts street. From thence, an open drain conveyed the surface water to Cheese-Cake Brook.

Occasionally, during a down-pour of rain, the water would overflow the sidewalk at the lowest point in Walnut street and flood the bog on both sides. The numerous catch-basins put in by the Street Department have corrected this, while I understand the tile drain was enlarged from twelve inches to fifteen inches. But as the open drain has become filled up, the water, without a proper channel, is discharged over the golf field, and never reaches Cheese-Cake Brook, which in the meantime has been lowered twelve feet.

I understand that it is proposed now to put in a tile drain thirty inches in diameter. For forty years, or more, the old drain sufficed, and I claim that an open drain connection with Cheese-Cake Brook should be established before money is expended at the other end.

I invite the taxpayers to examine the outlet of the covered drain, back of 346 Crafts street, and to judge for themselves if a cleared open drain from this outlet will not answer every purpose and save the city great expense. Perhaps there is some engineer interested in Newton's taxes, whose judgment would be valuable.

NARROW ESCAPE

Four persons had a narrow escape from serious injury in an automobile collision which took place on Sunday afternoon at the dangerous corner of Austin street and Lowell avenue, Newtonville.

One automobile was owned and operated by Roland Hill of the Cambridge Y. M. C. A., and Robert and Carl Timble, sons of William H. Timble, a school teacher of 295 Highland avenue, Newtonville, were the passengers. The Hill car was on Austin street, crossing Lowell avenue, when Mr. Hill caught sight of an automobile owned and operated by Abraham Ariniss, Pine street, Auburndale, which was crossing Austin street on Lowell avenue.

To avoid a collision Hill swerved his car to one side and the car tipped over. The Ariniss car crashed into the larger machine and both cars were smashed. It was necessary to lift one car to allow the passengers of the other car to be taken from the debris.

DEATH OF MR. TOWLE

Mr. Joseph M. Towle, a resident of this city for the past 25 years, died on Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank W. Putnam on Webster park, West Newton, following an illness of several months.

Mr. Towle was 84 years of age and had been for 40 years engaged in business in East Boston as a mason and builder. He is survived by his widow, who was formerly Louise T. Verge of Duxbury, and two daughters, Mrs. Putnam and Mrs. William G. Hambleton of West Newton.

Mr. Towle was a veteran of the Civil War and a member of Baalbec lodge of Masons of East Boston and he was also an Odd Fellow.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Tuesday. Rev. Fred W. Peakes of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church officiating, and Mr. Paul Smithson was the soloist. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

LIBRARY FOR BOSTON COLLEGE

Mayor Edwin O. Childs turned the first sod Tuesday afternoon for the new $500,000 library to be erected at Boston College, in the presence of the faculty and student body. The exercises, held on the plot opposite the faculty building, St. Mary's hall, were under direction of the Rev. William Devlin, S. J., president of the college, and the Rev. William E. Murphy, S. J., chairman.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

High School Notes

Lasell girls received a surprise when Newton High defeated them in field hockey, 3-2. The remarkable playing of Doris Jerauld, Katherine Collins and Marion Maxim was the outstanding feature of the game. The team has shown a great improvement over its work at Milton.

First call for members for the Glee Club of the Technical High School was issued on Monday, under the direction of Mr. Harrington and Miss Mason this club promises to be as great a success as in former years.

The Senior Class of the Classical High School held an important meeting after school on Wednesday. The treasurer stated that there was $140 in the treasury for 1923. Each member was assessed for $1.00 payable in two installments of 50 cents each. An entertainment committee consisting of Hortense Lane, Louise Lovejoy, Richard Bolster, Doane Arnold, Julius Kohler and Barbara Cooke was chosen which will arrange dances and other entertainments.

There are nearly eighty boys on the varsity and junior varsity squads, nevertheless Dr. Martin will have the usual inter-class football in November. So far the Freshmen are the only ones that show any enthusiasm, but the other classes will probably be out in the near future to uphold the honor of their class.

The Semi-Quarterly cards are out and have caused considerable interest in the student body. It is comedy for some and tragedy for others.

At the senior assembly of the Technical High School, some members of the class will give a scene from the Merchant of Venice.

On Thursday, November 2, the Technical High School Freshmen held an assembly to which the parents were invited. A reception was held in the library.

The Sophomores of the Technical High School are forming an English Club, and will hold a meeting for the purpose of electing officers. There will be games and a general good time.

Mason

The football team of the Mason met with success in the game with the Bigelow on Tuesday, with a score of 28 to 8.

The other league games were won by the Pierce and the Stearns.

Some thirty pupils from Room Six visited the Waltham Watch Factory on Tuesday afternoon, in connection with their study of manufactures.

Hallowe'en was observed in nearly all rooms of the Mason. Room decorations, parties, and stories were the order of the day.

A large party of sixth grade pupils, who have been studying "Hiawatha" recently visited the Peabody Museum at Cambridge to see the Indian collection.

An interesting booklet, "The Romance of Rubber," for use in classes which study South America.

Hyde School

The graduating class of 1923 has elected the following officers: President, Richard Truitt; Vice-President, Vincent Madden; Treasurer, Elizabeth Bicknell; Secretary, Marian Bonner. A selected committee has already chosen the class pin.

Miss Marguerite Greene's fourth grade is most enthusiastic and in high spirits over the fact that they have had no tardy marks so far this year. They also had perfect attendance for the last week.

Mrs. Fred G. Proctor, Jr., former teacher at this school, recently surprised several of the teachers by walking in upon them at lunch time.

While here, she had always eaten lunch with them, and her presence was greeted with much pleasure.

Since her marriage, Mrs. Proctor has been living in Portsmouth, N. H. Timothy Lane, of the graduating class, fell from the beam of a house under construction, where he was playing with other boys, on Friday of last week. Miraculously it seems he was not seriously injured and broke no bones. He is as yet unable to return to school.

Miss Greene's fourth grade has the honor of having the largest bank account in the Hyde School, having $121.31. Miss Tabors' sixth grade comes next with $30.35.

Horace Mann School

Grade 5th, in Miss Larabee's room had 100% attendance last week.

Stearns School

The teachers are still enthusiastic over the riding lessons. Some of them are getting quite proficient.

We also have a class in swimming which meets Monday nights at the Brookline swimming tank.

The Mother's Club held a Hallowe'en party at Stearns School Centre on Monday evening, October 30, at 8 o'clock. Hallowe'en games were enjoyed by the members who came dressed in costume. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Sullo and Mrs. MacLachlan for originality of costume. Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Twist and Mrs. Koch served coffee and sandwiches, and the entertainment committee distributed apples and popcorn after the games.

The Newton Girls' Club initiated eighteen new members at its meeting on Tuesday evening, October 31, at Stearns School Centre.

Miss Myrtle Weldon and Miss Lillian Swartz had charge of the stunts and each new member was admitted according to the judgment of the committee. Refreshments were served after the program.

A "stunt" night was enjoyed by the Junior Girls' Club at Stearns School Centre on Wednesday night. Twelve new girls were initiated by the old members, who led them three mysterious pranks. Informal dancing was participated in after the program and business meeting.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

These classes have the new large gold stars this week to mark the attainment of 100 in attendance last week: Miss Hunt's, Grade one; Miss Horgan's, Grade five; and Miss Sullivan's, Grade eight. Altogether there are five classes that have made this perfect attainment since the opening of the school in September.

A geography trip through the Newtons for the pupils of the fourth grades taught by Mrs. Leavitt and Miss Anderson was carried out on Wednesday of last week. Eight autos were secured through the courtesy of these south-side residents: Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. H. E. Locke, Mr. G. A. Valente, of Upper Falls; Mrs. Huntsman, Mr. Bicknell, and Mr. William Chase, of the Highlands; and Mrs. Willing of Waban.

Dr. Leon Vincent who is giving a series of lectures before the school will speak on Saturday morning, upon Emerson.

The Sophomores held their Class election on Wednesday afternoon, choosing the following officers: President, Katherine Lalley; Vice-President, Mary Saunders; Secretary, Katherine Langdon; Treasurer, Mary Elizabeth Parker; Cheer leader, Esther Harvey.

A large crowd witnessed the hockey game on Thursday between the faculty and the regular school team after a thrilling and spectacular contest the score stood in favor of the latter.

For the third time on Hallowe'en Mr. and Mrs. Borst entertained the pupils and faculty of the junior school at their home Little Free Farm in Framingham.

Supper was cooked in the open fireplace of the house and the stunts and hallowe'en games were played in the great barn.

CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

The Church Service League of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, met on Monday in the Parish House. There was a luncheon followed by an address by the Hon. B. Loring Young of Weston.

Mr. Young gave a brief account of the history of the government of Massachusetts previous to 1913, and spoke of the adoption at that time of the initiative and referendum which gives to the people upon petition of 15,000 voters the right to approve or reject a proposed law. He stated that there were certain laws, however, which were not subject to initiative and referendum, namely those dealing with courts and judges, religious matters, and questions involving the appropriation of money.

Mr. Young said that personally he was not in favor of the initiative and referendum, as he believes that the representatives of the people in the legislature are more fitted to decide upon the merits or demerits of a given matter than are the average voters.

Taking up in detail the referendum to be voted upon at the next election, he said that the referendum relative to the roll call in the House is a constitutional amendment, it will save much valuable time in the legislature, and there is no argument against it.

In regard to the question of using voluntary organizations as corporations are used, he said that the only objection to this came from certain labor unions who fear that the law might be used unfairly in a strike.

The moving picture censorship is, in Mr. Young's opinion, the most complicated of all of the questions to be voted upon. In favor of such a censorship is the very strong feeling among certain people that the present law is not handling and cannot handle the situation. Against it, is the feeling of certain people that such a censorship might lead to censorship along other lines such as literature and the drama. As, according to his own confession, Mr. Young seldom visited the "movies," he did not feel competent to give an opinion upon the conditions existing in the "movies" today.

Speaking of the liquor enforcement act, Mr. Loring said that this law is different from the Volstead Act which is a Federal law. In favor of such a law is the fact that the people are to make the laws of Massachusetts in keeping with the Federal law. Finally, in regard to the question of the District Attorney's being a member of the bar, he said that there can be but one opinion.

Auburndale

—A "YES" Vote next Tuesday endorses the well-considered action of the Legislature and the Governor.

—Mr. and Mrs. George F. Keyes formerly of Auburndale now of Freeport, Maine, have been visiting friends here this week.

Papers are in circulation for the nomination of Mr. J. Albert Cole for ward alderman to succeed Alderman Harry B. Ross.

—The Mothers' Association held a meeting on Wednesday in the Methodist Parish House. Miss Edith Thomas of Boston University, a teacher of Music and Pageant, gave a talk on "Music in the Home," illustrated by solos and choruses led by Mrs. Harper.

—The Annual meeting of the Good Government Club will be held tonight in Norumbega Hall. After the business meeting the meeting will be open to the public. The principal points of the referendum will be explained, and there will be a debate on referendum. No 2 City Solicitor, Joseph W. Bartlett will talk on the Democratic candidates for state office, while William F. Garcelon will represent the Republican side. Hon. Sanford Bates of Waban will give a brief talk for the benefit of voters recently come of age.

—Mr. James Alfred De Lacey died at his home on Bourne street, last Friday in his 75th year. He was a retired superintendent of construction work. He was born in England, and had lived 36 years in Newton. Surviving him are his widow, Honora De Lacey, and four children, Mrs. Alice Harper of Hudson, Massachusetts, Mr. Charles De Lacey of Berlin, N. H., Elizabeth De Lacey of Auburndale. Services were held at his late residence on Sunday, Rev. Percival M. Wood officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

—Mrs. Caroline White Turner, widow of Henry Turner, died at her home on Jewett street last week Thursday in her 85th year. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. George Pratt of Brighton, and two grandsons, Henry and Charles Turner. Services were held at her late residence on Saturday, Rev. Otto Mayer of Elliot Church officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

—To prevent undesirable building on the old Edwin Chaffin estate at Centre and Vernon streets, a few public spirited persons have organized the Chaffin Park Trust and have purchased that estate and torn down the house. The Trust is also anxious to obtain the Davis estate adjoining and ultimately the Sherman estate on Vernon street and to donate the land to the city for park purposes.

WOMEN'S CLUB

tea table, gay with appropriate Halloween decorations, were Mrs. Stanley Bloomfield and Mrs. Donald Rust. Assisting were Mrs. Harry D. Billings, Mrs. Jeremiah Allen, Mrs. Kenneth Holbrook, Mrs. Andrew Foss, Mrs. Russell Gibbs, Mrs. Lester Hunter, Mrs. Spencer Arend—all attractively gowned in white with tea aprons of orange and black.

In the brief addresses by Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Poole emphasized the advantages of being a club woman, saying that women in any community could be divided into three groups. One group "dug itself in" as soon as the weather became cold and did not appear again until spring; another pursued pleasure with such energy that spring found them tired out; the third group, which comprised the club women, spent itself serving the community and learning. To serve and to learn is argument enough for becoming a club woman.

Mrs. Henry confined her talk chiefly to local matters. In answer to the question raised, "Is There Need of a City Federation of Women's Clubs?" she said in part that owing to the peculiar structure of the City of Newton, composed as it is of a number of towns under a central government, with one Mayor, one City Hall, one High School, one Police Department, etc., such a Federation seemed very desirable, as it brings the women from all parts of the town together, occasionally, for an interchange of ideas. She suggested that the club women interest themselves in the zoning ordinance, which is so important in the development of the City and to the tax payers.

Many thanks are due Mrs. Decatur for the hospitalities in which she gave the club the freedom of her home; to the Social committee whose careful planning contributed so much to the success of the occasion, and to Mrs. Richard T. Loring and Mrs. Albert P. Carter for their delightful musical program.

SALAMOFF—GOODMAN

Miss Rose M. Goodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goodman of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, became the bride on Tuesday of Mr. Samuel C. Salamoff of Malden. The wedding took place in Odd Fellows' Hall and was performed by the Rev. W. J. Rosen.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with pearl trimming and carried a shower bouquet. The sister of the bride, Miss Ida Goodman was maid of honor, and her gown was of black satin trimmed with beads, and she carried American Beauty roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Clara Salamoff, sister of the groom, Miss Ida Girsickbaum, cousin of the bride, Miss Mae Cohen, cousin of the bride, Miss Anna Taber, Miss Elizabeth Boydick, and Miss Hilda Goodman.

The gowns of the bridesmaids were of Turquoise blue charmeuse trimmed with silver, Nile green Canton crepe with beaded robes, henna crepe with beaded robes, and broadened green velvet.

The best man was Mr. Sidney Schindler, a cousin of the groom, and the ushers were Messrs. Henry Cohen, Harold Girsickbaum, Samuel Groipen, Sidney Dach, Nathan Goodman, Joseph Goodman and Louise Schindler.

Sonia Wine of Malden was flower girl, and William Goodman ring bearer.

A reception followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Salamoff are to live in Malden.

ZONING ORDINANCE ADOPTED

Aldermen Accept New Draft By Vote of 12 to 7 With Two Absent

At the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night, the minority opposition to the zoning ordinance contented itself with expressing its opinion that the ordinance was unconstitutional and did not interpose a charter objection to its consideration, as had been expected. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 12 to 7 with 2 absent. Those in opposition were Earle, Grebenstein, Heathcote, Hickey, Ross, White and Hollis.

The debate was preceded by the passage of an amendment placing the district near Farwell and North streets in the manufacturing zone. Alderman White said that while he recognized the rights of the minority to have a further postponement of the matter he would not take that action. He believed that the ordinance would encourage radicalism in Newton by its usurpation of the rights of property owners. It jeopardizes personal and property rights and is the centralization of power to the highest degree. He declared that this zoning proposition started in Germany and should have staid there. It was nothing but a political propaganda and designed to make a political issue at the coming city election. The ordinance could not be interpreted by an administrative head and would not be effective in his opinion. He quoted Alderman Phipps and City Solicitor Bartlett as well as other authorities as admitting that the ordinance was unconstitutional.

Alderman Phipps said that so far as he was concerned he had never believed that the ordinance was unconstitutional and he hoped that the Supreme court would sustain it if the question ever came before it.

Alderman Heathcote favored a zoning ordinance which would give the city 80% of what was desired.

President Hollis left the chair to reply to letters received from Ward 7 constituents and said he opposed the single residence zone on the ground of class distinction. A general residence zone would lower property values and there should be in his opinion but one residence zone.

Another interesting feature of the meeting was another phase of the Castle Inn proposition which has been agitating Auburndale for the past few months. At the last meeting of the aldermen a victualer license was refused this place, which is located on Islington road, Auburndale. The matter came up Monday night on a petition of the owners of the Inn to be given a charter as a "club," to be known as the Castle Club, Inc. Such a corporation requires a statement from the aldermen that none of the incorporators have been engaged in the illegal selling of intoxicating liquor or in keeping places for illegal gaming, or in other business prohibited by law. The matter was referred to the license committee and a two-hour recess taken to allow the committee to meet. On reassembling the committee reported that the board should report that there was no evidence that the incorporators were so engaged but should add that the board objects to the granting of the charter on the ground that the probable purpose of the organization is for carrying on the business of a common victualer a license for which had been refused.

Alderman Carter said, that as a member of the committee he agreed to the first statement but did not agree to the second paragraph in the committee report. The report was then accepted.

Reports of the license committee that night were far from unanimous. Chairman Ross being several times in the minority. Mr. Ross objected to the transfer of a gas filling license from Mr. Mehigan to the Colonial Filling Station Inc., on Commonwealth avenue near Fuller street but he was overruled. Alderman Carter objected.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Last Sunday, November 5, the Sunday in the octave of All Saints, was a happy day for St. Mary's Church, Newton Lower Falls. The congregation worshipped for the first time in the newly restored Church. This work has taken many weeks to perform. The chancel was enlarged and the altar raised, the interior painted white slightly tinted with grey, choir stalls built in the same design as the old box pews of this over an hundred years old Church. A pulpit, also in harmony, was built. Electric lighting, an electric blower in the organ and a vacuum system were installed. A dossal of glorious red damask was hung behind the altar, and a pair of beautiful, tall, colonial-pattern candlesticks were given for Eucharistic lights. Few churches can boast of brass candlesticks designed and made by one of its devoted parishioners, as can St. Mary's. Mr. William H. Hollis, clerk of the parish, designed, made with his own hands and inscribed the candlesticks in memory of his godson, David Rowe Leslie, the infant son of his friend, Harold F. Leslie, another devoted member of the vestry and choir for many years. Little David died February 14, 1921, at the age of two months. At the early celebration of the Holy Eucharist, at last past seven, the Rev. Guy Wilbur Miner entered into his work as the new Rector of St. Mary's. This event has been anticipated with keen interest by the parish, which has been without a rector since before Easter, their former rector, the Rev. Ransom Moore Church having been called from them to the rectorship of the Church of the Messiah, Boston. Mr. Miner comes here from the charge of four churches and ten missions in Norfolk county, where he was engaged in diocesan missionary work. At the early Eucharist Mr. Miner, using beautiful prayers asked blessings on the new candlesticks, the dossal, the

SALLY LUNN

Monday night of this week, before an audience that occupied the last inch of seating space and standing room in the Parish House of Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, the Young Women's Club of that church presented the play, "Sally Lunn."

Under the coaching of Mr. Ralph Somers of Newtonville the play had been worked out with a degree of finish unusual to amateur efforts. The first act was especially good, the spirit, naturalness, and well modulated voices of the players, together with certainty and promptness of entrance, imparting an almost professional character to the unfolding of the plot. The second and concluding act evidenced uncertainty of progress once or twice, with a corresponding momentary "letting down" of the morale of the participants, but only from a critical standpoint was this especially noticeable. There were dramatic situations in this closing act which called out such spontaneous and spirited performances as to hold the audience really spellbound.

The play itself is wholesome, clean, interesting, and fairly humorous. The humorous touches were particularly well brought out, so that again and again the audience was sent into gales of laughter. It is quite an ideal type of play for church use.

There was no weak character in the cast. One had an impression that the characters were unusually well taken. Mrs. Lillian Larkin, the brilliant and beautiful young wife of John Randolph gave a natural, well poised, and impressive impersonation of the young author, who, marrying an elderly widower, found herself the object of most unfriendly surveillance and sarcasm criticism on the part of all her husband's relatives save one, his youngest son, Leo. Mrs. Larkin's transition in character from Mrs. Larkin to the stammering Sally Lunn and back again was most effective.

Miss Doris Cole, as Leo, the "kid" of the family, distrustful of himself and others, especially girls, gave a splendid account of herself. Her handling of the many humorous lines

WINS FAST GAME

The games of last Saturday have entirely changed the outlook of the Suburban League. Not only did Newton High capture its first Suburban battle, but Malden and Somerville, two of the big guns of the early season race, fell victims to the fighting underdog eleven from Everett and Brookline. Medford is now at the head of the League and is the only undefeated outfit in the organization.

We predicted a Newton win over Rindge although we did not believe the Orange and Black would put over such a decisive victory. Newton's stellar performance of last Saturday can mean but one thing; that is that the Newtonians have found themselves. Any team that can tally 17 points against Rindge must have a worthwhile offensive. The Rindge line is as strong as any Newton has faced this season and the Garden City score only goes to show what a Dickinson offensive can accomplish when the backs are able to hold the ball.

O'Donnell played the leading role in the game of last week. We have always maintained that O'Donnell was one of the best scholastic gridironers but it was not until last week that the boy showed his real worth. He is without a doubt the one man to hold down the position of quarterback and just as long as he plays the game for the sake of the game, just so long will he continue to be a chief actor in all Newton gridiron productions.

The other Newton backs also made a good job of it in the Rindge game. For the first time this year they seemed to be alive to every opening and for the first time this year they seemed to be able to make good use of the justly famous Dickinson forward pass game. Coach Dickinson is a true master of the art of the forward pass, and fortunate indeed is the team that can carry into reality the theories of Dickinson's open game.

Cambridge Latin is Newton's opponent for tomorrow and the game will be played at Russell Field, Cambridge, will fight but Newton will win. What are Newton's chances for a title at this writing? They are none too good but they certainly are much improved over last week. While Medford is the present occupant of

THE STATE ELECTION

Newton Casts 78 Per Cent of Registration and Supports Republican Ticket

While Newton did not join the country-wide Democratic landslide as heartily as most of the state, its effects were noted here to some extent, the Democratic candidates receiving more than the usual party vote while the Republican candidates received far less than the normal party vote.

15236 ballots were cast in the city out of a registration of 19488, substantially 78%. Of this number, Governor Cox received 10478 and Fitzgerald 4388. Senator Lodge fell behind the Governor's vote, receiving but 9248, while Gaston polled 4737. Nichols the Prohibition candidate had 652. For state senator, Representative Rice had 9855 to 3559 for Mr. Favinger, his Democratic opponent. Representatives Brimblecom and Early were re-elected, with 8892 and 9988 votes respectively, while Alderman Leverett Saltonstall nominated to succeed Mr. Rice had the substantial total of 10,333. Miss Ruddick, the only Democratic candidate received 4406 votes.

The contest for district attorney for this county was hard fought, District Attorney Saltonstall urging Newton citizens to vote for the Democratic candidate, James C. Reilly, his present first assistant. Representative Arthur K. Reading, who won the Republican nomination in September failed to secure the united support of the Republicans and polled only 7385 votes while Mr. Reilly had 6506. In view of the claims of the Reilly faction that he would carry the city, Mr. Reading's vote is considered quite satisfactory. Incidentally Mr. Reading was elected in the district by a majority vote of some 8,000.

The other candidates on the ballot received the following votes:—

For Governor, Hess had 23, Hutchins, 32 and Lewis 92.

For Lieutenant Governor, Fuller had 10,561, Doherty 2940, Kinsalis 47, and Nicholson 52.

For Treasurer, Jackson had 10725, Venne 3471, Loftus 62, and Reagan 76.

For Secretary, Cook had 10519, McGee 3615, Coolidge 194, and Hayes 60.

For Auditor, Cook had 8867, Cram 4905, Aiken 108, and Williams 117.

For Attorney General, Benton had 10,281, Swift 3761, Bearak 99 and Craig 66.

For United States Senator, Cook had 69, Nichols 662, Sherman 53, and Weeks 44.

For Congressman Luce had 11241.

For Congressman Smith had 10776.

For County Commissioner Barlow had 10742.

For Associate Commissioners, Fletcher had 10,258, and Keyes had 9709.

For Clerk of Court, Smith had 10971.

For Register of Deeds, Leighton had 11025.

For County Treasurer, Hatfield had 11397.

FREE CITY-WIDE SWIM

Beginning Monday afternoon at 2:30 November 13, and continuing throughout the week, the Newton Y. M. C. A. will conduct a free city-wide swimming campaign for men and boys. Classes will be held every day and large numbers are expected to take advantage of this opportunity to learn to swim free.

Jack Manning, formerly crew coach at Harvard for 17 years, now with the Humane Society as swimming instructor, will handle the classes. He has had very marked success in this work. Last year over two-thirds of those who entered passed the swimming test.

All who expect to enter the campaign should report at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday morning, 9:30, November 11, for physical examination and assignment to classes. No bathing suits are required. All boys from the sixth grade and up who do not know how to swim, as well as older boys out of school, also men, are urged to sign up for their campaign and learn to swim free.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association will be held Monday, November 13th, 1922, 10:30 A. M., at the Newton Club House, Walnut street, Newtonville.

Reports of the year's work will be given by the Officers, by the Superintendent, and by Miss Allen of the Newton Hospital.

Miss Winifred Rand, Director of the Baby Hygiene Association of Boston, will speak of that particular phase of public health work.

CITY HALL

Dr. F. G. Curtis, Chairman of the Board of Health, and other Newton physicians and surgeons are active in helping the American Society for the Control of Cancer in its arrangements for National Cancer Week, Nov. 12-18. Dr. Curtis is a member of the Massachusetts Committee of the society and is chairman of the sub-committee on boards of health, whose cooperation he has secured. Various fraternal, Labor Unions, Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Churches, etc., also are lending their assistance. Even more than the 10,000,000 people given information in the entire country last year are expected to be reached next week.

City Treasurer Newhall received nearly a million dollars in taxes in three days last week, $204,000 on Oct. 30, $351,000 on Oct. 31 and $427,000 on Nov. 1st.

MORE HONORS FOR MISS AURYANSEN

Miss Katherine Auryansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen of Jennison street, Newtonville, was awarded the Sarah Streeter Cup recently as the member of the senior class at Mt. Holyoke College who approaches most nearly to physical perfection. Popularly, this cup is known as the "Venus" cup and five years ago was awarded to Miss Hilda Jones, also of Newtonville.

Miss Auryansen was graduated from the Newton High School in 1919 with very high honors, and entered Mt. Holyoke College in the fall of that year.

In her freshman year at college she won her numerals in volleyball, and the following year the Holyoke letter. As a senior she plays on the team, and is also supervisor of the Outing Club, a club which promotes winter sports at the college, and has charge of the Towne House where students may go for week-end outings.

In addition to her honors in athletics, Miss Auryansen is President of the French Club, and a member of the editorial staff of the year book. In her Sophomore year she was winner of the Sarah Williston honors for scholastic excellence, and in her Junior year had an average of over ninety. This year she stands third in her class.

The Sarah Streeter Cup was given by a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, GAL 6 GRAPHIC class of 1911, for the purpose of stimulating interest in gymnasium work. The winner must be practically perfect according to the standards of the leading medical authorities and artists of the day.

WARREN—KENNEY

Wednesday in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Cambridge, Miss Ruth M. Kenney of Belmont, daughter of Mrs. Ella M. Kenney, Winoski, Vermont, was married to Herbert M. Warren, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Warren of Chestnut Hill.

The Rev. Wm. L. Worcester performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Joseph A. Kenney of Winoski, Vermont. Hervey Lawless was best man, and the ushers were Schuyler Dillon, Harry Chandler, Richard Hartley and Richard Warren.

The bride wore a gown of embroidered chiffon with train and a veil caught with orange blossoms. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blakeman of Belmont.

The bride and groom left for a trip to Savannah and other Southern points after which they will make their home in Birmingham, Alabama.

accorded her, which, however, were necessarily given as the natural and spontaneous expression of a young lad who just "blurted out" his thoughts and impressions, was superb.

Miss Jessie Jamieson, experienced in amateur theatricals, and Miss Lillian King, in the roles of Martyn Glynn and John Randolph, Jr., students at Yale made the really difficult task of a young woman playing a young man's part seem very easy and simple, so naturally and effectively did they play. Their indulgence in "spatty" jibes, jeers, and threats was particularly good. Never once did they drop their assumed characters. With unusually good costumes and "makeups" no one in the audience could have been impressed that these were young women from beginning to end, except as they heard the voices, which were wisely, not gruffened.

Miss Dorothy King, as Marjorie Randolph, the young Smith college girl appeared to splendid advantage in smart travelling suit and later in velvet gown as a stunning young lady of college circles. Her acting fully sustained the favorable impression made by her appearance.

Mrs. Rose Hammond, supercilious "Aunt Penelope," with lorgnette, facial expression, voice, and carriage made her part a real contribution to the success of the play, handling the transition when she was frightened out of her stiff and pompous manner by critical attitude toward the world in general and her brother's new wife in particular by circumstances calculated to bring suspicion upon her and her relatives of theft of her brother's papers, and later where she became genuinely penitent, seeking Mrs. Randolph's forgiveness and love, like a veteran.

As for Miss Helen Brooks, playing the part of Vivian Winslow, snobbish society girl, so thoroughly did she enter into her part that it will be some time before her friends can trust her not to "cut them cold," say some sarcastic thing to them, or coldly stare them into humiliated silence. One watching her play cannot help but hope to see her casted sometime in a more affable and sympathetic part for she evidenced self control, gesture, and smiling countenance that would make her successful.

The writer believes that even amateur endeavors of this kind should be pointed to a high and ideal standard. Such a performance as these young women gave contributes to the character of the participants and to the development of a high standard for church activities in general, in addition to furnishing delightful recreation.

To the play committee, Miss Lucille Robbins, chairman, Miss Lillian Gerold and Miss Lillian King belong a lion's share of credit for the success of the play. Mrs. Harper, wife of the pastor, was an advisory member, assisting in selecting the piece and the cast and in organizing and directing the preliminary rehearsals. The young women took the whole load of responsibility, however, and under the leadership of Miss Robbins the work was carried effectively forward.

Miss Pearl Hilliard, chairman of publicity and ticket sales, was very largely responsible for the great audience that assembled.

Misses Dorothy Weir, saxophonist, Alice Davis, pianist, Esther and Mary Alexander, violinists and Mr. Alexander, xylophonist, furnished incidental music of high quality throughout.

The scenery, especially painted for this play, was kindly loaned by the Newtonville M. E. Church, and set up by Mr. Leonard. The costumes, wigs, and makeup was due in very large part to Mrs. Somers, wife of the coach.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

ALBERT EDGAR ANGLIER SCHOOL

The citizens of Newton have, in the educational institution. This physical plant is located on Beacon Street in one of the rapidly growing sections of our City, Waban. Those of us who know this building will take a just pride in guiding our friends about it.

It meets the needs of definite up-to-date educational aims. With its spacious assembly hall artistically furnished, its cozy, generous, kindergarten, filled with sunshine during the entire day; its suite of health rooms spotlessly white; its gymnasium, the home of the dance and play; its cooking, sewing, and dining apartment moulding the future homemakers; its manual training shop for the fulfillment of the vocational aspects of elementary education; its sanitary lavatories; the auxiliary educational institution, the library with its stacks of the best volumes in literature; a satisfying teachers' rest room; the master's office from the walls of which speak Lincoln, Roosevelt, and Washington; and last, twelve classrooms equipped with portable and adjustable children's desks.

The floors throughout the house are of battlement linoleum, sanitary and noise absorbing. Nature's light enters from only one side of a room thus avoiding the dangers of cross lighting; on dark days when electricity is required the light is indirect. The ventilation easily complies with the state requirements and warm fresh air is in constant circulation throughout the building. Heating is accomplished by both the direct and indirect methods.

Adjacent to the school grounds are the lawns of the Church of the Good Shepherd and the playground making for a park symmetry otherwise impossible.

The School and the surrounding grounds are the pride of noble men and women in Newton. To be acquainted with them is to know the possible in school building standards today. It is a civic duty and joy to visit the Albert Edgar Anglier School in Waban.

STEARNS SCHOOL

An effort is being made in the grades to increase the attendance. This month the second grades led with highest reports. Miss Lusk was ahead with 98.2%, Miss Stuart and Miss Trask following with 98.2% and 98.0% respectively.

A dressmaking class has been started in the Junior Girls' Club with Miss McNeale as instructor. Miss Margaret Terrio has undertaken to coach the Christmas Play for the Club. Rehearsals began this week.

The Newton Girls' Club are preparing a Minstrel Show to be given at the Sailors' Haven on November 16th. Miss Gertrude Perry has charge of the program.

The Stearns School football team moved one step nearer the city championship Thursday afternoon, when it won decisively over the eleven from Pierce School, by the score of 52-0. The game was played on Victory Field, Nonantum, before a large crowd of Stearns' followers. Stearns plays the Hyde School team Thursday afternoon and a hard game is expected.

In the Pierce game, the entire eleven played well, although much lighter than their opponents. Ralph Slamin at right half back played brilliantly being exceptionally powerful on the defense, being in every play. Charlie Mackin at left end also was strong, stopping many plays before they were started. Bernie Lyman, at quarter and Jimmy Lyman, made a wonderful forward passing combination, three touchdowns and many long gains being recorded in this manner. Frankie Shea and Morrell were very clever in evading the Pierce tacklers and made considerable distance for Stearns.

Reports of the state conference will also be read. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Miss E. F. Jordan, Mrs. W. F. Kilbury, Miss Carl Maynard, Mrs. E. B. Parker.

THANKS HER FRIENDS

I wish to thank my friends, men and women, Republicans and Democrats, who worked so valiantly for my success in the campaign just closed. The confidence they showed in me and their zeal in my behalf will always be an inspiring memory to me. LILLIAM G. RUDDICK.

GIRL SCOUTS

For a number of years the Girl Scout Troop in Newton Centre has been divided into groups of girls. Those in Grammar School formed the Junior group while the High School girls were in the Senior Division. This year the divisions are being registered as two separate groups. Newton Centre Senior Troop 3 and Newton Centre Junior Troop 3. Miss Priscilla Ordway who has been Captain of Troop 3 for a number of years is Captain of the Junior Troop and Mrs. William J. Hodges, Captain of the Seniors. Both Troops are adding each week to their numbers and the girls are starting the winter's work with great eagerness and lots of enthusiasm.

The Junior Troop had a Halloween party on Thursday, Oct. 26. Witches, sprites and black cats attended this party and all joined in the grand march. The prize for the best costume was given to Elizabeth Walworth. "Halloween land" proved an enchanting place and was presided over by a weird figure who told fortunes. After supper games were played. The party ended with some ghost stories which delighted the heart of every Scout and they all went home after a very happy evening.

At the first meeting of the Senior Troop the girls voted that their colors would be green and white and decided on the Mistletoe as their Troop Flower. Catherine Noyes was elected secretary of the Troop and Elizabeth Noyes, treasurer. The following Committees were appointed: Sports—Elizabeth Plimpton, Chairman; Catherine Osgood, Clara Smith, Margaret Noble, Art—Hope Corken, Chairman; Faith Stone, Ruth Bailey, Dorothy Johnson, Entertainment—Lucile Wright, Chairman; Esther Newell, Elizabeth Bonney, Priscilla Bond, Helen McAleer, Virginia Gray, Louise Paul, Literary Committee—Catherine Noyes, Chairman; Priscilla Kirkpatrick, Mary Jean Bowman, Louise Paul, Bulletin—Catherine Osgood, Chairman; Esther Newell. Plans were made for trips to the Brookline Swimming Pool to prepare for the swimming test, hikes and Soccer were decided on for outdoor activities and basketry was chosen for the indoor work.

Troop 7. The Scouts of Troop 7 have elected the following officers for the coming year. Secretary of the Troop, Elizabeth Meara; Special Secretary, Anna Sullivan; Treasurer, Lena Hurrell; For chairman of the Committees, Entertainment, Helen Chalkson, Song Leader, Mabel Wildman, and Cheer Leader, Miriam Temperley. Troop 7 has been most fortunate in securing two new Lieutenants, Miss Eleanor Holmes of West Newton and Miss Dorothy Colby of Upper Falls.

WINS ITS FIRST GAME

the honor position in the League race we do not consider the Mansfield team of championship calibre.

We consider Newton and Malden the two best teams in the circuit. Everett's win over Malden was a surprise, not only a surprise to Malden but a surprise to Everett. Malden is a much better eleven than Everett and its defeat at the hands of the Red and Blue is only an incident of the extraordinary happening on the football field.

Somerville's defeat by Brookline was no surprise. Two weeks ago, after Somerville had beaten Newton, we said in this column that Newton's conqueror would meet with at least two defeats. The Brookline game is the first of these. There are more to follow. Do not forget that Brookline has a powerful aggregation. True, it has had its share of beatings but the Wealthy Town's fighting spirit is not diminished and you can look forward to a real fiery scrap on Claffin Field the morning of Thanksgiving Day.

Waltham continues to shape up as one of the best teams in the State. It gave Jimmy Fitzpatrick's Portland team a walloping last Saturday and while the Pine Tree boys are no world-beaters, it takes a good eleven to shut them out, 36 to 0. The Waltham game is, as usual, the talk of both the Watch and the Garden Cities.

We advise you to get your seats for this contest at the earliest opportunity. It is a tough job trying to get into Claffin Field at an ordinary big game but when it's a case of Waltham vs. Newton it's like trying to get hold of a seat in the Stadium for the Harvard-Princeton game. So buy your tickets just as soon as they go on sale. And on the day of the game make it a point to get to the field long before the kickoff. There is nothing quite so nerve racking as to stand in a waiting line and hear the shouting of the fans who have had the foresight to start for the game in plenty of time to see the action from start to finish.

Newton football followers will be interested in the announcement that "Hank" Garrity is the father of a baby girl. "Hank" is now coaching the University of Missouri eleven and has succeeded in giving that university one of the best teams in its history.

WALTER R. GRAHAM.

AN APPRECIATION OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

From Col. Charles R. Forbes, Director, U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

We ex-service men think of the American Red Cross as an all-helpful mother, a mother who always cooperates with us in our every need. Whether it be a matter of calling the Bureau's attention to an unawarded claim or an ill man needing hospitalization, or of tiding the sick veterans over the time which must elapse before Government aid can be offered, the Red Cross is always at the job with expert service and the necessary goods.

In the Bureau's "Clean-up" campaign when efforts were made to locate every ex-service man no matter how remote his habitation or how limited his powers of comprehension, the Red Cross workers brought to light hundreds of claims which might otherwise have lain hid until too late for the individual to make legal application. Taking good advantage of what some one has aptly termed her "strategic position," the Red Cross service worker has penetrated the alleys of the city and the wilderness of the mountain in her search for the man who did not know that the Government stood ready to help him.

The Veterans' Bureau problem is a big one and we need the Red Cross. Together, and with the help of all the other agencies and individuals eager to serve, we will surely give most practical expression of America's appreciation of the debt which the nation owes the man who won his way to health and strength in his country's cause.

FOR NEAR EAST FUND

The churches of Newton on Sunday will make their appeal for the Near East Emergency Fund.

Of the $100,000 pledged by the Massachusetts Committee to meet the present refugee emergency, $73,000 has been raised since the middle of September, and it is hoped to secure the balance in the cities suburban to Boston.

Every dollar contributed to date according to a statement made by Dr. W. A. Bartlett, the New England Director, yesterday, has already been expended for flour and other food supplies.

In East Thrace alone 380,000 Christians have passed through the temporary relief stations during the past ten days, and at Dedeagatch 20,000 are living in tents and 30,000 have no shelter of any kind. One hundred and fifty tons of flour were rushed to this "city of desolation" during the present week.

Dr. James L. Barton of Boston, national chairman of Near East Relief, sailed on Tuesday for Lausanne, Switzerland, to act as advisor of the American representatives who are to sit unofficially in the peace conference there.

GEN. PERSHING ASKS ROLL CALL SUPPORT

Once again it is my pleasure and privilege to add to the praise for the Red Cross in war have been its merciful labors to alleviate famine, sickness and the sufferings of the aftermath of war.

Personally, I commend the Red Cross to the fullest possible extent to the generous consideration of all Americans.

—John J. Pershing

Beautiful Building Lots In Newton Centre

These lots are suitable for the person who desires a home site in one of the model communities in the State, where fine schools, splendid churches and beautiful homes are the rule.

Located on Parker St. and Jackson St. only a short distance from Newton Centre on one side and a few steps from the Boston-Worcester electric on the other, both points affording excellent commuting service to Boston.

We are able at present to offer an excellent selection of lots, many of which have individual artistic effects each different one from the other.

Improved streets are being built, sewer and water is being installed.

Locations as good as this in Newton on which to build a home for permanent occupancy are becoming more scarce each year.

This new and finest year-round oil range

in tens of thousands of city and country kitchens

THE latest New Perfection Oil Range with Superflex Burners is built to meet, and does meet, every household requirement.

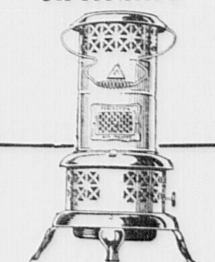

In kitchen tests conducted by a practical farm housewife, food for a family of five was cooked on this range at a fuel cost of less than 3 cents a meal!

Another test, made by the Good Housekeeping Institute, proved that the newly invented Superflex Burners on this range cook as fast as gas. And the famous Institute has placed its seal of approval on the entire range. See this New Perfection Oil Range demonstrated by your dealer. At housefurnishing and hardware dealers—everywhere.

EDITORIAL

The editor is most grateful for a re-election as a member of the Great and General Court, and will endeavor to merit the confidence of his constituents by close attention to the duties of that office and a careful consideration of the many legislative questions which will have to be solved on Beacon hill.

Be sure and be at home Sunday afternoon to the Red Cross representatives.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

Group II was in charge of the meeting held Wednesday and Mrs. Charles Frail was the leader. As delegate to the Northfield Conference Mrs. Frail had gleaned much from that center of inspiration and presented it in a helpful way. It was the first meeting on "Building with India," the new text-book, and the subject was "Indian Heritage." Mrs. Bissell, now living in Newtonville, formerly the wife of a missionary to India, and for twenty years a resident of that country, told stories of the life there. She was dressed in the native costume. The Taj Mahal, the most beautiful building in the world, she described with the aid of pictures—a marvelous tribute to a woman in a land where women are not respected. Mrs. Edwin P. Crave sang sympathetically, "In the Secret of His Presence" and Mrs. Payson Allen played the accompaniment. Miss Katherine Wakefield gave readings on the "Religious Consciousness of the Hindu" and Mrs. George Auryan-sen spoke on "Nationalism." Mrs. Percy Williams read a poem "To India." The social hour was delightful. Mrs. Gorham Harris, hostess, Mrs. W. A. Lee and Mrs. A. E. Vose poured the tea.

Members of the association who can attend the "Day of Missions" at the Auburndale Congregational Church are requested to be at the Central Church at 9.45 Wednesday morning, where auto transportation will be provided.

W. C. T. U.

On last week Thursday afternoon the regular meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held in the Baptist chapel of Newton Centre. Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle gave a practical talk on Freedom and Responsibility. "Now that women have the franchise they have the ability to change things—to right wrongs." He favored Censorship "because all the movie men were against it." The Volstead Act is enforced in the South on account of the race problem. Liquor is "not good for the negro." We have no right to exercise our personal liberty when we endanger the public. California, Maryland and Massachusetts are the three states in opposition to federal law. Such a condition is an affront to the national government. Mrs. S. P. Stevens explained clearly the referendum. Mr. S. P. Stuntz of Peru described vividly the good effect of temperance reform in that country. Mrs. J. A. Groves was the hostess.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—The story of "The Lawbreaker," which Mr. Wm. A. Brady produced at the Booth Theatre, New York City, with William Courtenay and Blanche Yurka, is a fascinating tale by Jules Eckert Goodman and deals with those who shatter the statutes. "The Law Breakers" will come to the St. James Theatre next week presented by the Boston Stock Company. Robbery of a bank has set the police upon the hunt for the perpetrator and a discussion at the home of the banker whose institution has been looted turns upon the question as to the proper remedy to cure crime. The father of the family and head of the bank advocates swift and drastic punishment; his daughter believes that the remedy is elsewhere. At this point a detective enters and announces that he has traced some of the missing securities to the possession of the banker's son, and the banker, who a moment before was recommending the most condign punishment for the thief, right about faces and wants to protect the suspected son. The real thief is soon found and the banker is again full of vengeance.

DEATH OF MR. O'CONNOR

Mr. Joseph T. O'Connor, of Walnut street, Newton Centre, a well known undertaker, died at the Newton Hospital on Monday from injuries received in an automobile accident last week.

The accident happened on Washington street near Auburn street, West Newton. Mr. O'Connor, who was operating the car, was suddenly taken ill, and lost control of the car which collided first with a truck operated by Jos. Cohen and then hit a tree at the side of the road, pinning the occupants in the wreck. Mr. O'Connor's chest and ribs were crushed, and his daughter had a fracture of the skull, while Mrs. Mary Wells, of Braintree, a relative, had both legs broken.

Mr. O'Connor leaves a widow, Mary O'Connor, and five children, Joseph, Lewis, Mary, Margaret, and Catherine, who is reported as recovering from the accident.

Services were held at his late residence on Thursday, and a high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Newton Centre, by Rev. Father James E. Haney. The bearers were Messrs. William Bright, J. W. Foley, James McInerney, Percy Keating, Michael Quirk and Jacob King. A large delegation was present from Fr. Thomas Lee Court of Foresters, Newton Council K. C., and from the Massachusetts Undertakers' Association. The burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Roxbury.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Hunnewell Club was the scene of much merriment on Tuesday night. Members and their friends gathered together to hear the election returns.

While they awaited results, Mr. Clarence G. Howes entertained his audience with a pipe dream of different maidens whom he was supposed to have loved, dressing up to represent each in turn. He was very clever, and his dances and songs and witty remarks were much enjoyed.

A group of members also dressed up to represent the different candidates. Mr. Edward Mellus representing Gaston, Mr. Edward Hallett, representing Cox, Mr. Thomas Calhoun representing Lodge and Dr. Naylor representing Fitzgerald and singing "Sweet Adeline," the audience joining in on the chorus.

There will be a musicale next Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock with piano solos by Miss Elizabeth T. Travis, pianist, songs by Miss Martha Atwell, soprano and Mr. Benjamin H. Russell, baritone and violin solos by Miss Celia Goldman.

CHARACTER PARTY

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion gave a character party at the Legion headquarters in West Newton on Tuesday night. The prize for the best dressed was won by Miss Mary Curley whose costume was that of a Chinese girl. The prize for the most original was won by Mrs. Anna Pusher whose costume was that of a Belgian nurse. The prize for the funniest costume was won by Mr. Jack Cullen as a tramp.

Decorations were black and yellow with pine trees as background. The committee in charge consisted of the Misses Curley of Chestnut Hill, Miss Mary McCarthy of West Newton, Mrs. Anna Pusher, Mrs. Mae Mallet, the Misses Matthews, and Mrs. Charles Mullen.

About two hundred were present. Hamlin's Orchestra furnished the music.

RAINBOW BAZAAR

Among the many interesting features of the Rainbow Bazaar to be held in the Waban Neighborhood Club next Wednesday under the auspices of the Ladies' Circle of Union Church is the supper in the Parrot Tea Room. Busy householders will be glad of the opportunity to come and bring the whole family.

The following supper while the ladies are doing their Christmas shopping, the men will have an opportunity to enjoy billiards and pool.

The children will want to come in the afternoon to hear the stories and recitations by Mrs. Florence A. McAllister from 4 to 5.

Everyone will want to stay during the evening to see "The Florist Shop," a delightful comedy written by Winifred Hawkins of the Harvard Dramatic Club and presented under the direction of Miss Grace Miller.

—The Senior Choir of Centenary, with Mrs. Clara Lieber, soprano, and Cleon Hopkins, trumpet, will render a concert of oratorio, operatic, and other music in the Town Hall, Holbrook, Mass., Thursday night, November 16.

—On Thursday evening, Nov. 16th, there will be given an illustrated talk at the Congregational Church, with stereopticon slides, on "Our In-ter-mountain Empire, Utah." The slides are furnished by the Home Missionary Society and are of exceptional interest.

—Wednesday night of this week some fifty men of the Men's Club of Centenary Church enjoyed a "Pig Roast" as guests of the Young Men's Club. Leaving the church at 6.30 in automobiles, they went to a selected and prepared place in Weston where the pigs were barbecued and eaten, and much friendly social intercourse enjoyed.

—Rev. Albion J. Tavenner, Director of Young Men's work, will preach next Sunday night at the Methodist Church, and the pastor, Rev. Earl E. Halper, will deliver an address on the life and work of Bishop James W. Bashford. Bishop Bashford was formerly pastor of Centenary Church. Members of the church who remember the Bishop's pastorate will be in the pulpit and give personal reminiscences of his life and character.

—Miss Katherine Fitzsimmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Fitzsimmons, formerly of Auburndale, now of Crescent street, West Newton, died suddenly at the Newton Hospital on Monday in her 18th year. Besides her parents, she leaves one brother, James Fitzsimmons. Services were held at St. Bernard's Church on Thursday and the burial was in Waltham.

—Armistice Day will be observed in Auburndale, in accordance with the Governor's Proclamation, with the display of the national flag. The Service Flag, representing the boys from the Congregational Church and from the Knights of King Arthur, who served in the great war, will be displayed on Saturday in the Church yard and on Sunday in the Church auditorium. In the service on Sunday morning, Nov. 12th, there will be a special recognition of the day and of its significance.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

new credence, the new choir stalls and sedilia and the new pulpit to be used to his glory. At the later celebration of the Holy Communion at quarter of eleven the Rev. Mr. Dennen, Archdeacon of Boston, representing Bishop Lawrence who could not be present, installed Mr. Miner into the rectorship of St. Mary's with the service of institution. In this service Mr. Charles H. Spring being senior warden of the parish presented Mr. Miner with the keys of the Church buildings, which the Archdeacon said later in his sermon was a symbol of the freedom the people give to their rector to come and go in their lives and enter into the most intimate and loving relation with them, a true shepherd of his flock. Mr. Miner addressed the congregation briefly before the Archdeacon's sermon and showed plainly his deep feeling of responsibility and desire to minister to this new flock put into his care. He spoke of his desire to call first of all upon all the house-bound and the sick and to carry the Blessed Sacrament to the sick, also of his desire to have the service of healing of the sick for all who wished it, and his intention to stress the healing ministry. The Church School had its first session last Sunday, it being late due to the restoring of the Church which necessitated using the parish house for Church services. Mr. Miner will start his Church School teachers meeting at once.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT
The date for the society's next concert has been set for Tuesday, December 19, at Central Church, Newtonville.

At the executive committee meeting Tuesday, Miss Dorothy Pray was appointed head monitor.

—Improvements have been made on the Dr. Pope residence on Bowdoin street.

—The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Foley of Floral street, has been seriously ill the past week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Bacon, Jr., of Circuit avenue, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter.

—Mr. Andrew McGuigan and Mrs. Mary Donald were married last Saturday, in this place. Rev. Mr. Phipps performed the ceremony.

—The Woman's Church Aid and Missionary Society of the Congregational church met on Wednesday for sewing. Luncheon was served at 12.30. Mrs. Frank H. Stratton was chairman. Following the luncheon Miss Ona A. Evans spoke on "A Study in Black and Gold."

—Rev. Theodore R. Ludlow of St. Paul's Church, who has spent considerable time in the Orient, was one of the speakers at the meeting of the Episcopal clergymen of the Massachusetts diocese held this week at Hotel Brunswick. Mr. Ludlow spoke on foreign missions.

—The O-E-CE-CA group of Camp Fire Girls of Newton Highlands observed the first anniversary of its organization by a birthday celebration in the vestry of the Congregational Church last Friday afternoon.

—The girls had invited their mothers and presented an entertaining program of instrumental music and recitations and the entire group sang some of the Camp Fire songs. Afterwards light refreshments, prepared by the girls themselves, were served and a birthday cake was cut and enjoyed by all present.

—The first of the set of popular assemblies arranged by Miss Marion H. Dorr was held in Lincoln Hall on Saturday evening, November 4th. The early part of the evening was devoted to an informal reception at which Mrs. J. Butler Studley, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Mrs. Will T. Lavery, of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Phillip S. Sweetser of Waban served as patronesses while Mr. Studley, Mr. Forte, Mr. Lavery and Mr. Sweetser acted as ushers. Following the reception, dancing was enjoyed by all, a special feature being the favor dance in which the ladies were recipients of flesh and rose pink roses and the gentlemen of boutonnieres of orchid, yellow, and white chrysanthemums. Linton's Orchestra, Boston, which has proved so popular at these assemblies in previous years, furnished their usual good music. Refreshments were served.

—The Newtonville Near East Committee announces two lectures to be held in the Central Church for the Near East Fund. Rev. Dr. A. B. Ribhany lectures on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 19th on "Problems of the Near East" and Prof. S. Ralph Harlow speaks on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 26 on the "Present Situation in the Near East."

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Root of Chicago, announce the engagement of their daughter, Constance, to James C. Irwin, Jr., of Kansas City, formerly of Newtonville, and of the Tech class of 1918. Mr. Irwin served with the Massachusetts Cavalry on the Mexican Border, in 1916, and was commissioned a lieutenant at the First Plattsburg Camp in 1917. He served in France as first lieutenant of the 302d Machine Gun Battalion. He is now research engineer with the Kansas City Cold Storage and Refrigerating Company.

—A community gathering in commemoration of Armistice Day is announced for Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Central Congregational Church. Rev. and Mrs. Mellyar H. Lichter have prepared a symbolic ritual in semi-pageant form illustrating the growth of the American conception of freedom and democracy. The title of the ritual is "The American Spirit" interpreted by the Past, illumined by War, inspired by Memory. Mr. W. C. Boyden, Mr. Fred M. Blanchard, Mrs. James T. Larimore, Mr. H. P. Patey will present the spirit of the Republic as gleaned from the great historic documents. "The Altar of the Golden Stars" with a symbolic procession of remembrance will close the service. Miss Lillian West, organist, will give a fifteen minute recital prelude and will direct the incidental music which is to be sung by a double quartette: Mrs. Edwin P. Crawe, Mrs. Howard W. Waybright, Mrs. Lewis E. Moore, Miss Marion Gibbs, Dr. Anton R. Fried, Mr. Robert P. Trask, Mr. Percy R. Ziegler, Mr. Edward J. Tenney. The minister, Mr. Lichter, will act as Prolocutor.

Newton Centre

—Mrs. Joseph W. Briggs of Berwick road entertained at bridge on Monday.

—A missionary drama is to be given at the First Church, this evening, by a group of young people.

—The orchestra of the First Church were given a supper on Thursday, by the ladies of the church.

—The Stephen Greene Lecture by Professor Paul Monroe of Teachers' College Columbia, will be given tonight at the First Baptist Church at 7.45.

—Mrs. Frank H. Stewart of Montvale road entertained on Thursday at auction bridge in honor of Mrs. R. N. Dyer of New York. Mrs. Dyer has recently returned from Paris.

—Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Cobb, D. D., of Elgin street, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last week Monday. A group of friends in the First Church presented them with a gift of gold as a token of their good will and friendship.

—The Stebbins Alliance will meet on Wednesday, November 15, at the home of Mrs. H. P. Bradford of Lake avenue. Luncheon will be served at noon. Plans for the coming bazaar and for the opening of the new parish house are to be discussed.

—Sunday evening will be "British Night" in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, carrying out the spirit of Armistice Day. The British Consul General, Hon. Edward Frances Gray and Judge Frederick J. Macleod of the Superior Court of Massachusetts, recently President of the Canadian Club, will be the speakers. The general subject of the address will be: "Standing Together: Britain and America, Pillars of the World's Peace." The service begins at 7.15.

—At the First Church Vespers on Sunday afternoon, November 5, The First Church Orchestra, under the direction of D. Ralph MacLean, and assisted by Mr. G. Roberts Langer, Baritone Soloist, gave a musical program of a most enjoyable character. The "Adagio" by Bizet and "Les Preludes" by Liszt were excellently rendered, while Mr. Langer's selections of "I Hear Thy Voice" and "Omnipotence" were exceptionally pleasing. The seating capacity of the Church was filled, and the congregation's appreciation of the Orchestra's work was shown by the receipt of several new memberships.

—On Sunday at the Unitarian Church the service of Communion will be held in connection with the morning worship. The minister, George Lawrence Parker, will preach on "Eyes of Fire." The offering of the morning will be given to the Near East Relief Committee for the Smyrna Emergency Fund. On Nov. 21 at 2.30 P. M. the Stebbins Alliance will entertain the New Centre Federation of Women's Church Societies, consisting of all the Women's Societies of the churches of Newton Centre. Reports will be read. The address will be delivered by Rev. Willard L. Sperry, D. D., Dean of the Theological School of Harvard University. On Nov. 16 the Laymen's League will send a large delegation to the Channing Church Chapter as guests of that League. The speaker will be Edw. Whiting of the Boston Herald.

GIRL SCOUTS

Because of the demand for another performance of the operetta which the girls of Troop 5 gave during the Library Carnival in West Newton last week "The Goblin Fair" will be repeated on Friday evening November 17 in Players' Hall at 7.30 o'clock. The girls will be dancing after the play. Tickets may be had from any Girl Scout of Troop 5 or member of the Troop committee. The proceeds will be used for Scout work.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt

Why don't club women in general like business meetings, is something difficult to fathom on the part of those who are taking active part in the management of a club's affairs. Probably, first and foremost, because these particular women are not taking an active part in the club's work and have not really identified themselves with the organization. Possibly they are something like the darkey's sermon, which was "basted onto the text." Women who are merely "basted" onto the club are not getting their full money's worth out of their membership, neither are they putting into the club their full share of themselves. The person who telephones the president on the morning of the meeting day to know what time the program is going to begin, because she can't waste her time over the business part shows all too plainly that she is merely "basted onto her club," and is to be pitied, perhaps, rather than condemned, because she has not caught the full significance of club membership. In a large club there is necessarily more or less of this sort of material and the great work before those in charge should be to convert this deadwood into a living force—a difficult task, but none-the-less a possible one. What may not four or five or six hundred women accomplish, if they all became fired with the desire to bring about a certain result? There and only there, is the real justification of the club's existence. Good programs are merely a part of the club, but in too many eyes that is the end rather than the means. The more members who can be set to work the sooner will the club become a vital force in the community. Let the one who is merely "basted on" ponder on these things!

Censorship of the movies is a dead issue. Now let public opinion take its place. Those who have worked for censorship have certainly succeeded in arousing public opinion, therefore their work has not been in vain. Will Hays to the front. All interested in the matter await eagerly the results of his labors.

Club correspondents are asked for the succeeding weeks of November to send in communications Tuesday night so far as possible, that copy may go to press Wednesday afternoon instead of Thursday. This request is made on account of personal engagements of the Club Editor and from the fact of Thanksgiving's coming on Thursday. Notes may be given over the telephone (Newton North 1370-M), if it will facilitate matters. A further request is made that correspondents learn to think in terms of next week rather than the present one. If your club meets on Thursday, a note that such and such a thing is going to happen on that day is past history by the time the Graphic comes out on Friday. Those clubs meeting the latter part of the week are at a disadvantage over those meeting any of the first three days, it merely means that those sending in notices must be vigilant and on the alert to beat time.

Mrs. Leonard Roberts, chairman of the Home Economics Department, announces that a second class in millinery under the direction of Miss F. L. Williams is being formed and will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur F. Jones, 270 Newtonville avenue. The first meeting will be on Friday afternoon, November 10, from 1 to 3:30 o'clock.

The Newton Social Science begins its study of France next Wednesday morning at the Hunnewell Club with a paper by Mrs. H. H. Powers on "Old Provence."

Members of the Community Club are reminded that those desiring to enjoy the trip to Concord next Wednesday should notify Miss Edith Jamieson before Monday, November 13th. The party will start from the Newton Library at 1:30 P. M., the 15th, providing the day is fair, otherwise the trip will be abandoned. The Group Activities committee, Miss Georgia H. Emery, chairman, is in charge of the excursion.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting on Thursday, November 16, at 2:30 P. M., in the G. A. R. hall, Newtonville.

Wednesday, November 15, the Community Service Club of West Newton will hold an all-day sewing meeting at the Congregational church.

Local Happenings

The Newton Mothers' Club held a particularly interesting meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. E. Hatch. Assisting her as hostesses were, Mrs. W. T. Glidden, Mrs. H. M. Glover, and Mrs. A. K. Hallett. Under the topic, "A New Vocation for Our Girls," Mrs. Lucinda T. Prince told of the remarkable growth and work of the School of Salesmanship, which was originally a part of the work of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, until it has now become a part of Simmons College. Refreshments were served at the close.

Captain André Morize, Professor of Modern French Literature at Harvard University, was the speaker at the first meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, held Monday, November 6th. His subject was "The Life of a French Family" and he kept the members of the club very much interested as he brought out many facts and tendencies which are more typical of home life over there. A reception for new officers and new members followed the program and tea was served. Mrs. Willis R. Fisher and Mrs. Theodore H. Piser were hostesses for the afternoon and six of the ex-presidents poured.

"One of the most charming and delightful meetings we ever had" was the verdict of those who attended the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls last Monday evening in Emerson school hall. Mrs. Mary Parker Dunning was the speaker and her subject, "India—the Calling East." Mrs. Dunning spoke about her personal experiences in India, showed many rare and beautiful souvenirs, and appeared herself in three different costumes, that of the Hindu woman, then as a Parsee woman, and lastly, as a Burmese. The State song, "America, the Beautiful" was sung by the audience.

Miss Georgia H. Emery, chairman of the Social committee of the Newton Social Science Club, opened her home on Waverley avenue for the club's annual tea on Wednesday afternoon from four until six o'clock. The house was charmingly decorated with a profusion of flowers. Miss Emery together with Mrs. H. A. Nealley, the president, and the two new secretaries, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker and Mrs. Henry W. Fitts, greeted the guests. In the dining room the other members of the Social committee, Mrs. John Benbow, Mrs. Charles Sidney Ensign, and Mrs. Wallace Soule attended to the desires of the large number present. Altogether it was a delightful social occasion.

The Newtonville Woman's Club held its first regular meeting of the season on Tuesday, the new president, Mrs. Edwin L. Gardiner, in the chair. In spite of a stormy afternoon and the first meeting of the City Federation taking place at Auburndale, a large audience was present to hear Miss Edith M. Small of the faculty of Wellesley College read the English problem play "A Bill of Divorcement." Miss Small was listened to with absorbing interest through the hour and a half required for the reading. Her presentation was clear and vivid, the eight or more characters passing to and fro upon the imaginary stage without a single blurring or confusing of personalities. The intense stillness of the room at the dramatic climaxes was the best possible compliment to Miss Small's powers as a reader.

The Civic and Social Committee, Mrs. Alfred D. Rice, chairman, is jubilant over the returns of the food sale conducted for the Newtonville Branch Library. The sale netted about seventy-eight dollars.

Fall Fete

Newton Centre Woman's Club, Inc., will hold a Fall Fete in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, Nov. 16-17, from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. Luncheon, dinner, afternoon tea, each day. Tables with all kinds of useful and fancy articles, food, candy, grabs, etc. Special overseas table for benefit of soldiers and run by them.

Wonderful Handicraft Shop. Bring your friends to luncheon. Dinner each night. Tea in beautiful Japanese Tea Garden. Dancing Friday night only, from 8 to 12. Come and buy your Christmas presents and help the women of Newton Centre furnish the beautiful new Club House nearly completed, which is such an addition to the square. It is hoped by the club members that it will become a Community Centre and be a joy to the whole village.

Community Service Club Bazaar

All of West Newton combined last week to make the bazaar of the Community Service Club a great success, both financially and socially. The Unitarian Church, where the sales tables were displayed, was converted into a veritable fall garden, each booth being decorated with a flower suggestive of the season or suited to the articles displayed. A novel feature was the book room, which was furnished with bookcases and library table after the manner of the home library, where purchasers could procure books of all sorts, both new and old.

At the second church of the dining room features were taken care of, luncheon being served on Wednesday and supper on Thursday. Music was to which Jesus refers in the scripture just quoted where he says:—

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

"That they may be one even as we are one."

As we know God aright, as we know and express in our thinking that Mind which is God, are we establishing that unity with God which Jesus said existed between him and his Father.

We all know, from our study of the Bible, that the only method employed by Jesus in accomplishing his works of healing and regeneration—his miracles—was prayer or communion with God. It was through prayer that he was enabled to walk the waves, feed the multitudes, heal the sick and raise the dead. Prayer is the process of right thinking and nothing else, so, if God be divine Mind, God can only be known or expressed through right thinking, or thinking good. Consequently, Jesus' process of prayer was a process of establishing his unity with God through thinking those thoughts which emanate from divine Mind. God being Mind and man's true relationship with God being established by knowing this Mind which is God, by thinking rightly, it can readily be seen that the true man, or man of God's creating, must be that man who has a complete and full comprehension of divine Mind. That is, he must be that man who knows nothing unlike that which is contained in the divine Mind. And from this we begin to understand a little of what it means in the first chapter of Genesis, where it says in depicting the true creation:—

"And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness; * * * So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him."

So man reflects the image of God in just the proportion that he reflects or understands divine Mind.

This concept of God, as Mind, completely eliminates any thought of the divine Being as an exaggerated personality, humanly circumscribed, seated on a throne off somewhere in the blue empyrean, and brings God and Heaven right down to us here and now. Spiritual thinking is right thinking and right thinking is prayer and prayer is knowing, or reflecting in thought, the divine Mind, where we establish our present, conscious unity with the Father. In thinking good are we reflecting God, and as we reflect God we take on His image and likeness, and taking on His image and likeness we, likewise, obtain that power over the carnal which so exemplified the life of the Master. In the first chapter of John, twelfth verse, it is written:—

"But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name."

indicating most clearly that this sonship with the Father—this unity with God—this reflection of God—His image and likeness—is achieved through a mental process entirely and depends exclusively on our individual ability to recognize God as Mind and to comprehend what this Mind is.

Matter a Manifestation of the Carnal Mind

Now, it would seem, on first blush, quite incredible that humanity, merely through a right mental process, through spiritual thinking, could overcome physical conditions and laws and overcome the manifestation, "in all its various forms, of evil or matter. Yet, that was what Jesus did, and that is what he always did in his three years with men. Mrs. Eddy's discovery, however, made through her search of the Scriptures and devout and unceasing prayer, has solved this problem for us and has explained most clearly how Jesus was able to overcome all the so-called laws of matter and how you and I, by demonstrating our conscious unity with the Father, as Christian Science teaches us how to do, are enabled to obey his command to follow his example. Mrs. Eddy's discovery, aside from revealing God to be divine Mind, includes, among other things, the further revelation that matter and the entire material, or physical, universe, with all its so-called laws and phenomena, including mortal or physical man, are but the objectifications, or externalizations, to mortal perception, of that which St. Paul has denominated, or named, "the carnal mind" in contra-distinction to that Mind which is God. She discovered, in other words, that matter is a false mental concept. So we have, on one hand the divine Mind, or God and His creation, which is the true, the real, the permanent; and on the other hand the carnal, or mortal, mind, and its manifestations which are unreal or temporal, because not of God. And when we have translated the material universe, including its sickness, its sin, and its death into a mistaken concept of the carnal mind we do not have far to go to perceive that the process of overcoming the real or spiritual—with God, or divine Mind—is purely mental.

If matter were real and substantial and anything but a mistaken mental concept Jesus never could have performed a single miracle and you and I would now be hopeless waifs and weary wanderers on an uncharted sea of stygian blackness and endless gloom. If matter were not a mental manifestation Jesus never could have turned the water into wine, walked the waves, instantaneously transported the ship across the Sea of Galilee, passed through closed doors, multiplied the loaves and fishes, healed the sick and raised the dead. Jesus said:—

"It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." And again:—

"I have overcome the world."

Heaven

Thus we find that Heaven instead of being a far off place or event, obtainable only through the experience of death, is here and now a present and immediate reality—a condition capable of present attainment. If God is Mind, as He must be, then the Kingdom of God, or Heaven, must be the Kingdom of Mind or a condition of Mind. Heaven then is a state of Mind or consciousness and that state of consciousness is obtainable right here and now in proportion as we substitute in our thinking the divine for the carnal. As we put off this carnal mind with its deeds—this mind of sin and sickness and sorrow and hate and lust and greed and selfishness—and in its place reflect that Mind of spiritual purity which is God, are we entering the Kingdom of Heaven. Jesus said:—

"The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand" not afar off. And you will recall that on one occasion Jesus was asked relative to the whereabouts of Heaven and when it should come and his reply was:—

"The Kingdom of God cometh not with observation. Lo here! or Lo there! for behold the Kingdom of God is within you."

So, entering the Kingdom of Heaven through the pathway of prayer, is not a process of overcoming matter with mind, it is the process, rather, of overcoming the carnal mind with divine Mind, or with God. We are eliminating, in other words, the creations of the carnal mind—"the world, the flesh and the devil"—with that Mind which was in Christ Jesus. We pray ourselves into the Kingdom of Heaven rather than enter Heaven through death's doorway. For did not St. Paul say:—

"For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" and also

"For this corruptible must be put on incorruption and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory" showing clearly that death and Heaven have nothing whatever in common and that death is a concomitant of corruption, rather than a stepping-stone to eternal bliss.

Prayer

The process of establishing one's unity with the Father—the process of knowing God aright—is a process of true prayer. It is only through prayer that the world will ever be saved from its sickness and its sin, from death and the grave. Prayer, my friends—true prayer—is a process of elimination and substitution rather than one of compulsion or power. Through prayer we eliminate from our consciousness all thoughts which are unlike God and in place thereof, we substitute those thoughts which emanate from God, or divine Mind. Through prayer we put from our thoughts of sickness and disease and in place thereof come to us thoughts of health; through prayer we put away thoughts of sin and evil and take in their stead thoughts of righteousness and purity; through prayer we eliminate from our consciousness those thoughts which make for poverty and lack and limitation and in place thereof are established those thoughts which make for abundance and freedom and peace. And just in proportion as we eliminate, through prayer, thoughts of sin and sickness and selfishness and hate and lack and we experience in our daily lives health, purity, peace, love, charity and abundance. True prayer is the process of thinking whereby we unite ourselves with the ever present God, or divine Mind, rather than a process of endeavoring to acquaint some distant deity with our trials and tribulations.

As we begin to work in Christian Science, as we begin to understand what true prayer is and how to pray as Jesus did, we begin, little by little, to displace in our thinking fear, anxiety, envy, malice, hatred, lust, revenge and the like, the procurers of all disease, and to realize instead confidence and assurance and meekness and love and * * * and charity and forgiveness and purity and sweetness. We begin to displace our concept of God's creation to be crassly material with the understanding that God's man and universe are pure and spiritual. We begin to break the fetters of creed and dogma and ritual and to emerge into the freedom of unity with the Christ. And as we progress in prayer and understanding of God, His law begins to manifest itself to us and through us, in proportion to our purification of consciousness, in better health, better morals, better living, better business, in more love for God and all mankind, in a more harmonious condition generally. We begin then to understand a little of what Jesus meant when he said:—

"If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, 'Remove hence to yonder place;' and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

We begin then to understand a little of how Jesus accomplished his wonderful works and to appreciate how far we have still to traverse—how much genuine purifying we have yet to attain before we can fully obey his command to "go and do likewise."

It is through prayer that we gain our atonement—our at-one-ment—with God, with divine Truth, with Life and with Love—whereby we could go with confidence to the bedside of the sick and bid them "arise and walk"; to the charnel house of the sinner and command the "evil spirit to come out of him," and to the tomb of the dead and bid those asleep in materiality to "come forth."

Mary Baker Eddy

Christian Science, my friends, is the outcome of the emanation of a life devoted to prayer. Mary Baker Eddy's love for God and for all mankind, her ceaseless devotion to right, her untiring and prayerful search of the Scriptures, her sublime compassion for poor humanity and her never ending desire to know God aright made it possible for her to give to the world, in 1866, the great discovery which she has denominated Christian Science. Christian Science is not an invention, nor is it what some have been pleased to call it—"one of the new religions." It reveals the law of God. Mrs. Eddy's discovery and her wonderful achievement in establishing a church for the perpetuation of this discovery are not the results of chance nor of circumstance. Christian Science is the fulfillment of prophecy and has come to us in due time and order in accord with God's directing. Mrs. Eddy never claimed to be anything but the discoverer and founder of this great truth but it will be a long time before the world will have begun to properly appreciate what she has done for mankind and what trials and vicissitudes were her lot in standing before the tremendous opposition to her first dispensing in the new tongue. This great discovery came to the world because the world was, in a measure, ready to receive it and it came through Mrs. Eddy because she was ready to understand it and to give it to a waiting humanity.

As we are told in the preface of Science and Health, with the charge placed upon Mrs. Eddy to plant the vineyard came also the charge to water and care for it, the charge to provide those means whereby this great discovery could be perpetuated to posterity. This charge Mrs. Eddy has faithfully fulfilled in the establishment of one of the greatest and grandest church organizations the world has ever seen—the Great Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, with its network of branch churches extending to nearly every part of the civilized world. No one individual in all history has ever accomplished what Mrs. Eddy accomplished in so brief a period and the fruits of her planting bear ample evidence of her fitness for the role of discoverer and founder of this great movement.

Nor did Mrs. Eddy give to the world this boon of great price until she had proven beyond cavil that it bore the stamp of divinity. Through the application of the Truth revealed to her through this discovery she was enabled to raise herself from an invalid's bed and to accomplish her complete and instantaneous recovery from the effects of an accident the physicians had pronounced fatal. Following her own healing she spent several years in her search of the Scriptures and in healing others of all manner of diseases to be able to give to you and to me what is today found in Christian Science. It was nearly ten years after her own healing through this discovery before she published her first edition of the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." This appeared in 1875. Since that time this book and other writings of Mrs. Eddy on the subject of Christian Science have been read and studied by millions and her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," has experienced a sale among religious books exceeded only by the Bible. In fact, the book Science and Health has stimulated a demand for the Bible which is unprecedented and today, as a consequence of Christian Science, instead of being a book of neglect, the Bible has become the chart of life to thousands upon thousands to whom it has heretofore been closed.

The Brotherhood of Man

In the work of establishing our sonship with God we are bringing to light the true concept of the brotherhood of man and in the right understanding of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man lies the salvation of humanity. National, racial, class and family characteristics, distinctions, differences and tendencies lie in the carnal mind alone and when each one of us shall have established his individual unity with the divine Mind, or God—when, in the language of St. Paul:—

"we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ"

then, indeed, will there be "neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, neither barbarian, bond nor free, but Christ is all, and in all."

Christian Science, through its simple message of Love, is tearing from religion the masks of cold conventionalism, conservatism, pride, superstition and formalism impelled by man made creeds and dogmatic ritualism and in place thereof is planting the seeds of kindness and love and confidence and trust and hope resultant from a knowledge of the true God and His Christ. It is bringing God and Heaven down to earth—down to you and to me, here and now. It is planting love where fear and hate were wont to dwell; health where once was sickness; plenty where poverty and want have stalked and joy and happiness where sorrow and sin had their abiding place. It is bringing to a suffering world a new and pure humanity, and in this new humanity we find the secret of Jesus' life mission. The burden of his whole career was to inculcate in mortal consciousness a pure humanitarianism. In First John we read, "God is love, and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God and God in him" and Jesus taught that to know and understand God to be Love itself rather than some loving personality, we must first learn to love our brother man aright. Human tenderness and love and compassion and forgiveness and long-suffering base the teachings and the miracles of the holy Nazarene and unless we find our path to the crown-topped cross over the causeway of charity and love and gentleness and sweetness we have missed the lesson of Jesus' great sacrifice.

Jesus' teachings admit of no cold conventionalism, no austere disinterestedness in the woes of our brother man, no arrogance and no pride. Jesus brought his understanding of divine Love right down to earth and in his charity for those who would persecute him, his patience with the dull stolidity of his followers, his forgiveness of his enemies and his tenderness he showed the way for all mankind. Out of the agonies of his crucifixion was born his compassionate appeal, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

In the religion of Jesus Christ there is no hate, no envy, no jealousy, malice nor revenge. There is no abiding place for selfishness but love, and we bring into our experience thoughts of love and forgiveness and charity for all mankind are we hastening the full comprehension of the right concept of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. In Science and Health, page 476, Mrs. Eddy has written:—

"Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

And so, only as we see our brother man in the light of divine Science, as a true, pure, upright child of God—are we establishing our unity with the Father and healing the world of its sickness and its sin. Only as we endeavor mankind with our love and tenderness and patience and compassion do we become heirs of that Love which is God. Hate and greed and envy and malice and selfishness and jealousy and the like have no part in the divine Mind and just in the proportion that we allow these thoughts an abiding place in our mental household are we separating ourselves from God and those blessings He has vouchsafed every one of us.

Sickness, my friend—disease by whatever name—is but the physical by-product of sin and grief and fear and hate and sensuality and superstition and false theology, and if we would heal the world of its bodily ills we must first correct its mental maladies.

To gain the height of spiritual perception where we can discern God to be Love and Love to be His image and likeness we must climb the steep of human charity and love is portrayed in the meeting of the Master with the Magdalene at the home of Simon! What a lesson therein for all of us! Here was a woman, come in the fear of her shame, in the meekness and agony of humble contrition and repentance, to seek the Christ. The conventions of the world, with its self righteousness and hypocrisy would have driven her hence. But not so Jesus. His tender kindness, his forgiveness and his love, led her away from herself and the world and up to God and she was healed and Mary Magdalene, this woman whom the world today would shun, was last at the cross of his crucifixion and first at the tomb of his resurrection.

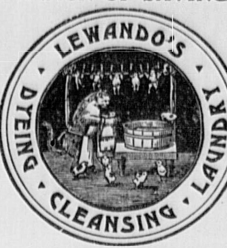

And then when they brought to him the other woman in the very presence of the temple at Jerusalem and accusing her before him said, "Moses in the law commanded that thou should be stoned; but what sayest thou?" Jesus then and there met and rebuked forever the self righteousness and the hypocrisy of all mankind throughout all time in his masterful reply: "I that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." And his tender "neither do I condemn thee; go, and sin no more," will stand throughout the ages as a beacon light to the unfortunate, the world-weary and the disconsolate to guide them into that harbor of Love where condemnation and scorn have no abiding haven and "where," as Mrs. Eddy has put it in Science and Health, "Love is priestess at the altar of Truth."

Can you and I then, afford to withhold from the world's sick, its sinning, its down-trodden and unfortunate, that love and tenderness and forgiveness bestowed on such by the Master? Can we afford to let the little foxes of suspicion and condemnation and envy and jealousy and hate and criticism and pride and self-righteousness steal from us our God-bestowed unity with the Father? When we are tempted to judge or condemn, to find fault or to criticize, to hate or to envy, let us put our finger on our lips and to consider how much of good, how much of joy and peace and happiness and hope and comfort one little thoughtful deed, one tender word, one kind and compassionate look may mean to some weary one.

In Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, in closing that wonderful picture she has drawn of the meeting of Jesus with the Magdalene, Mrs. Eddy has written:—

"If we would open their prison doors for the sick, we must first learn to bind up the broken-hearted. If we would heal by the Spirit, we must not hide the talent of spiritual healing under the napkin of its form nor bury the morale of Christian Science in the grave clothes of its letter. The tender word and Christian encouragement of an invalid, pitiful patience with his fears and the removal of them are better than hecatombs of gushing theories, stereotyped, borrowed speeches, and the doling of arguments, which are but so many parodies on legitimate Christian Science, aflame with divine Love."

When, my friends, through love and tenderness and compassion, you have touched the human heart-strings to rhapsodies of repentance and contrition and meekness and an earnest, honest longing for the holy things of God you have opened the gates of Heaven for some one.

"Then, brother man, fold to thy heart, thy brother!"

To worship rightly is to love each other;

furnished by pupils from the West Newton Music School, who were in Italian costume, as were the waitresses.

Players Hall lent itself conveniently for the children's features. The small hall became a circus tent where everything appealing to children was displayed, while in the large hall the operetta drew an audience that packed the house on Thursday afternoon.

Were one to attempt to give the names of the women serving upon committees it would require the space of a directory, for it embraced the whole West Newton. Mrs. F. S. Sawyer was general chairman, Mrs. J. P. Holmes responsible for the lovely decorations and Mrs. W. S. Redfield for the children's part.

The club is well satisfied with the results and grateful to all those who helped in any way. It will be some time yet before the actual financial side can be reported.

Newton Federation

A meeting of unusual interest and profit was that of the Newton Federation held by invitation of the Auburndale Woman's Club in the Congregational church at Auburndale on Tuesday afternoon of this week. The new venture, that of having a local club act as hostess, proved a happy one bringing out a large number of women from over the city. After the greeting by the hostess president, Mrs. W. D. Gilpatrick, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, the new Federation president took the chair. A resolution favoring the original plan for zoning the city was passed and copies will be sent the aldermen and the Mayor. Mrs. William H. White of Wellesley Hills, State Federation director for the district of which Newton is a part, was a special guest and brought greetings from the Federation. Mrs. White emphasized the Mothercraft work and invited all present to attend the Mothercraft conference, which will be held at the Exeter Theatre on December 5th. She also told of the plan of the Federation to furnish the reception room in the Washington headquarters in honor of Julia Ward Howe, and suggested that contributions would be acceptable.

Turning to the program for the afternoon which was a symposium on education, the audience listened to three exceedingly fine addresses on various phases of "Education as a Means of Solving Present-Day Problems."

Dr. Payson Smith, State Commissioner of Education, signs of encouragement in the fact that Bolshevism is set out to provide universal education, and that Mexico is also organizing a system of universal education. In this country we have a passion for education, but we have relied too much upon the institutions. We need to find out our own responsibility in the matter; the public school needs to study its responsibility, and the home needs to study its responsibility, and even the church to do likewise.

For solving present-day problems we need the great majority of minds trained to the limit of the capacity of each, we need prolonged educational opportunity for more of the people. The educated man is the full grown man. We must release the accumulated stores of wisdom and experience and pass them on for succeeding generations to use. We must keep alive the desire to know, arouse the spirit of curiosity and inquisitiveness.

Modern education pays too little attention to the fact that we need a great deal of independent thinking.

Following the elementary and secondary schools is needed collegiate training and added to that a technical training. Sometimes it is said we are educating too many people, but from a recent visit in the West Dr. Smith found the sentiment there for educating more people and educating them more. The trouble has been not in the quality of the brain, but rather in the quality of the motive of the individual. It is the lack of motive that is causing the trouble. There must be a motivation of education, a definite goal or objective, and there must be an adjustment of the educational system, so that it may function as it ought.

Mr. Francis L. Bacon, the new principal of the classical high school, received a cordial welcome from mothers and friends of his pupils, and all were most favorably impressed with his personality, as one who will be a safe and successful leader of the youth of the city. Mr. Bacon discussed the question, Who shall go to college? He feels that something must be done in New England whereby it may be possible for an increasing number to go. The privately endowed institutions, for which New England is justly famous, are so over crowded that they are more and more selecting their students from the most promising ones, and continually raising their standards so that it is getting well nigh impossible for the average boy or girl to enter. The only way out Mr. Bacon feels is for the State to step in as they have done in the West. The kind of education will probably be of a somewhat different form, but never the less of collegiate standard.

Miss Margaret McGill, of the History department of the high school, spoke of the need for deans in the high schools, and told of the various functions which they perform in different schools, which facts she had gathered from a survey of the situation. In some instances they look after the social life, in others after the dress of the girls, act as advisers, look after the health and check up absences. For Newton some sort of a composite may be needed, for there seems to be felt that something is lacking which the schools are not able to give. A dean would help to solve but not actually solve the problems. But she warned, Do not think that the dean will take more responsibility from the home. She will not take it from the home and let you go scot free. The discussion which followed was full of interest.

Mrs. Clara Lieber Harper rendered a group of songs in a most delightful manner giving a great deal of pleasure to the audience.

After the addresses the company adjourned to the room below where the social committee provided generously for their guests.

Mrs. W. C. Boyden, Mrs. H. E. Child, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow and Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell presided over the tea table.

RAINBOW BAZAAR

Unique and Successful Affair at the Union Church in Waban

Wednesday the Waban Neighborhood Club was transformed into a bower of beauty by the ladies of Union Church for their annual bazaar. From the ceiling hung streamers of blue and yellow, while each booth was decorated in a color of the rainbow.

An attractive arbor led to the Parrot Tea Room where all sorts of delicious foods were served.

On a raised platform in one corner of the room was a most attractively arranged Flower Shop. Gold fish gleaming in the light, birds singing in their gilded cages, and vases of many colors added to the dark green of the foliage and the bright hues of the blossoming plants made a pleasing picture.

Another striking booth was the black and white booth where lamps and candles with fascinating shades were for sale, and where one could have his portrait done in black and white.

Near the entrance was a White Elephant table where articles of all kinds and description were displayed.

Other booths were as follows: Red Booth where groceries were to be found; Orange Booth, where candy was sold; Yellow Booth, of general utility; Green Booth for stationery, Christmas cards, etc.; Blue Booth, especially for the children; Violet Booth with foods for Thanksgiving. The Rainbow Grab Bag was gaily decorated with balloons of every color of the rainbow.

During the afternoon the children enjoyed an entertainment under the direction of Mrs. William F. Lamont which included stories and recitations by Mrs. Florence A. McAuliffe.

In the evening, under the direction of Miss Grace Miller, the beautiful comedy, "The Florist Shop" was very well done, the parts being taken by Mrs. Caroline E. Hovey, Mr. William L. North, Dr. H. L. Andrews, Miss Grace E. Miller, Mr. E. Payson Upham, Jr.

The committees in charge of the Bazaar follow: Chairman of the General Committee, Mrs. Eugene Bissell; Treasurer, Mrs. John E. Denham; Decorating Committee, Mrs. Fred Allen and Mr. James McDaid.

The Red Booth, Hard Nuts: Messrs. Arnold, Allen, Bissell, Emmett, Fisher, Fyfe, McLeellan, North, Shiland, "Bouncer," Buck.

The Green Booth: Chairman, Mrs. E. J. Shiland, Mrs. Rutherford O. Ainslie, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, Mrs. Russell Burnett, Mrs. James R. Chandler, Mrs. Leonard M. Cotton, Mrs. James R. Emmett, Mrs. A. H. Houghton, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. Raymond Wells, Mrs. Bruce Wymann. The Yellow Booth: Chairman, Mrs. Wellington Rindge, Mrs. C. W. Brooks, Mrs. Rufus Cushman, Jr., Mrs. James D. Dow, Mrs. E. J. Morse, Stanley E. Newton, Mrs. T. W. Pelham, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Tougas.

The Blue Booth: Chairman, Mrs. Charles R. Dodge, Mrs. H. W. Cheney, Mrs. John T. Croghan, Mrs. Robert J. Hamilton, Mrs. Hector M. Holmes, Mrs. John A. Moir, Mrs. Donald Robbins, Mrs. Henry W. Robbins, Mrs. Philip S. Sweetser, Mrs. Philip L. Warren, Mrs. W. M. White.

The Violet Booth: Chairman, Mrs. Clifford H. Walker, Mrs. Samuel Douglas, Mrs. Albert T. Gould, Mrs. Charles H. Hovey, Mrs. David T. Keever, Mrs. Edward W. King, Mrs. Alexander L. Stephen.

The Candy Booth: Chairman, Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, Mrs. Chester W. Banton, Mrs. R. H. Hovey, Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, Mrs. A. P. Newman, Mrs. Oscar R. Rice, Mrs. A. B. Seeley.

Rainbow Grabs and White Elephants: Chairman, Mrs. Harry N. Matthews, Mrs. Sanford Bates, Miss Jessie Gould, Mrs. Harry H. Ham, Mrs. Dana B. Jefferson, Mrs. Nathaniel Kinsman, Mrs. Lowell A. Mayberry, Mrs. Guy B. McKinney, Mrs. Howard M. North.

The Black and White Booth: Chairman, Mrs. John E. Denham, Mrs. Elizabeth Bond, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, Mrs. Robert J. M. Fyfe, Mrs. William F. Lamont, Miss Henrietta Lockwood, Miss Gertrude Lockwood, Miss Mattie Mazzur, Mrs. George Reynolds, Mrs. Raymond Wells.

Tea Room: Chairman, Mrs. S. H. Wiley, Mrs. Harrison W. Annable, Mrs. Austin G. Bourne, Mrs. Effie D. Clarke, Mrs. John C. Codman, Mrs. Allen and Mr. James McDaid.

ALDERMEN MEET

While the reason for the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night, was to declare the result of the recent state election in this city, the principal matters of interest were the veto of Mayor Childs of the recent zoning ordinance and a public hearing which was given on the recommendation of the Mayor that land owned by Mr. W. H. Mague of Lexington street, and used for the past thirty years or more for a transfer point for the garbage of the city, should be taken for municipal purposes.

While the Mayor did not specifically say that the taking of this land was preliminary to action on the part of the city of collecting garbage by its own teams and not by contract, those interested took that position and entered strong opposition to the plan. The speakers were John J. Keith, Martin M. Witmyer, Wm. H. Mague and Harold W. Knowlton, the last speaker representing the Auburndale Improvement Society.

There were also hearings on petitions of the M. & B. St. Rwy. Co. for pole location on Centre street and of the Edison Co. for locations on Washington street.

When the Mayor's veto was read there were two members absent, Aldermen Hickey and Grebenstein both known as supporters of the Mayor. Alderman White therefore took the floor and spoke in favor of sustaining the veto, while a hurry up call was sent for Alderman Hickey who was presiding that night at the annual banquet of the Newton Catholic Club. Mr. White stopped abruptly when Alderman Hickey appeared and was ready for an immediate vote. On motion of Alderman Phipps, however, the whole matter was postponed until the next meeting. The veto will be found in full in another column.

Petitions of T. F. Temple, 231 Washington street, H. L. Torre, 993 Boylston street, and E. L. Batchelder, 325 Walnut street, for victualler licenses, and of John Morgan, Kimball terrace, A. E. Merrill, Crafts street, J. H. Nagle, Bowdoin street, John Hammond, Glen avenue, and E. M. Perry, Broadway, for private garages were granted.

These jurors were drawn for service in the Superior court at Cambridge, Charles L. Smith, Lake avenue, James B. Hughes, Washburn street, I. S. Dillingham, Jr., Church street, and Samuel Fisher, Butts street.

The Mayor recommended several appropriations and submitted requests from Headmaster I. O. Palmer of the Technical High school for regulation of traffic during certain hours on Elm road and Walnut street, and from Joseph Congdon offering $810 for land owned by the city on Winslow road.

The result of the state election was declared in proper form after a report had been received from the Registrars of Voters announcing the

NEWTON Y. M. C. A.

$1,427 was reported in initial gifts at the opening Banquet of the Young Women's Christian Association on Monday night. This amount acted as a great spur to the already enthusiastic group of 117 workers and friends of the Association who sat down to supper at six o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, President of the Board of Directors, introduced Mrs. Fred Loveland, Chairman of the Campaign Committee, who then presided. During the course of the meal there was enthusiastic group singing by everyone present, led by Mrs. Henry Colton of Brighton.

Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., was the speaker of the evening and made the point that a 24 hour day for the average person is divided into approximately three parts, one part for education or work, one part for sleep, and one part for recreation; and a need for the last named part is being filled by the Young Women's Christian Association, the Y. M. C. A., and other similar organizations which are supplying wholesome and healthful recreation. Several other people present were then called upon to speak, among them Mayor Childs who spoke about the development of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Doris Badger, the General Secretary, who spoke a word about the work of the local Association, and Miss Lucile Rader from the Finance Department of the National Association, who is in Newton directing the campaign.

result of the recount on the vote for United States senator. The report showed that Cook, with 62 had lost 7 votes, Gaston, with 4730 had lost 7 votes, Lodge, with 9243 had lost 5 votes, Nichols, with 682 had gained 20 votes, Sherman, with 46 had lost 7 votes and Weeks, with 55 had gained 11 votes.

COMMUNITY MEETING

More than two hundred residents of Newton Highlands gathered in Lincoln Hall on Friday evening, November 10th, for a "Community Meeting" under the auspices of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association. In opening the meeting, Mr. William F. Coan, President of the Association, stated that the new Board was desirous of making the Association fully representative of the whole community, and urged all residents to join. The membership at present is 349, almost double that of previous years; there should be and the aim is to have an enrollment of at least 1000.

Mr. Thatcher Nelson, Chairman of the Sports Committee, reported on the progress of his Committee, and the audience received a definite impression that the out-door activities of the community could not be in better hands.

A large part of the evening was given over to a free discussion of a War Memorial, following a full report by Mr. E. C. Lewis, Chairman of the War Memorial Committee appointed by the Executive Board of the Association in September, 1921. Mr. Lewis stated that contributions and pledges in hand amount to about $1300, and the question was whether Newton Highlands wished to try to raise the $5000 which the approved flag staff design would cost.

A lively discussion followed for almost two hours. It was finally voted that "It is the sense of this meeting that a War Memorial be erected; that the committee be instructed to pursue with all vigor the raising of $5000 for the purpose and report on their success at a future meeting to be called by the Chairman; and that the selection of a design still be considered open." It was also voted that "It is the sense of this meeting that the acting Secretary notify the Presidents of the various organizations which have representatives on the War Memorial Committee that the previous motion was passed and that they give it weight and act accordingly."

In regard to the matter of Zoning for the City of Newton, the meeting took the following action: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Hard at Work on Many Important Matters Including Lower Insurance Rates

The Newton Chamber of Commerce will hold the first meeting of the present season at Temple Hall, in the Mesonic Building, Newtonville, on Thursday evening, November 23. The guests and speakers of the Chamber on this occasion will be George E. McElwin of the Babson Organization at Wellesley, and William A. Clark of Boston, President of the New England Coal Dealers' Association and of the Boston Coal Exchange. As has been the custom in past seasons a dinner will be served at seven o'clock, with the meeting to follow.

The Chamber has been fortunate in securing two excellent speakers for this occasion. Mr. McElwin is especially well qualified to give talks of more than ordinary interest to business men and, as an after dinner speaker, is one of the most popular of the many associated with the Babson organization. Mr. Clark is probably better informed as to the coal situation than any other person in New England and will give timely and up to the minute information as to present conditions and methods to be followed in meeting the threatened fuel crisis during the coming winter. Following his address Mr. Clark will answer questions and discuss informally any special phases of the fuel situation in which members of the Chamber may be especially interested.

With a greatly increased membership and the Chamber looking to an active and busy season, with various new activities to be developed as a part of its season's program, the members generally are looking forward to the opening meeting with much interest and anticipation. Interesting reports will be presented, as to activities already being developed and the plans for the future. Notices of the meeting, with further details and return cards for dinner reservations will reach all members in ample season and a large attendance at the opening meeting is anticipated.

The membership of the Chamber is steadily increasing and passed the thousand mark on Friday of last week. The present total is 1020 and indications are this will be increased to eleven hundred or more before the end of the year. The present membership effort, which has increased the membership from three hundred to more than a thousand in the past seven months, will be continued until the total reaches two thousand or more. It is the desire of the board of directors to make the Chamber truly representative of all sections of the city and to develop a standing and influence that can be applied in many ways to the benefit of the city and make real progress in working out problems of the All-Newton type. Waban continues to lead the villages in the total number of members, having one hundred and ninety-four. Newton is next in line with one hundred and eighty-six, while Newtonville and Newton Centre are not far behind. Material increases have also been made during the past two weeks in the West Newton and Chestnut Hill lists.

A special Chamber of Commerce committee, including James W. French, President Arthur W. Hollis of the Board of Aldermen, and the secretary of the Chamber, held an extended conference last week with General Manager Edward Dana of the Boston Elevated system with a view of securing changes and improvements in the Elevated service on the Newton-Watertown line. New equipment recently ordered by the Elevated includes only cars for the so-called "feeder" lines and cannot be used on the main lines. While it is impossible to put new cars on the Newton-Watertown line, various suggestions were made to Mr. Dana and the entire situation discussed from varying angles. As a result of the conference officials and employees of the Elevated are checking up the service on this line during the present week, beginning on Monday morning and continuing until Saturday night, with a view of ascertaining every possible chance or opportunity to improve the service and make it more dependable and satisfactory to patrons. A special study of conditions will be made from the reports turned in, especially as applying to conditions during the rush hour periods, and further conferences will be held as necessary to take advantage of the opportunities revealed as promising improvement. While no radical changes can be made it is felt that many minor changes can be worked out which will, in the aggregate, affect the service to the advantage of the Newton residents who patronize this line.

FIREMAN HURT

A still alarm at 9 o'clock Monday morning brought the Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill fire apparatus to the home of John Whitney, 29 Rice street, Newton Centre. When the apparatus arrived a blaze was found on the roof, caused by sparks from the chimney, and Box 714 was sounded, summoning the rest of the South side apparatus.

One of the firemen appointed on November 6, Joseph Fitzgerald of Elliott street, Newton Upper Falls, while descending from a ladder on the roof to a ladder against the side of the house, slipped and fell 30 feet to the ground, sustaining a broken arm. He was removed to the Newton Hospital. Fitzgerald is a member of the crew of Ladder 2, Newton Highlands. The damage to the house was estimated at $400.

DEATH OF MR. MURRAY

Mr. Patrick A. Murray, one of the best known business men of this city, died Tuesday night at the home of his daughter in Brookline, following an illness of about a week with pneumonia. Mr. Murray went home on the night of election day slightly ill and, his condition becoming worse, was taken to the home of his daughter, Dr. Sarah Jordan, that she might give him her personal attention.

Mr. Murray was born in Ireland in 1849 and came to Newton when a lad of 13. As a young man he started in business in Newton painting and repairing carriages and soon began to manufacture carriages, earning a well-merited reputation throughout the state for his work. In later years, he manufactured and repaired automobile bodies.

He took a deep interest in public affairs and had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who always spoke of him as "P. A." And that cognomen well illustrated the feeling which he always engendered by his genial personality.

He was a member of several fraternal organizations and was deeply interested in the Newton Lodge of Elks.

Mr. Murray is survived by his widow and seven children, Joseph J. Murray, Paul A. Murray, Peter Stuart Murray and Mrs. E. C. Clark, all of Newton; Dr. Sarah Jordan of Brookline, Mrs. R. H. Montgomery of Cambridge, and Mrs. Stephen C. Noland of Indianapolis.

Funeral services are being held this morning at the Church of Our Lady.

NEW DEVELOPMENT

The Edward T. Harrington Co., of Boston has undertaken the development and sale of one of the most desirable tracts of building land in Newton Centre. It consists of 85 lots, situated on Jackson and Parker streets, while it is traversed by Ridge avenue, Glenwood avenue, Loud avenue, Walter and Daniel streets. It is located between the Boston-Worcester car line, Boylston street and Newton Centre on an elevation which commands a wonderful panoramic view of the country to the southwest for many miles. The land is so situated as to afford a splendid opportunity for one of the most beautiful developments by taking advantage of the natural beauty thereby preserving the unsurpassed landscape effects. Those who have visited the land have been loud in praise of the general situation. Streets are now in process of being built. It will include sewer and water service. It will be the aim of the company to develop this property on high grade lines and to sell to those who will add to the material welfare of the city. It intends to establish a community of high grade homes and to attract those who will add not only taxable values but a citizenship of the highest type. The Edward T. Harrington Co., needs no introduction to real estate buyers. It has been engaged in the real estate business for over half a century. It is recognized as one of the most successful land developers in this section and has well earned the title of Clearing House for high grade building land. The officers of the Company are enthusiastic over the prospects and are strong in their belief that this development will be one of which Newton will be proud.

Grade III:—Lillette Argento, Phyllis Burnell, Doris Goodnough, Gertrude McDonald, Eleanor McNeil, Ruth Trowbridge, William Fennelly, Richard Howard, Robert Jonah, William Shea.

The following pupils of the second grade, Horace Mann School have not been absent nor tardy this year: Ruth Crammer, Jeannette Hennessey, Mary St. Germaine, Paul Buck, Charles Quinn, John Shea, George Taylor, Warren Tomlinson, Stuart Wild and Roger Stearns.

Grade I:—Miss Nell's room; Marie Doucette, Virginia Lamb, Rosalie Noden, Gertrude Wellington, Ruth Wentworth, Donald Berry, John Crammer, Thomas Cranmer, William Herlihy, Donald Whitney.

Mason School

Class meetings of the graduating class are soon to begin. As a preliminary, the following officers were chosen: Maurice Whittinghill, president; David Scott, vice-president; Barbara Hills, secretary; and Brandon Marsh, treasurer.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The average attendance for the entire school including the kindergarten for the four weeks ending Nov. 3 was 94.9 per cent. These classes stood 98 or over: Miss Sullivan's with 98, Miss Jones's with 98.4, and Miss Horgan's with 98.4. The classes of Miss Sullivan and Miss Kelly have had no pupils late so far this year.

Miss Horgan's class has set a new high mark in this school. The class has been 100 per cent in attendance for two weeks in succession.

The school football team won a game from the Hyde team on Tuesday afternoon on the Upper Falls playground by a score of 50 to 0.

Miss Dow's seventh grade pupils are sending this week 45 letters to Melbourne, Australia, to pupils of the same grade. Interest in this new undertaking has been great. Replies to these letters from the school children in that far-away city will be awaited with pleasant and keen anticipation.

The Current Events Clubs are having interesting weekly meetings in Miss Lewis' room. Thomas McDaniels is president and Marion Shaughnessy and Melvin Chambers are vice presidents.

The graduating class had a practical lesson in citizenship by visiting on election day the voting place for this precinct. The officers in charge showed every possible courtesy making explanations and answering questions. On the following Monday the regular class election was held in the same place following the same procedure as was witnessed by the class members in the state election. These officers were chosen by blanket ballot: President, Florence Ingham; vice president, Ellen Kenefick; secretary, Newton Hanscom; treasurer, John Sullivan.

Stearns School

The Newton Girls' Club entertained at the Sailor's Haven, Charlestown, on Thursday evening, Nov. 16. Miss Myrtle Weldon, assisted by Miss Lillian Swartz and Miss Gertrude Perry, conducted a one-act vaudeville minstrel with songs and dances as special features. About forty girls participated in this performance.

This is the third entertainment given by the Club at The Sailor's Haven and it is the wish of the management that the club come more frequently to exhibit its talent and ability among sailors who are detained in port and who need recreation and entertainment. After the play, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

At the round table meeting of the Club on Tuesday, Nov. 21, Mrs. Gilson will speak on "Current Events." Mrs. Gilson has recently returned from abroad and is thoroughly familiar with the Near East Relief problems. The Mothers' Club conducted a very successful whist party on Monday evening, Nov. 13th, at Stearns School Centre. Mrs. William Cyr and Mrs. Porter were in charge of the arrangements.

The sixth grades are having only afternoon sessions this week, 12.30 to 4.00 o'clock, in order to make room for the Junior High classes.

The Boy Scouts under Mr. Sharratt met Wednesday afternoon in the Stearns School Hall. Ten of the scouts are to have a test in an attempt to pass out of the tenderfoot class.

The Stearns football team defeated the Mason school with an immense score of 71 to 0.

Miss Sara Schlechter, social worker for the Stearns School Centre, has returned for her many duties after a brief illness.

Hyde School

There seems to be an increased interest in saving money, among the pupils. Trips to the automatic revolving tellers are more frequent and the number of bank books is growing.

A Thanksgiving entertainment is being prepared by the sixth grade teachers, Miss Abbott and Miss Tabor. Class pins have been ordered, and the graduating class is awaiting their arrival with great expectancy.

Miss Ryder's fifth grade has had but one tardy mark this year. That is a record of which they are justly proud.

They have divided the class into six clubs, which take turns on Friday afternoon in providing an entertainment. The program is planned entirely by the children and lasts one half-hour.

Miss Batchelder of Framingham Normal School, is assisting in the primary grades.

The children of "Hyde IV" (Miss Sampson's class) have what they call a museum. They have carefully printed by hand the labels which explain each article.

Miss Lewis's first graders are very proud of the fact that they have no "reds" this month.

POLICE BALL

Plans for the eighth grand ball of the Newton Police Benefit Association, Inc., have been completed and the ball will be held tonight at the West Newton Armory. The committee of arrangements is as follows: Sergt. Edward Desmond, chairman; Henry F. Tibbets, secretary; Inspector John H. Shaughnessy, treasurer; Sergt. Thomas Leehan, John T. Roche, Raymond W. Taffe and Clement L. Barry. Acting Chief Capt. Bernard F. Burke will be floor marshal. Sergt. Desmond will be the floor director and the other members of the committee will assist him. The aids are John R. Forstall, Daniel E. Crowley, George J. Kilmain, Richard J. Clancy, Thomas M. Cummings, Thomas J. Burke, Martin T. Stanton, Lawrence J. Dungan, Francis X. Mahoney, Patrick J. ### FAVOR ZONING ORDINANCE

On Friday evening, November 3rd, the Civic Group of the Central Council of Social Activities of Newton, met at the Red Cross House at Newtonville. There were present the representatives from the various Improvement Associations throughout Newton, the Men's Club of West Newton, the Legion and the Chamber of Commerce.

After a general discussion covering the proposed Zoning Ordinance for the City of Newton, its desirability and the various interests to be covered by such an Ordinance, it was proposed that the representatives of the various associations call the executive committees of their various associations together at once, to pass on a resolution to be addressed to the Mayor and each of the Board of Aldermen. The form of resolution was proposed by one of the members and it was then voted unanimously as follows:

"Resolved: That the Executive Committee of the Association are unanimously in favor of the original Zoning Ordinance as recommended by the Joint Committee on Zoning and Claims and Rules and that the Secretary of the Association forward a copy of this Resolution forthwith to his Honor, the Mayor and to each of the Board of Aldermen."

NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Inspectors from the New England Insurance Exchange were in Newton for several days last week making a complete reinspection of conditions throughout the city as to the present efficiency of the Newton Fire department, of the water system, present fire hazards, and of all other things of interest to those whose duty it is to establish fire insurance rates in Newton. That the report of the reinspection will indicate favorable conditions entitling Newton to some reduction in rates already seems assured, although the chief objective of the inspection was to ascertain the few things that Newton must do to entitle the city to rating among the Class A cities of the state. Newton is very near to being in this class, which includes only five cities at the present time, Worcester, Springfield, Holyoke, New Bedford, and Brookline. It is the hope of the Insurance Committee of the Chamber that ways may be found in the comparatively near future to overcome Newton's few deficiencies and that conditions may be systematically improved until such a time as all requirements of the so-called Class A cities may be met. If this can be brought about the immediate result will be a general and substantial reduction in fire insurance rates on all insurable property in the city.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

William Hylands, arrested for drunkenness in Newton Sunday, and who attempted to hang himself in his cell, was arraigned in the Newton court Monday, and a suspended sentence was invoked, sending him to the House of Correction for fifteen days. Sunday afternoon Hylands locked Robert Ganley in the barber shop at Newton Corner where Hylands is employed. Ganley made so much noise that a policeman finally released and arrested him and then sought Hylands, who also was locked up. The house officer soon after found Hylands hanging from the door of his cell unconscious.

that it favors the original Zoning Ordinances for the City of Newton as recommended by the Joint Committee on Zoning and Claims and Rules (including specifically the creation of a single family dwelling district), and that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded forthwith to His Honor, the Mayor and to each member of the Board of Aldermen.

Other action taken was a request to the Executive Board of the Association that it take up with the Newton Centre and Waban Improvement Associations the question of train service on the Boston and Albany line to ascertain if more express trains could be added to the schedule.

The keen interest manifested in local affairs by those present indicated that meetings of this character have a real value, and generally expressed opinion was that others be held at which free and frank discussion on timely topics might take place.

EDITORIAL

While the first reaction on the result of the recent election might well be expressed by the quotation "Massachusetts—there she stands"—disgraced—with particular respect to the vote given Senator Lodge, a more careful survey of the country wide Democratic upheaval, leads to the conclusion that all things considered, Massachusetts Republicans may well congratulate themselves that the result was no worse. The party suffers only the loss of one member of Congress and has lost a few members of the Legislature, but has otherwise elected its entire national and state ticket. The margin, of course, is "not as deep as a well nor as wide as a church door" but it is sufficient to elect its candidates and to control the state and national government.

Newton stood by the party candidates fairly well giving all of their substantial majorities with the exception of the district attorney and even here Mr. Reading had a good margin over his Democratic opponent. Mr. Reilly's vote in Newton was evidently due to the support given him by Mr. E. P. Saltonstall, the present district attorney and, incidentally, indicates that Mr. Saltonstall has political possibilities in the future.

Newton's vote on the referendum relating to moving pictures was somewhat of a surprise as censorship has been warmly supported by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and by the churches for over a year. The returns indicate that some of the ladies evidently exercised their feminine privilege and changed their minds.

The vote on the liquor referendum was not unexpected as Newton has always been strong on the temperance question.

In view of the continued orations by Alderman White that the proposed zoning ordinance is unconstitutional, it may be of interest to refer to the opinion of the Supreme court of this Commonwealth on the constitutionality of the law under which our city government has drafted the ordinance under consideration. The matter was submitted to the Supreme court by the Legislature of 1920, and the court rendered a long opinion concluding with the statement that the pending act was constitutional both under state and national law. In that opinion the court said to the point now most in controversy at City Hall, "the terms of section 1 of the proposed act authorize great freedom of action to the several cities and towns both for the establishment of parts for the exclusive use of named industries and in regard to the kinds of construction be permitted." The court then notes other phases of the act and continues with these words "All this, however, is clearly within the purview of Amendment LX." The words "kinds of construction to be permitted" clearly indicate that a distinction can be made between single and two-family houses. Of course Alderman White and Mayor Childs may be more profound lawyers than the justices of our Supreme court but we still have faith in that Court, particularly as it is the tribunal which will ultimately pass on the constitutionality of zoning ordinances adopted under article LX of the constitution.

We commented a few weeks ago on the rather high-handed manner in which the city fathers had acted in regard to the proposed new Underwood school and new facts which have been brought to our attention seem to justify further criticism. Apparently, in their haste to build the new school building, but little if any attention was paid to the feasibility of other sites than that now occupied by the school. We have heard one suggestion that the school be located on land opposite or nearly opposite the present Bigelow school on Park street and later have heard of an excellent site on the Rawson estate on Vernon and Park streets. The latter is assessed for $27,000, practically what it is proposed to pay for land damages to enlarge the present site and will have over 10,000 more feet than the present Underwood lot when enlarged as proposed. Moreover, building on the Rawson lot or some other location will not interfere with the school work in the old Underwood school while construction is going on—a matter which should be given some attention.

We also understand that the owners of the land taken on Vernon, Baldwin and Eldridge streets have ample grounds for substantial damages and much litigation can be avoided if the whole matter can be reconsidered and a new location secured for the schoolhouse.

Mr. P. A. Murray, whose death it is our sad duty to record was one of the oldest business men in Newton and a familiar figure on our streets for nearly a half century. He was one of our most substantial citizens, and always deeply interested in public affairs. He will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

November 12 to 18 is a week of prayer for boys and young men the world over. It is being observed at the Newton Y. M. C. A. by special talks to gymnasium groups and to club members. The central theme is "The World's Need of Jesus Christ." Sunday, November 19th, has been designated Student's Day and in the churches and in private devotions united prayer will be made for the men and boys in our schools and colleges.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club, Monday evening, will be Rev. R. E. Davis, pastor of the Methodist Church, Newton Centre. The subject, "Wrestlers," indicates action. Supper is served at 6.30 and any man is welcome to come and enjoy good fellowship. Sign up or telephone Newton North 592, and a place will be reserved for you.

The November meeting of the directors was held at the home of Mr. Frederick W. Rust, Kirkstall Road, Newtonville. A large number were present to enjoy Mr. Rust's hospitality.

ZONING ORDINANCE VETOED

The full text of Mayor Childs veto of the proposed Zoning ordinance follows:—

Gentlemen: I return without my approval Order No. 51647, Zoning Ordinance so called, for the same reasons as specified in my veto of practically the same ordinance of June 15, 1922, to which reference is hereby made.

Since my former veto, some twenty-eight acres of land have already been changed from the single residence to the manufacturing district, and some objectors to this change desire to be heard.

This is but an indication that so drastic and iron clad an ordinance, at the start, means all sorts of difficulties. The fact, too, that some of your Honorable Board do not as yet understand what the ordinance means suggests the advisability of clearing up doubtful points and presenting an ordinance which at least those who pass it understand.

I recommend the immediate passage of an amended ordinance setting off definitely business and manufacturing from residential districts, and if a single residence district is desired and is within the law, built it up as property owners may desire after all have had due notice and the opportunity to be heard.

Very truly yours,

NEWTON CLUB FAIR

The Newton Club, Newtonville, organized August, 1887, opened the doors of the present Club House about 30 years ago. Although the organizing of other clubs in various parts of the Newtons has made it largely a Community Club, it has many members from other villages of the Newtons and from adjacent towns. Owing to its central location it is used for civic meetings, committee meetings, dances and receptions.

The club members have been at work for some time organizing a Grand Fair which will appeal to all the people of Newton, including the children.

This will be held on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, November 22, 23, and 24, from 3 o'clock in the afternoon till 12 o'clock at night.

Every room in the club is to contain attractive booths offering a wide range of attractive and useful merchandise.

In one of the larger rooms there is to be an Indoor Circus for the children. In the basement will be located the Midway. A Country Store will occupy one of the rooms, a Food Shop another, but we mustn't reveal any more—just go and see it all.

The Governor, Lieut.-Governor, and Mayor are to be at the fair.

The club building will be decorated. The Assembly Hall is to be reserved for dancing. Season tickets are 50 cents, and a Studebaker Car is to be given away to the one holding the lucky season ticket. Children under 12 years free.

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary, How does your garden grow?"

Like Mary's garden of fame, OUR garden of laundering niceties is doing quite well also. Mary had ideas of her own. Was that why she was considered contrary? Who knows. The GARDEN City Laundry too is different. It cultivates special methods for results that meet the requirements of the most discriminating housewife.

Five thousand PLEASED housewives will grow to many times that number when our new addition is completed. Extra facilities to meet the increased demand for our product. Sweet, white, wholesome laundered linen.

GENTLEMEN--

A word with you, too.

Have you tried Gardenized Collars? A pleasing surprise awaits every man who is missing the comfort and satisfaction of distinctive laundry work.

Why not try a sample? Your command will bring us to your door for a parcel. Your linen will come back to you so pleasingly laundered that we will have made another friend. Gardenized Collars are our specialty.

High School Notes

The second meeting of the Speaking Club in the Classical High School was held on Nov. 6. Robert Spencer was chairman. The Program Committee gave an amusing debate. The purpose of the committee was to show the members how important Parliamentary Procedure is at a meeting.

The Rev. J. E. Park gave a very interesting talk to members of the Technical High School on his travels abroad. He spoke more at length about his experiences while studying at Oxford.

Today the Vocational High School had Mr. Nickerson, sporting editor of the Boston Traveler, as its speaker. He pointed out the advantages of athletics in character building.

The Senior Class of the Technical High School had its class picture taken on Monday.

The Sophomore Class of the Vocational High School held a sociable on Wednesday, Nov. 15. A formal reception was held in order that each member might be introduced to the others in the class. This is the first of a series of social activities, which will be given in the school.

Bigelow

The Class Banners were presented to the winners by Mr. Chase on Wednesday morning in the School Hall.

Mr. Lane's division won in the eighth grade. Miss Stearns' division for the second time were winners in the seventh. These banners are presented for School Spirit.

—The highest attendance record for the last four weeks was won by Miss Dyer's division of eighth, 98.8%. Miss Searle's and Miss Child's classes were tied for second place, each having 97.3%.

The Bigelow Soccer team played the Horace Mann team on Tuesday, Nov. 14, at Burr Playground. Score, 3 to 0 in favor of Bigelow.

Albert Edgar Angier School

The school football team, which is captained by Frank Spain, closed its season last week by defeating Hyde school 78 to 3 and to date has scored 218 points to 34 for its opponents.

Next Thursday the team will have a game with the Mason school which should attract a good crowd.

Lasell

Dr. and Mrs. Winslow have issued invitations to a reception at the school on the evening of November 22d.

The hockey game on Tuesday between Jackson College and Lasell resulted in a victory for the latter, the score being 4-0.

Mrs. E. M. Taylor, late superintendent of the North End Medical Mission, is to speak at Vespers on Sunday evening on the subject of "Our Needy Little Citizens." The service is to be in charge of the Students' Missionary Society.

On Saturday evening the seniors of Gardner Hall will be the hostesses at a party for the student body in the school gymnasium.

At the lecture hour on Saturday morning students from the Hampton Institute will sing plantation songs and representatives of the school will speak.

Mason

Mr. Horace Williams, Centre street, gave a very interesting and instructive talk to the three fifth grades on the manufacturing of boots and shoes.

Room 6 has been studying manufacturing in New England and Mr. Williams' talk was most helpful to the boys and girls.

ENTERTAINMENT AND DANCE

Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge No. 177 held a most successful entertainment and dance Friday evening, November 9th, under the directorship of Fred E. Perkins, assisted by Mrs. Perkins, chairman, and other members of the lodge. At 8 o'clock the brothers worked a "take off" degree called the She-manity Degree. The men were all elaborately dressed from head to foot in ladies' costumes and most convincingly proved to the large and highly entertained audience how wearing apparel completely changes one's identity. All were daintily arrayed with wonderful heads of hair, dangling ear-rings, beautiful gowns, silk hosiery, and yes, even high French heels and dainty gold slippers—and the complexions were marvellous indeed. They totally eclipsed the so-called up-to-date flapper.

Grand High Mogul, Fred E. Perkins, was a brilliant young lady in pink gown and gold slippers. He did his part so well that he was presented with a magnificent large white chrysanthemum. Mr. Allan MacQuarrie, as soloist, brought down the house with his song, "What Will the Girls Wear a Hundred Years From Now?" And everyone was taken by surprise when he rendered "The Soldier's Farewell" in a high soprano voice. He received enthusiastic applause.

The dainty little candidate was Walter Roberts. He was dressed as a little girl with a Dutch clip and was of the roly-poly type, only measuring 53 inches about the waist and weighing around 280 pounds. He was brought in seated on a decorated wheelbarrow pushed by John Baker as "Lucy Wheel-her-in." John was a slight little lady, and he surely proved himself a strong physical type in the manner in which he assisted the candidate around. That jolly little flapper, Frank Stevens, made a hit as he daintily stepped about the hall, and he must have been observant of many of the girls of to-day in his elaborate use of the powder puff. Richard Nelson was an aristocratic lady and held the office of chaperone with studied dignity while Charles Merriam in the latest style (?) long trailing gown with enormous picture hat took good care of the valuable papers. James Semple, as door-tender proved that in due time ladies will make efficient policemen. Rinaldo Neil was a tall fair young lady and he delivered important instructions to the candidate impressively and in a lady-like manner. The gown worn by Edmund Buell fitted to perfection, and he could earn big money demonstrating Parisian styles. After the degree had been properly conferred amid the great amusement and applause of the large audience the degree staff marched out while Mr. MacQuarrie sang "What is the Matter with Father? He's All Right." Dancing was enjoyed till a late hour, music being furnished by Perkins and Jenkins Orchestra.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Federation

Clubwomen of the state are looking forward to the fall meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, Thursday, Nov. 23, with the Women in Council of Roxbury in Dudley Street Baptist Church, at which Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, the new state president, will officially open the season. Among the speakers to be presented at the two sessions, 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., is W. W. Husband, Commissioner-General of Immigration, who will give the afternoon address, "Our Immigration Problem."

"The Biennial in Retrospect" will be reviewed by delegates at Chautauqua in June, Mrs. George Minot Baker of Concord, General Federation director, Mrs. A. R. Shepardson of Reading, Mrs. H. W. Hildreth of Winchester, and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., of Lynn.

Others speakers of the morning session will be Mrs. Richard H. Emrich of Framingham, who has recently returned from the Near East where she has done valuable relief work since 1916, and Miss Margaret Pierson, A. B., educational secretary of the Florence Crittendon League of Compassion.

A half-hour organ recital preceding the afternoon session, will include selections by William G. Hambleton and songs by Mrs. Alice Huston Stevens, soprano. Presentation of eight new clubs by their respective presidents will be a special feature: Colrain Woman's club, Groveland Woman's club, West Newton Community Service club, Orange Woman's club, New Bedford South End Woman's club of John B. De Valles Community Centre, Shawheen Village Woman's club of Andover, Fortnightly club of Monson and Frances E. Willard Settlement of Boston.

Luncheon will be served at several of the nearby churches at 75 cents per plate, tickets for which must be ordered not later than November 20, by sending check, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Herbert V. Mitchell, the church where the meeting will be held is directly opposite the lower level of the Dudley Street station of the Boston Elevated Railway.

Monday, November 20, 2:30 P. M. Conference of Art chairmen at Grace Horne's studio, 146 Stuart street, Boston; subject, "How Arts and Crafts may be valuable to your Club." The speakers will be representatives of the various organizations in Boston having Arts and Crafts departments.

Newton Federation

Monday, November 20, 10:15 A. M. Regular meeting of the executive board will be held at the Newton Club. All club members interested may attend.

Mrs. Edward H. Keach of Pembroke street, Newton, chairman of the Philanthropic Fund has plans underway for a large whist on December 15, at 2:30 P. M. at the Newton Club. There will be an author's reading by Miss Emma G. Coolidge of Newton at the same time and place for those who do not play cards. Further particulars may be had by calling Mrs. Keach Newton North 1284.

N. E. Anti-Vivisection Society

Walter R. Hadwen, M. D., president of the British Union for the Abolition of Vivisection and editor of the "Abolitionist," the official organ of that society, is to discuss the question, "Has Vivisection Helped Humanity," at Huntington Hall, 491 Boylston street, Tuesday evening, November 21 at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the New England Anti-Vivisection Society.

Dr. Hadwen is on his way home from California where he has been active in the campaign in behalf of an amendment to the constitution forbidding animal experimentation involving pain and suffering. A year ago last spring he made his first visit to America, the primary object of which was to visit the grave of his only son, Surgeon-Lieutenant Commander John Hadwen, of the British Navy, who was buried at San Diego during the Great War. This visit resulted in a promise to the California workers to aid them this year. On his way he spoke before five Canadian Anti-Vivisection Societies, in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Victoria, and Vancouver, all organized within the past twenty months. In Washington, Oregon, and throughout California he has since spoken in opposition to vivisection before large and enthusiastic audiences.

November 19, he is to speak in Portland, Maine, the home of Governor Baxter, who is an Honorary vice president of the New England Society. All interested are urged to attend this meeting.

Professional Women's Club

The monthly luncheon will be held at the Copley Plaza on Tuesday, November 21, at 12:30 P. M. A long list of prominent men and women have been invited as guests, including a number of stage favorites. A musical program will follow the luncheon.

Local Announcements

The Christian Era Study Club will meet on Monday afternoon with Mrs. N. G. Grant of Mohose street. France is the subject for the day, Mrs. Tyler taking Louis XIV, and Mrs. Grant, Ravine's "Athaliae."

The Presidents' Night of the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls will be held on Monday evening, November 20, at 8 o'clock, at the Newton School hall, for club members and out of town guests. The program, a musicale, will be followed by a reception and refreshments. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the State Federation, and Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, president of the Newton Federation, will be guests of honor.

On Tuesday afternoon the Auburndale Woman's Club will meet in the Congregational chapel. During the business meeting Dr. Sidney Dalrymple, pathologist of the Newton Hospital, will speak upon the Schick Test. The club chorus will make its first appearance of the season in a group of songs. Under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. Julia R. McCormick the chorus is doing fine work and will be heard with great pleasure on this occasion. The rest of the program will be given by Miss Mary Katherine North, a reader of exceptional ability.

Mr. Charles Swain Thomas, editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press, will speak on "Some Observations of Modern Poetry" at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. As head of the English Department of the Newton High School for a number of years, Mr. Thomas was loved as a teacher and respected as a scholar. A warm welcome awaits him as a lecturer.

There will be a short musical program, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Bond of the music committee, and tea will be served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Horton S. Allen, chairman, with Mrs. F. L. Edmunds and Mrs. H. W. Shedd as hostesses. Tuesday is "Donation Day" in the club for the Newton Hospital and everyone is asked to contribute jellies, preserves and old linen and cotton.

A busy week is ahead for the members of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. The regular semi-monthly meeting is on Nov. 21, at 2:30 P. M., in the Congregational Church, when Mrs. Ward I. Cornell will speak on "Everyday Art," and there will be an exhibition and sale of articles made by disabled soldiers.

Tuesday, at 10:30 A. M., the Parliamentary Law Class in the Library, Wednesday, 10 A. M., class in Artistic Needlework in the Barn Studio. Thursday, a large delegation will attend the Fall Meeting of State Federation.

Friday, 8 P. M., Third Junior Assembly in Odd Fellows Hall, and Saturday at 2 and 4 P. M., two performances of the Provincetown Puppets, given in Odd Fellows Hall under the auspices of the Art committee, and bound to please both young and old Woman's Club of Newton Highlands.

Wednesday morning the Newton Social Science Club will continue its study of France with a paper by Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds on "Charlemagne and his Kingdom."

On Thursday afternoon the Newton Community Club will have the pleasure of welcoming once more an old friend, Dr. George H. Blakeslee, of Clark University, Worcester, who will speak on "The Pacific Ocean and its Problems."

The meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, November 24, will be a Thanksgiving party. There will be a Dutch Whist in charge of Mrs. Otto Schofield.

Local Happenings

The meeting of the Auburndale Review Club, held on Tuesday morning, November 14, at the home of Miss Margaret Haskell, was unusually interesting and entertaining. Miss Marion Knowlton, chairman of the morning, read a paper on J. M. Barrie. Then this author's war-play, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," was presented by the following club members: Miss Elizabeth Rider, Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, Mrs. J. Franklin Rider, Mrs. Charles D. Pickard, Mrs. A. C. Farley, and Mrs. E. P. Drew. Whether the author was the adopted soldier boy or the friendly minister were portrayed, all the parts were read most realistically, and the large audience showed constant appreciation. Mrs. Nelson Freeman, to continue the Scotch flavor, played variations of Annie Laurie.

On Wednesday morning the Newton Social Science Club had a very large number present to hear the Story of Old Provence as told by Mrs. H. H. Powers. She presented it as a series of pictures from early days down to 1486, when it was annexed to France,—the Greeks entering in B. C. 600, Hannibal going across, the coming of the Crusaders, and of the Troubadours. She showed many pictures of the old buildings, calling attention to the Greek influence upon their art, and read selections of the old poetry, one poem of which marked the beginning of modern poetry. It proved an exceedingly interesting morning. La Marseillaise was played at the close.

The success of the tea given in the Barn Studio on Tuesday afternoon proves that the new activity of the Art Committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands has passed the experimental stage and even promises to be one of the most pleasant social interests connected with the club. The Studio, decorated with the few fine wall hangings and the beautiful block prints loaned by Miss Emily Edwards, furnished a rare artistic setting for the hospitality offered by Mrs. Charles A. Clark, who presided at the tea table, the other members of the committee acting as hostesses among the guests. Arrangements have been made to hold the next tea on the second Tuesday in December, when all club members will be welcome.

Guest Night of the Newton Community Club

Guest Night of the Newton Community Club once more found Channing Church auditorium well filled with members and guests, who had come to hear the experiences of Rev. J. Edgar Park, of West Newton, in his recent stay of several months abroad. Mr. Park told of meeting Viscount (Continued on Page 9)

A FINE SHOWING

The Newton Trust Company by Frank L. Richardson, its executive vice president, has sent an interesting letter to its stockholders from which we select the following paragraphs:

Our fiscal year ends January 31st. On February 1st, last, our deposits subject to check were approximately $6,100,000 and in the Savings Department $1,850,000, a grand total of almost $8,000,000. At that time we appealed to you to help us make the total $10,000,000 by February 1st, 1923. Frankly, it seemed too great a distance to cover in one year. In nine months, however, we have reached a total of nearly $9,400,000—$7,000,000 subject to check and $2,360,000 in the Savings Department. Can we not all together make the necessary effort to reach the $10,000,000 mark by February 1st.

We are, first of all, a commercial bank and aim to provide first-class facilities for handling accounts subject to check, accounts of executors and trustees, and of business men requiring discount of commercial paper from time to time for their business purposes. Boston and out of town accounts may be most conveniently handled by mail and through our Boston corresponding banks. One account of this character often adds as much to our deposits as one hundred personal accounts. In fact, we could not give our present service to thousands of small personal and household accounts, had we not the volume of larger business accounts our friends have sent us. We welcome personal accounts, regardless of balances. Many of our present larger accounts have developed from small beginnings.

Our Savings Department is operated under the laws governing the Savings Banks of the Commonwealth with all their protecting provisions. Trust Companies are permitted to accept any amount on deposit, there being no maximum limit. Without competing for any business which would naturally go to our excellent friends, the Savings Banks of Newton, all of which are high grade institutions, we wish to do our full duty and urge everyone to carry a Savings account in Newton, and further to bring into the City all savings accounts now carried in other cities and towns where the deposit is of no value to Newton and helps in no way to the development of our City. For the special convenience of Savings Depositors, our offices in Newton, Newtonville and Newton Centre open Saturday evenings, 6.30 to 8.

Trust Department through which the Trust Company acts as administrator, executor and trustee of estates and under wills, has passed the million mark. Individuals may create a trust fund of almost any amount, terminating at will or at a fixed time, the Trust Company attending to the investment of funds, collection of income, tax returns, etc., paying over net incomes at any desired intervals. Charges are governed by universal custom and are very nominal.

DEATH OF MR. CALDER

Mr. Hamlin W. Calder, a resident of this city for 37 years, died at his home on Austin street, Newtonville, on Sunday in his 69th year, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Calder was born in West Barnet, Vermont, and was engaged in business as an upholsterer. He leaves a widow, Sadie Pierce Calder, and two children, Mr. Howard Calder of Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Ruth Calder of Newtonville.

Services were held at his late residence on Monday, the Rev. Edgar E. Davidson and Rev. Dr. Charles R. Ross of Newtonville Methodist Church officiating. Mr. Calder was a member of the Clifton Club at the Methodist Church. The burial was at St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

DOING EXCELLENT WORK

Joel Lawrence Leete of 210 Bellevue street, has been doing excellent work on the Amherst College football team this year. Leete has played center all season very well and made the recent trip to Oberlin.

Leete has been playing Varsity football for Amherst for three years. He is also captain of the Amherst swimming team, Varsity pitcher on the baseball nine, and a member of his class track, hockey, swimming, baseball and football teams.

He is also a member of Scarab, the Senior honorary society, membership in which is one of the highest honors attainable, and he has also recently been elected to the Sphinx Club, an honorary social society.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

For several years the book-sellers and the libraries of the United States have set aside one week in November for Children's Book Week.

The children's room at the Newton Free Library and the city's branch libraries will have on exhibition, during the week, a few of the children's new books.

Parents and all who are interested are cordially invited to visit the libraries, to see the exhibits, and to get a copy of the new "Bookshelf for boys and girls," which lists this Fall's books as well as many of the well-known ones of earlier years.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—At the St.

James the Boston Stock Company will be presented in "The Meaneast Man in the World," a comedy-drama written by Augustin McHugh and produced by Cohan with a special Cohan musical program, arranged by Charles Hecfor for the Boston Stock Company orchestra, thrown in for good measure. Auspiciously a Cohan week, with a strong, comedy, Cohan role for Walter Gilbert, the leading man, roles in which Mr. Gilbert always appears at a good advantage. The story of the play revolves around a young lawyer whose success is hampered by his failing at being mean enough to those with whom he has business dealings. The strong characters of the personages of the play have been blended into a story of infectious comedy, three love affairs, touches of drama and plenty of good wholesome heart interest.

MAYOR CHILDS SUSTAINED

Judge Joseph C. Hannon, acting justice of the district court, has made his decision in the appeal taken by former Police officer, Frank W. Larrivee from the action of Mayor Childs in removing him from office.

Larrivee was discharged on September 1st, following charges that on August 3rd, he had stolen 2 auto tires mounted on rims and on August 14, had untruthfully answered questions of his superior officer. He was given a hearing before the Mayor on August 21st, and his removal confirmed on September 1. His appeal to the police court was heard October 16.

Judge Hannon finds that there was no evidence of bias or bad faith or want of proper cause on the part of the Mayor and he was fully warranted and justified on the evidence presented to him in making the order of removal. The Judge also finds that there was no evidence of any attempt to spirit away a material witness by unknown parties.

A MESSAGE FROM THE RED CROSS

The circumstances in the midst of which the Roll Call opens this year are themselves the logic for our appeal. At the very moment when we thought we had completed our work overseas and were turning to the wider development of our program at home, the sudden call of emergency from the Near East reminds us—both in its unexpectedness and in its probable duration—of the tense days of our war service. We have answered the summons, and almost from the moment that the call came, Red Cross relief was on its way.

In the present condition of the world no one is wise enough to foresee the future nor to picture the possibilities that may develop. Because of this, the Red Cross must be kept in a position of constant readiness. That can only be done by means of a large, constant and devoted membership. It is upon that foundation that the present usefulness and the future existence of the American Red Cross rests.

The challenge of the Roll Call is: "Increase your Membership to the largest possible number." Every man, woman and child in America should be proud to be enrolled under the banner of the Red Cross and to have part in its achievement. This is not the last call that will come to us for sudden and unexpected service. We must be ready for whatever comes.

DIED AT WEST NEWTON

Mr. George H. Frost, a well known retired market gardener and life long resident of West Newton, died on Sunday, November 12th, at his home, 193 Fuller street. He was born in West Newton, March 13, 1833 and his parents were Isaac H. and Charity (Swan) Frost of Belmont and Arlington.

He was probably one of the few remaining, who were educated in the West Newton schools, under old Father Pierce, Horace Mann, and Schoolmaster Nathaniel Allen. A man of sterling character, he had a genial and unassuming personality who counted everyone a friend and his hospitality was noted.

On March 17, 1864, he was married to Miss Adeline E. Marble of Jamaica Plain, who survives him.

Although meeting with several severe accidents, he has always been vigorous and active, until within the last few weeks.

Besides the widow, he is survived by two daughters and two sons, Mrs. T. W. Honsenden of Newtonville, Mrs. N. E. Johnson of Haverhill, G. Howard Frost and Frederic A. Frost of West Newton.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Rev. J. Edgar Park, pastor of the Second Church, officiating and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

THE SECOND CHURCH WEST NEWTON

Yes, let the way wind up the hill or down;
Through rough or smooth, the journey will be joyous;
Still seeking what I sought when but a boy,
New friendship, high adventure, and a crown,
I shall grow old, but never lose life's zest,
Because the road's last turn will be the best.

The couple received many gifts and congratulations.

ANNUAL BANQUET

More than 300 men attended the annual banquet of the Newton Catholic Club Monday night in the club hall, West Newton. Pres. T. C. Hickey gave a brief history of the club since its founding, 14 years ago, and paid a glowing tribute to the late Rev. John F. Keleher, the pastor of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, in whose pastorate the club was begun. As a further tribute to Fr. Keleher's memory the gathering stood while Rev. T. P. MacMannan, pastor of the Church of Corpus Christi, Auburndale, said prayers for the repose of the soul of Fr. Keleher. Pres. Hickey then introduced the toastmaster, John E. Riley. The first speaker of the evening was Mayor Edwin O. Childs, who also paid a tribute to Fr. Keleher, as did all the speakers of the night. The Mayor complimented the club on its ideals and accomplishments and said such an organization was an asset to the community of inestimable value. Rev. Ambrose J. Dore of Cambridge spoke on Catholic and American principles. The next speaker, Judge M. F. Kennedy of Natick, took for his subject, "Americanism and Patriotism" and the last speaker, Hon. Thomas F. Cooney of Providence, talked on the subject of religious liberty and tolerance.

A DAY OF MISSIONS

District IV, comprising the woman's organizations of the Congregational churches of Newton and Needham, met in Auburndale Wednesday. The questionnaire on successful methods was suggestive and interesting. Newton Centre and Newtonville stressed the joining of the Home and Foreign interests in the one cause of World Missions, thus eliminating old barriers. West Newton, Auburndale, Needham, and Newton Centre reported special succession work with children. Cocoa served to a group meeting after school, story-telling with lantern slides, make meetings attractive. Miss Strong's "Search Light Club," composed of high school girls, does good work. Two of the members were sent to Northfield. Let more young people go there and be fitted for leaders.

WOODLAND GOLF CLUB

The annual meeting of the Woodland Golf Club was held Tuesday evening at the B. A. A. in Boston, with Francis Oummet as toastmaster. These officers were elected: president, Robert S. Wainwright; vice-president, Edward J. Frost; treasurer, William E. Hadelstine; secretary, Irving J. French; directors, William M. Noble, George S. Seltzer; nominating committee, A. J. Wellington, W. B. Badger and G. A. Watkins. The senior resident dues were fixed at $125 and the family membership at $25.

At the dinner there were plates for 115. Quite a stir was created when a U. S. G. A. official appeared and pulled the house committee over the coals to a fare-thee-well for the many hotches it had made in construction. Things calmed down a bit, when the visitor was unmasked as Ted Tewksbury.

Then Chairman Moulthrop of the building committee gave his real accounting and all was serene.

William M. Noble read a history of the Woodland property from back in the time of the old Indians right up to the time of the present-day tribe, "Dan" Callaghan, one of the old-time members, favored with stories and there were songs by three of the club's real artists—Charley Burgess, Harry McDavitt and Walter Anderson.

Two of the members were sent to Northfield. Let more young people go there and be fitted for leaders.

Needham, though full of interest in church improvements, had not "robbed Peter to pay Paul" but reported missionary interest extending to the pocketbooks of the boys and girls in the Sunday School. No wonder, for Dr. Cushman from their own midst is a missionary in Africa and she has their loyal friendship.

Elliot Church also has the inspiration which comes from having her very own on the foreign field. A service flag and honor roll tell the story. Will not more service flags and honor rolls of our local missionaries create a real live interest among the young people?

Newton Highlands has 150 members and a Bazaar coming. Help by coming there for Christmas gifts.

Waban reported 600 garments sent in a barrel to a school in North Carolina, also an active Young People's Forum aiding in the cause of education.

Some of the societies had been sharing their good things with the men. A church calendar had published some telling missionary items. The sale of retrimmed hats had helped a missionary budget. Newtonville gives her "group" system the credit for getting every woman in the church working. Wellesley Hills reported many varied activities.

field and Pittsfield, brought back such vivid portrayals that, as Mrs. F. E. Clarke said, "it was like going around the world without the discomforts." Mrs. Carver spoke a few words on the financial goal—three per cent in advance of last year's. "The appropriation means," she said, "the living expenses of the different missionary organizations."

How near to us Mrs. F. E. Clarke brought the days and ways of Paul! Why prayer is just as vital now as when he wrote: "I give thanks always to God for you."

Miss Ona Evans in her plea for the square deal for the negro can not fail to create a better spirit and a recoil from race prejudice. Her talk bristled with facts. She knows their wrongs, how they are denied franchise, education, and access to the means of culture for which many of them are fitted. Blackest of all, the lynchings! The bright side is the good work they have proved they are capable of doing. One institution holds yearly conferences of farmers who attend 2,000 strong.

Mrs. Hannah Hume Lee in her very thoughtful talk, "sixty minutes between the striking hours" dwelt on the necessity of much that is humdrum in the missionary's effort before the striking results come. Much plodding work must precede the "peal of the bells."

Mrs. Brewer Eddy spoke for the campaign for the Union Colleges and of the Dollar Day—the last "pull together" before the Rockefeller offer closes.

At the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served. The 2nd Church at West Newton extended an invitation to the District for the next meeting.

NEWTON CLUB

The first mixed whist of the season was held at the Newton Club on Wednesday evening. It was a very enjoyable party. There were thirteen tables. The first prize was won by Mrs. Curtis Delano, the second by Mrs. Arthur Brown, the first gentleman's prize went to Mr. Curtis Delano, and the second to Mr. Henry J. Nichols. Mrs. H. J. Nichols poured. The bowling team lost all three strings on Wednesday evening to the Middlesex Sportsmen Club.

The Buick They Judge By

The Model "45" Six Cylinder Touring—$1195

The famous Buick five-passenger, six cylinder open model today, as in past years, sets the standard of automobile value.

It is the motor car by which others are judged because it represents the best of each year's developments in mechanical refinements, appearance and riding comfort.

The Buick Model "45" combines the characteristic Buick qualities of performance and stability with distinctive beauty and a completeness of appointments not to be found elsewhere.

We'll be pleased to give you a demonstration any time.

Better Body Construction

Braces in the body frames of Buick open models are bolted through the wooden frame work instead of being merely screwed into it. Bolting these braces prevents the joints from loosening under driving strains. Note how the bracket for the windshield post is bolted in seven places, making it absolutely rigid. In mounting the bodies on the chassis more bolts are used to secure the body.

ZONING VETO SUSTAINED

Aldermen Refuse to Pass Ordinance over Veto New Chief of Police Appointed

Another Aldermanic session which lasted until 11.30 o'clock, was held on Monday evening, the distinguished feature of which, was a recess for a private conference in the committee room, and which took over two hours and a half. The conference was over the pending zoning ordinance and ended where it began with everyone talking compromise but refusing to yield an inch on the position each one had taken. After the recess the Mayor's veto of the recent ordinance was sustained with Aldermen Earle, Grobstein, Heathcote, Ross, Whidden, Waite, Young and Aldermen Mendenhall, Hickey and G. W. Pratt were absent. The session opened with the usual readings no one appearing on petition of J. V. Monaghan's Sons for a gasometer permit corner Auburn and Washington streets, on petition of John Baldesaro for a garage on Watertown street, on the laying out of Holly road, and Larch road, on taking land for a sewer off Wolcott park, and on relocating the corner of Elliott and Chestnut streets.

On petition of E. E. Henley for a 3 car garage at 1784 Washington street a strong protest was entered by Mr. Alex. Livingstone and Edward Dummer and the matter sent to the License committee.

A hearing was also held on complaint of Mary E. Gannon and others over the burning of rubbish at Pine street pit. Miss Gannon, John Martin, Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Lawton, Mr. T. E. Ryder and others whose names were not given told of the nuisance caused by the burning of rubbish at this place by fire and smoke.

Wm. R. K. Mick of Dedham street and Robert H. Gross of Burnham road, were drawn as jurors.

Mayor Childs sent in the name of Bernard F. Burke for the office of Chief of Police and later in the session it was taken up and unanimously confirmed. The salary was also fixed at $3000 per year.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

On Monday night, Mayor Childs nominated and the aldermen immediately confirmed the appointment of Bernard F. Burke, as chief of police at a salary of $3000 per year.

Chief Burke has been acting chief of the department since Chief Mitchell resigned, last winter and at the recent civil service examination for the office, Captain Burke, stood at the head of the list.

The new head of the department has been a member of the Newton police force 33 years, starting as a patrolman in 1889, and working up through the various grades. He received his first promotion in October 1903, when he was made a sergeant. He was made a lieutenant in April 1917, and captain on February 25, 1922. He date he became acting chief of the department.

THE EIGHT WEEKS PLAN

Under the initiative of the Newton Centre School Association, a questionnaire will be sent next Monday to the parents of every pupil in the Newton schools requesting an opinion as to the desirability of requesting the school committee to arrange the school vacations on what is known as "The Eight weeks system."

The proposed plan is intended to give a much needed break in the long period of continuous school sessions between January 2nd and April 1st. It is said that a week's vacation the latter part of February or the first of March will be of great benefit to the pupils both physically and mentally and that the system can be arranged so as to lose but three days of the present school year.

33 cities and towns in the Commonwealth including every city and town in the vicinity of Newton, have adopted this system and report that they are well satisfied with it.

The matter has been studied by a committee of the Newton Centre School Association consisting of Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, president; Mrs. (Continued on page 3)

$5200 RAISED BY Y. W. C. A.

The first "Budget Week" campaign of the Newton Y. W. C. A. closed on Monday, when over 60 women, from the various teams, gathered at the Y. W. C. A. rooms. These teams have met each day to report, and have varied with one another in the amount brought in.

The Board of Directors and the Campaign Committee wish to thank the people of Newton both for the money gifts and for the service which the canvassers and workers have so freely rendered.

The response of the public has been most generous, and so far, the members of the Association have responded loyally. The goal of $7500.00 has, however, not been reached, $5200.00 being the total receipts, to date.

Many people have, for various reasons, not yet been reached, and the opportunity still remains to help put this campaign over the top.

NEWTON CLUB

The club bowling team won three strings from B. A. A. on Wednesday night in the Newton Bowling League match at Boston.

Beautiful Decorations and a Large Attendance are Chief Features in this Social Event

The Newton Club, under whose auspices a fair was held three afternoons and evenings this week, has had an enviable history. It was organized in 1887, and during the 35 years of its existence has given to the city a prominent position owing to its entertainment of distinguished people of national reputation.

At all periods of its history, the club has been noted for its democratic spirit. This spirit was evident during the Fair, practically every member of the club contributing to its success.

The festivities began on Tuesday night with an automobile parade, forty machines taking part. The parade opened with a salute of 21 guns. During the tour of the city, fireworks were sent off, and the Newton Constabulary Band played. The parade was in charge of Mr. J. A. Bryant.

The club house itself was gaily decorated with flags on the outside, while within gay rugs, banners, and shields, added to its festive appearance.

The booths represented arbors from which gay flowers hung, and where every conceivable article could be obtained.

During the afternoon, one of the greatest attractions was the circus. This was popular with children and grown-ups as well. In a large tent were stuffed animals, the crocodiles being especially realistic. Balloons, peanuts, etc., gave the proper circus spirit. The side shows were an added attraction.

Among the various booths were to be found food especially appropriate for the Thanksgiving season, sweaters, grabs, lingerie, dolls, baskets, cards, stationary, Rust-craft novelties, candy and flowers, articles for the little baby, aprons, and fancy articles, and toilet goods.

Both floors of the club were used. Half way up the stairs one came upon a "cozy corner" where a hustling business in fortune telling was going on.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—Wide-spread interest is being shown throughout New England over the engagement at the Boston Opera House of the world famous French actress, Mlle. Cecile Sorel and a company representing the French national theatre, the Comedie Francaise. The company will play at the Boston Opera House one week beginning next Monday (Nov. 27) with regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday and a special matinee on Thanksgiving afternoon. Five masterpieces of modern and classic French drama will be presented.

Sorel is easily the dominant feminine figure in the French theatre today. Of rare beauty, and striking personality, and an artist of great finesse and emotional power, she has achieved finer triumphs in the European stage than any other actress save only Sarah Bernhardt.

HOSPITAL BRIDGE

A very successful bridge was held on Monday, at the Brae Burn Club, for the benefit of the Newton Hospital.

Eighty tables were sold and sixty tables of whist were played. Flowers were given as prizes at each table. Tables were decorated in keeping with Thanksgiving time. In charge of the refreshments were Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Miss Fannie Carpenter, and Mrs. William Flanders. Mrs. Ashley Day had charge of the candy table. During the afternoon, Miss Frances Burr Mitchell rendered several songs accompanied by Mrs. Frederick Lesh. Miss Allen, Superintendent of the Hospital, spoke of the work of the Hospital. Miss Mary M. Riddle, former superintendent of the Hospital was among the guests. Candy and flowers were sold.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold for Walter S. Cowing the single, 9-room home located at 21 Carver Road, in the Elliot section of Newton Highlands. With the house, there are 19,860 square feet of land and a frame garage, the total valuation of the property being $14,000. Vincent E. Squiers was the purchaser.

Burns & Sons report that they have sold for the Maugus Real Estate Trust a lot of land on Manomet road, Newton Centre, to C. W. Edmunds. The lot contains 7,640 square feet and is valued at $2,000. Mr. Edmunds will improve the same shortly.

DEATH OF MRS. LINN

Mrs. Menig Linn, wife of John Linn, died at her home on Warren street, Newton Centre, on Monday in her 74th year.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn have lived practically all of their lives in Newton, where Mr. Linn was born and where he is now sexton of the First Baptist Church, a position he has held for thirty-five years.

Mr. Linn celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last September. They have two daughters, Mrs. Frank A. Sanderson of Worcester and Mrs. Walter A. Perry of Keene, N. H. Funeral services were held on Thursday in the Baptist Church, Newton Centre, Rev. Charles N. Arhuckle officiating. Mr. John Adams Loud, organist of the church, played, and the church quartet sang. A delegation from the Highland Rehearsal Lodge of which Mrs. Linn was a member was present.

The burial was in Newton Cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

At the Wednesday morning assembly of the N. T. H. S. Mr. George S. Smith gave a forceful talk on Community Life. He told the students how to best serve their community and their country.

The students and faculty of the Technical High School are working hard to make the Annual Declaration on December 8th a success. There will be a play followed by speaking and music which will make a very interesting program.

At the assembly of the Vocational High School last week the pastor of the North Church gave a most impressive talk on "If I Were 21 Again." He pointed out that the purpose and ideal of the modern business man should be not to make money but to show kindness and sympathy to those with whom he comes in contact.

The first meeting of the newly organized mathematics club in the Classical High School was held in Room 11 with Herbert Hansen as chairman. After officers were elected, Mr. Merendahl spoke to the members, urging interesting and instructive meetings.

On Monday, November 27, the Senior Class of the Vocational High School will have charge of the assembly.

President O'Donnell, master of ceremonies, will take charge of the Senior program, which has been worked out by the Seniors themselves.

The Vocational High School has decided to give social activities more of a place in the school life, in order to promote a finer spirit among the boys and girls and to make them better acquainted with each other.

The Hi-Y Club of the Classical High School has planned some activities which will be well attended. A supper was served to the members on Wednesday at the Y. M. C. A. Many of the Seniors and some lower class men were recently admitted.

At the meeting of the Speaking Club on Monday it was voted to call it "The Forum." Mary Reynolds and Harlan Sisk gave their selections with an ease that showed preparation.

We who live in cities are apt to overlook the many opportunities in the field of agriculture. Do you know that three out of every 10 people in the United States are farmers? If you are interested in any of these vocations—poultry raising, fruit growing, market gardening, truck farming, dairying, floriculture, landscape gardening, forestry—you will want the cooperation of the agricultural course given in the Newton Vocational High School.

Registration is now open at the Technical High School for an evening class in Spanish.

Williams School

The Williams School children have shown much interest in the health program this fall, a hundred per cent of the Kindergarten taking milk.

Last week Friday the Kindergarten and the 1st grade of the Williams School visited several farms in the vicinity, automobiles being furnished by the mothers. As a result interesting "project" work has been going on in the class rooms.

Miss Harriet Jeffers has come to the Williams School from the Hyde School to take Miss Vivian Taft's place in Grade 5. Miss Taft is absent because of illness.

Burr School

In connection with the Geography of the 3d grade, the pupils have taken walks in the immediate vicinity of the school and have made plans of the school grounds, and paper representations of themselves and their positions in the school room.

On Tuesday afternoon Burr played the Peirce School, the score being 16-7 in favor of the Peirce School.

Stearns School

A round-table discussion, led by Mrs. Claude Gilson, on the Near East problem, was the program at the meeting of the Newton Girls' Club on Tuesday evening, Nov. 21 at Stearns School Centre. The racial and political characteristics of the Turk and the Greek were explained by Mrs. Gilson, and an informal discussion as to their relationship followed. Miss Mary Delaney, vice-president of the club, had charge of the meeting.

The Mothers' Club will hold a Harvest Supper on Monday evening, Nov. 27, at Stearns School Centre. A musical program, including violin, piano and vocal selections is being arranged by Mrs. William Cye and Mrs. Andrew MacLachlan. Mrs. Porter, Mrs. MacLachlan, and Mrs. Koch are the members of the committee in charge of the supper, which will be served at 7 P. M.

Mason School

The eighth grade in their social studies this year, (and this, by the way, is followed out the course laid down by the Junior High,) have visited Turkey, France, and are now in Italy.

Constantinople, Mudania, and the Paclists are some of the names familiar to the boys and girls.

Notebooks are kept in which are put notes, analysis, clippings, and pictures for study and future reference.

Class meetings began last Monday with a thirty-minute talk by Mr. Kimball of the N. C. Savings Bank.

He gave us a day's work behind the teller's window, beginning with the opening of the vault and ending with the setting of the time lock, ready for the next day's opening.

The talk was exceedingly interesting, and was an eye-opener to any who supposed that working in a bank was an easy job.

The class greatly appreciated the clear, instructive lecture.

LASELL

Many out of town people were guests at the musicale, Dr. and Mrs. Winslow gave at the seminary on Wednesday evening. The soloist was Madame Marie De Pesa, one of the great singers of the San Carlos Opera Company. Her program consisted of a group of French and Italian songs which she sang very beautifully and artistically.

Previous to the musicale a reception was held in the school parlors, Dr. and Mrs. Winslow, Madame De Pesa and Mademoiselle Royer, head of the school French department were in the receiving line—and Mrs. Towne and Miss Cogswell presided at the frappe table in the dining room.

Timothy Pesckoff will give a talk on the Present and Future of Russia at the lecture hour on Saturday morning.

The students residing in Woodland Park Hall are to be the hostesses for the student body at a stunt party on Saturday evening, each corridor having charge of one special feature of the entertainment.

The Sunday evening vespers will be led by Dr. Mellyar H. Lichter. A large party will attend the concert by the great pianist Rachmaninoff on Saturday evening.

Stearns School

The Stearns School football team has again won the city championship; the final game played with the Mason School team resulted in a decisive victory for Stearns by the score of 71-0. The game was played Tuesday afternoon on the Newton Centre Playground. Bernie Lyman finished his long brilliant stay at Stearns by playing the best game ever. Bernie scored nine touchdowns, running cleanly through the Mason eleven for long gains at will. On the first kick-off he ran the whole distance of the field for the first touchdown. Francis Shea, also played well. The whole Stearns team played well. The team has scored 236 points to 6 by opponents. The members of the team are to be congratulated on their success which was the result of hard work, loyal spirit and team play. The following boys will be awarded the Stearns "S" for their efforts in bringing the third championship to Stearns:

Bigelow School

Bigelow defeated Mason at football Tuesday afternoon at Burr Playground by a score of 26 to 19. The game was closely contested throughout, the teams being evenly matched.

Mason won the toss and chose to receive. King kicked off for Bigelow and a few minutes later White received a forward pass from McDonald and scored the first touchdown. McDonald kicked a goal after touchdown making the score 7 to 0 for Mason.

Captain Sutcliffe, for Bigelow, chose to receive. After a few short passes were made Pambhookin and Sutcliffe, King broke loose around right end scoring for Bigelow. Stubbs failed to kick the goal but Mason was off-side. Score Bigelow 7 Mason 7.

In the second period McDonald scored for Mason, and Sutcliffe, after a long end run, evened the count once more.

The third period differed from the others in that only Bigelow scored first, and enjoyed the lead for a short time, Sutcliffe and McDonald scored for their respective teams.

Starting the last period, with Bigelow leading 20-19, both teams began to show signs of weariness. However, Bigelow managed to score, a long forward pass King to Watkins placing the ball on the one yard line, from which Captain Sutcliffe scored on the next play.

With but two minutes left to play, Mason tried hard to score, McDonald and Lane making long gains. The game ended with the ball in Mason's possession on Bigelow's twenty yard line.

The office reports the total deposits of Bigelow pupils since Sept. in the Automatic Receiving Teller as $385.54. A good record for young savers.

The teachers of Bigelow, Clafin, and Stearns Schools entertained the Newton Grade Teachers' Club on the afternoon of Tuesday, Nov. 21. Miss Childs, chairman of the entertainment committee, presided. It proved to be a very pleasant occasion.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—Popularity, and consequent success in the theatrical world, seems to be in cycles. From time to time certain types of entertainment have been the vogue. Melo-drama has its cycle, burlesque has had its period of popularity and now comes the vaudeville unit organization to cater to popular taste in amusements. The vaudeville unit is an organization which travels as an entirety from city to city. It differs from the usual vaudeville offering, in that its entertainment remains intact for the entire tour or season, while an ordinary vaudeville bill is assembled from many directions and the artists of this week may never all appear on the same program again. The unit show is formed in September to remain together until the next April. Careful students of the theatre have earnest thoughts to what will best please the public in the formation of the unit program and then proceed to assemble such acts and artists as, in its judgment, will make a pleasing combination for an evening's entertainment. Variety must be the key note of such a program and to this end its formulators have included musical revue with the bill of vaudeville.

FUNERAL OF MR. MURRAY

The esteem in which the late Patrick A. Murray, was held, was strikingly manifested last Friday morning, by the attendance at the funeral services held in the Church of Our Lady, that spacious edifice he had made his home by Catholics and Protestants alike, who, by their presence, sought to show their regard for Mr. Murray as a citizen and as a friend.

There were representatives from the city, delegations from Newton Council, K. of C., Division 35, A. O. H., Middlesex Court M. C. O. F., while a large delegation from Newton Lodge of Elks lined each side of the street, as the door as the body was taken into the church.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery, pastor of the church. Seated within the sanctuary were Rev. James F. Haney, Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre; Rev. Francis J. Cronin, St. Bernard's Church, West Newton; Rev. Joseph Burke, St. Ambrose's Church, Allston; Rev. James F. Kelly, Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament, Hough's Neck; Rev. Mark E. Madden, St. John's Church, Canton.

Mrs. Nellie Passananti was the organist, Joseph Antonelli, tenor; Miss Josephine Elberry, soprano; Mrs. Marjorie Wales, contralto. Mr. Antonelli rendered "Pie Jesu" during the offertory of the mass. The bearers were Joseph, Paul A. and Peter Stuart Murray, sons of Mr. Murray, and George E., Frank H. and Albert T. Stuart, brothers-in-law. The burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

SHUBERT THEATRE—Eddie Cantor begins his last week at the Shubert Theatre (Boston) on Monday evening (Nov. 27th). Last week's audiences did everything but make the Shubert's walls bulge outward—demonstrating unmistakably that Eddie could play in Boston as well as in New York. He has been here several weeks more to capacity audiences. Not since Noah let his menagerie file out of the Ark has the world seen such a varied display of talent as this seraglio of soul-searching seraphs, master melody mongers, daring dancers, and care-free cuties. Final week—don't miss it! Eddie Cantor has never created such a future in Boston as this season with his new musical revue, "Make It Snappy," and it is really a shame that he cannot stay in Boston longer.

The failure of the zoning ordinance to pass over the veto of Mayor Childs was not unexpected by those who have kept in touch with the matter. But it is not generally known that the differences which exist between the two factions of the board of aldermen are so trivial, when the whole subject of zoning is viewed as a whole, that the failure to adopt some zoning ordinance is almost a crime. Apparently the conflicting elements in the board are fighting over the relatively unimportant matter as to whether the residential districts provided by the ordinance shall be divided between one and two family houses, or whether there shall be but one residential district in which both one and two-family houses can be constructed. There is also a picayunish division over the question whether there shall be a distinction between a two-family house, with apartments side by side and a two-family house with one apartment over the other.

In the meantime speculative builders from outside of Newton are taking advantage of the delay in providing adequate protection for our citizens and have been building business blocks in residential neighborhoods and they will continue to do so just as long as the aldermen quarrel over a part of zoning which is relatively unimportant.

We believe that the people of Newton demand the passage of a zoning ordinance which will stop this encroachment of business on residential areas and that the aldermen should enact such an ordinance at once.

The standing regulation adopted by the aldermen this week prohibiting peddlers from approaching within 1,000 feet of any school house during school hours is intended to stop itinerant lunch carts from doing business near the High Schools. Here is a chance for some of our budding constitutional lawyers to find out if this regulation does not conflict with the "restraint of trade" provisions in the Sherman law. We respectfully call the attention of Alderman White to this invasion of the rights of the "peepul."

Mayor Childs' sarcastic reference in his veto of the Zoning ordinance to the fact that some of the aldermen do not as yet understand what the ordinance means, must refer to those aldermen who are so strenuously opposing its passage. Those aldermen in favor of the ordinance are representing their constituents, the others represent the Mayor and Alderman White.

The time to see to it that the right men are sent to the board of aldermen and school committee is before the nominations close for the city election. That date this year is next Wednesday. It will do little good a few weeks from now to complain of the personnel of our city government if the present opportunity to nominate good men is neglected. DO IT NOW.

Strong Committee Organized

PHILIP W. CARTER, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3 at the coming city election on December 12th, announces that a General Committee in the interests of his candidacy has been formed, as follows:

Chairman: Fred M. Blanchard
Members: John B. Hebbard, Joseph B. Jamieson, Frederick K. Leatherbee, Gifford LeClear, Rev. Richard T. Loring, Clarence S. Luitwieler, George B. H. Macomber, George H. Mellen, Alfred N. Miner, Jr., C. Haviland Morse, Herbert B. Morse, Earl H. Ordway, Herbert C. Parsons, Frank A. Schirmer, Ellis Spear, Jr., George C. Warren, Joseph T. Gilman, Guy M. Winslow, Prescott H. Wellman.

Candidates for the board of aldermen and school committee are being groomed by their friends for the coming city election on December 12th. We trust the issue will be decided by what is best for the city and not on a personal basis.

The immediate confirmation by the aldermen of the appointment of Bernard F. Burke as chief of police, is a well-deserved vote of confidence. Chief Burke enters on his new duties with the hearty good will of the entire city.

A full account of the Chamber of Commerce meeting last night will be given next week.

GIRL SCOUTS

At a meeting of the Finance Committee held at the home of the Campaign Chairman, Mrs. John Eaton, West Newton, it was decided to give the members of the Committee until December 11, to fulfill their quotas. At the present time the Upper Falls Committee is the only one which has raised its full amount. Three thousand dollars does not seem a large amount to ask the citizens of Newton to give towards supporting this organization. A small portion of this is sent towards the National and State budget but most of it is to be used right here in Newton. There are nearly four hundred Girl Scouts in this city, in eleven different Troops, and more are joining every week. New Troops should be started to meet the demands of the girls and the work enlarged in every way. The money is being raised by subscriptions, food sales and entertainments given by the troops. Troop 7, Upper Falls, is to be congratulated. Will not the citizens of each village see to it that their Troop will not fall behind?

Troop 1, The Girl Scouts of Troop 1, Newtonville, are holding their meetings in the Parish House of St. John's Church. This makes a splendid meeting place and the Troop is most fortunate in being able to meet there. Troop 1, started the year with about twenty girls, since then twenty more have joined and the Scouts are looking forward to a splendid year of work and play, at the first meeting Margaret Merrill was elected Secretary of the Troop, and Florence Hills, Treasurer. Margaret Merrill, Ruth Lapham and Louise Trowbridge were chosen the Patrol Leaders and Frances Eddy.

Ruth Loud and Barbara Alexander were elected Corporals. Six girls from Troop 1, spent their summer vacation at Camp Low, the Girl Scout State Camp at Dunstable, where they won a number of Merit Badges and a number of the girls spent a few days at Camp Mary Day. These girls with their summer Scout work should be of great assistance to the Captain during the coming year. The officers of Troop 1, are, Mrs. C. D. Meserve, Captain; Miss Gertrude Ernst, Miss Isabel Skepwith, Miss Olive Kenney and Miss Florence Malcolm, First Lieutenants; Miss Marion Maxim and Miss Cecile Kinrade, Second Lieutenants.

To meet the demands of those wishing to join Training Courses for Girl Scout Leaders and of the Officers who want the newest methods of putting the work across to the Scouts, two training courses will be conducted by Miss Freeman, the Local Director, starting early in December. One of these courses will be held Thursday evenings, every two weeks, the first meeting being December 7, at 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. The other courses will be held Friday mornings, every week, starting December 8, from 10 to 12 A. M. Both courses will be held in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, West Newton. It is hoped that they will be largely attended. Any one interested to join will please notify Miss Freeman.

ANNIVERSARY BAZAAR

The Anniversary Bazaar, commemorating the 50th year of service of the Newton Universalist Church, will be held in the Parish House, Washington Park, Newtonville, on Thursday and Friday afternoon and evening, December 14th and 15th. All the church organizations are taking part in preparing the useful, fancy, and delicious articles which will be on sale. A chicken supper will be served by the men of the church at 6:30 Thursday evening. On Friday evening the young people will provide an attractive cafeteria supper which will be followed by an entertainment in charge of Mrs. Willard E. Higgins.

FOOTBALL

FROM Moody street to Clafin Field. The battle cry rings high; Bring on your men, old Newton, Waltham! Prepare to die!

The above rhyme (or does it rhyme?) will never endanger the laurels of Joyce Kilmer or Richard de Galliene, but it's the best we can do just at present.

Waltham is coming! You knew that long ago but we have to find some way of getting started. Tomorrow afternoon the Watch and the Garden cities will make their bids for glory on Clafin Field. The time for the start of hostilities is set at 2:30 P. M. Suburban League or not, Waltham is Newton's greatest rival. Newton would rather wallop the Waltham eleven than beat any other team in the State while Waltham would not object to the loss of several contests, if only the Watch City team might squelch Newton. The man who first used the phrase "deadly rivals" must have had a Newton-Waltham game in mind.

It is common knowledge that there is no love lost between the two cities. Newton and Waltham are neighbors only in so far as geographical positions are concerned. Nobody has ever accused them of being friendly neighbors. Waltham frankly admits it has little regard for Newton and Newton is equally frank in proclaiming that it cares nothing at all for Waltham. Is it any wonder that the Newton-Waltham football game is a classic. One can never tell what will happen when the Gardeners meet the Watchmakers. It is a game in which previous records are of no account. We have seen Newton football teams that would have beaten many college elevens go over to Waltham and receive a wicked plastering from a supposedly weaker Waltham outfit. The days when it was impossible for Newton to defeat Waltham are not so distant that one cannot recall them. In the old days a Newton-Waltham game meant a great scrap, a battle for blood, but when it came a finish there was ever but one conqueror, and that conqueror was Waltham.

With the coming of Dickinson as coach of the Orange and Black elevens the games with Waltham began to undergo a change. True, many powerful Newton teams still went over to Waltham confident and still came back from Waltham defeated, but as year succeeded year and as the Dickinson system began to take hold of the Orange and Black, one could detect a gradual upheaval in this annual conflict, carrying with it the hope that the time was not far off when Newton would rise up and smash the long standing prestige of proud Waltham.

At last the great day came, what one of us will ever forget Saturday, November 30, 1917, that day when a mighty Newton eleven under the command of the peerless "Hank" Garrity crossed the Moody street bridge and for the first time in football annals crushed the Waltham team and came back to Newton victorious. And the Newton celebration in Waltham that night. Do you remember it?

The Waltham spell had been broken! Since 1917 Newton has won every game with Waltham, although the annual contest remains as ever, a hard, thrilling, grudge battle between two spirited, jealous cities. Tomorrow afternoon these two great rivals will mix things up as did their older brothers in years long since departed. It will be another typical Newton-Waltham clash, former records will count for nothing, it will be a battle for blood, and the eleven that fights the hardest will win.

The majority of Newton supporters feel that the Orange and Black is going to win. The writer is among this majority. He believes that Waltham and Newton are about evenly matched but that for once Newton is the more desperate and will show more fight than it has for years. But, of course, you can't make Waltham believe this.

The Watch City fans, headed by a brass band, are coming to Newtonville en masse, and they are absolutely sure of a Waltham triumph. Waltham is ready to yell its head off for its team and we are glad the game is not to be settled by the cheering sections. If it were, Newton wouldn't have a chance.

The 1922 Waltham eleven has engaged in nine games and has lost but one, that which Fitchburg High captured 7-6. Waltham's opponents have been none too strong. Even the Fitchburg team was greatly over-rated. In facing Newton, Waltham meets its strongest opponent of the season and if Waltham wins it will mean that it is a more efficient machine than we credit it with being.

Newton's season has been a failure as far as the Suburban League is concerned, but Newton's opponents have been tough ones and at least three of them have been, in our opinion, stronger teams than Waltham. Furthermore, the fact that a Dickinson eleven is at its best in late season strengthens our stand for a Newton victory tomorrow.

Newton played a fair game of football against Malden last week. Bowen at quarter seemed to give the team that impetus which up until last Saturday had been sadly lacking. Against Malden, McQuiston played the best football we have seen him play, in spite of the fact that it was his fumble which almost cost Newton the game. McQuiston can run like Jake Driscoll and his only fault is the tendency to let the piskin get away from him. Newton had better hold fast to the ball tomorrow for grabbing fumbles is Waltham's meat.

It will be interesting to see how Clafin Field is going to hold the huge crowd which will seek admittance. If you haven't got a ticket at this writing you probably won't get one. If you have got a ticket we repeat our warning of a fortnight ago, GET TO THE FIELD EARLY. The manner in which they handle a crowd at Clafin Field is pitiful so if you want to see the kick-off you must be on hand long before 2:30 P. M.

If Newton wins Waltham will know of it tomorrow night. If Waltham wins someone had better put a lock on Newtonville Square. Let's go!

—Walter R. Graham.

NEWTON CLUB FAIR

In the attractive tea room, and those where "hot dogs," ice cream, and various drinks were to be found were in great demand.

Premiums from a ham to a Studebaker automobile were much in evidence.

In the evening dancing was much enjoyed music being furnished by the famous "Sid" Reinherz Orchestra.

A very interesting booklet was issued by the club for the occasion, the advertising in which was, in many cases, given by club members.

This evening the Governor is expected to be present.

CITY HALL

City Treasurer Newhall has received the usual settlement with the State and a check for over $533,000 carries the actual receipts for the year well over the amount estimated last summer when the tax rate was fixed. This means that the much abused Excess and Deficiency account will have a good surplus at the end of the year.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

was acting chief he made a number of changes in the department. His first innovation was that of daily roll-call and inspection. As the men come on duty they report to the sergeants in the different stations and the orders of the day are read. Chief Burke believes that officers should be reprimanded for breaches of rules and commended for good work. Following out that plan, at each roll call the names of those men who have done good work and those who should be disciplined are read out publicly.

Chief Burke has also instituted a traffic squad of 12 men and added one motorcycle officer for traffic duty on the avenue. The traffic squad is on duty Sundays on Commonwealth avenue, weekdays in the various squares and at all the schoolhouses.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt

Tomorrow will be "Women's Day" for the Salvation Army, when through the aid of the women's clubs in and about Boston the Army hopes to make up the needed funds to carry on its work. If the budget cannot be obtained, it will mean the closing one of the hospitals something that the community at large cannot afford to let happen. It is well known and generally recognized, that the Salvation Army reaches a class of people that no other organization is able to, and for this it should receive the support of those who can help. Col. McIntyre in making an appeal to the Newton Federation on Monday morning, quoted the late Franklin K. Lane, as saying that it "lifts the bottom." Anything which lifts the bottom, lifts the whole mass, and therefore, should be supported.

State Federation

A Mothercraft and Child Welfare Conference, Miss May Bliss Dickinson, chairman, to which Club Women from all Eastern States are invited will be held under the auspices of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs in Boston on December 5. There will be a morning session at the Exeter Theatre, followed by a conference luncheon at the Hotel Lenox and an informal reception at the Boston Public Library where a Mothercraft and Child Welfare exhibit will be shown for a week.

One of the special guests and speakers of the day will be Mrs. Elmer Blair of New York City, chairman of the Public Welfare Department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, a director of the National Child Welfare Organization, and a member of the board of trustees of the Women's Foundation for Health. Mrs. Blair is nationally known for her leadership in many health movements.

Another to speak at this time is Mrs. Ira Couch Wood, who heads the Division of Child Welfare of the General Federation Public Welfare Department. Mrs. Wood believes and strongly emphasizes the fact that not poverty but ignorance of health laws and the proper program for the development of child life is at the root of all the evils caused by malnutrition. When Mrs. Wood took up her activities as chairman of Child Welfare, she incorporated Mothercraft with the National Child Welfare Program, and at this time she chose Miss May Bliss Dickinson, of Boston, as an advisory member in her Child Welfare Division. All club women and others interested in Child Welfare are welcome.

who try to define new poetry insist that the subject must be clearly imagined and clearly described by careful selection of words. Parts of Miss Harriet Monroe's "Hotel," Miss Lowell's "Patterns," Robert Frost's "After Apple-Picking," and Carl Sandburg's "Chicago," were read to illustrate these requirements.

In closing Mr. Thomas said we should be thankful to the new poets, for they have greatly enlarged the scope of poetry, given a wider conception of form, and are demanding simplicity. He predicts that the result will be something worth while for "nature always returns to the C Major of life."

Preceding the lecture, a group of songs was delightfully rendered by Mrs. Raymond Fuller, with piano accompaniment by Miss Betty Fairchild.

During the social hour, when tea was served by the hospitality committee, a musical program was given by pupils from the West Newton Music School.

The contribution of jellies and preserves for the Newton Hospital was the largest for several years. The hundred and eighty-three jars of translucent amber and purple, scarlet and gold, were a joy to look at.

A generous collection of useful clothing to be distributed among several charities was displayed by the Needlework Guild, in charge of the charitable committee, Mrs. J. A. Stafford, chairman.

Some of the institutions to be benefited are the Gov. John A. Andrew Home, the Pomroy Home and the Home for Aged People.

MINSTREL SHOW

The seventh annual minstrel show of the Newton Catholic Club, entitled "The Best Ever" was staged this week on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the club hall, in West Newton, and attracted capacity audiences at each performance.

For two hours and a half Shylock Combs, the great detective, played by Joe Curran and Dr. Slaton, his assistant, played by Mike O'Connell, tracked the stolen pearls along the decks of the good ship Mulligattawney. Capt. Anchor and Bill Bowlin, played by Charlie Laffie and Frank Kane ye-ho-hoed to their hearts content, and a chorus of sailor lads and lasses danced and sang.

Alderman T. C. Hickey, president of the club, was interlocutor, and the leading parts were taken by Charlie Laffie, Joe Curran, John R. Kyte, Mike O'Connell, Marie Jean Fayes, Bob Cunningham and Mae Monahan did their share on the ends. Mae Monahan stopped the show with her rendition of "Strutting" at the Strutters Ball.

Mary and Timmie O'Callaghan in a dancing and singing sketch made a big hit. Jack Joyce and Irene Cain in a sketch were well received and also in their solos were liberally enjoyed. Frank Kane and the Dog Watch in the Sailor's Hornpipe, and Frank McDermott with the Geisha Girls, in 46 Oriental Novelty, presented two of the best dancing and singing specialties.

Joe Curran, as little Lord Fauntleroy, singing "Oh, Is She Dumb?" brought down the house while his partner, Mike O'Connell, assisted by six Ethiopian dancers convulsed the audience with his "Cleopatra" burlesque.

Others in the cast were Helen O'Connell, Agnes Greene, Lena Mullen, Mary O'Callaghan, Catherine Delehanty, Dorothy Burnham, Ruth Kneeland and Agnes Martin, in the front row; Margaret Welch, Marie Fayes, Anna Tedesco, Isabelle Guzzi, Mildred Ryan, Mary H. Acesto, Helen Killey, Margaret Meyers, Marguerite Donohue, Alice Herlihy, Helen Guzzi, Rose Robblee, Alice Kearney, Margaret Keefe, Mary H. Martin, Peg Quinn, Marie Curran, Isabelle A. Fayes, Katherine Keeley, Loretta Carley, Theresa Rycroft, Mary Meyers, Agnes Pond, Grace McCarthy, Louise Kiley, Margaret Tracey, Katherine E. Ryan, Nora L. Ford, Ella Ford, Catherine Shagnessy, Helen Gorman, Eleanor Roche, Peg Clancy, Catherine Donohue, Joseph Salvia, James Mitchell, James Cronin, Arthur Dolan, Salvatore Aceto, Howard Greene, Le Roy Hart, John Houlihan, James Mullen, R. J. Tierney, Thomas Morrissey, Thomas Whelan, James Turner, William Darnody, Philip McHugh, Patrick Hurley, Thomas McCarthy, William J. Robblee, Henry Daley, Henry Fusi, John Leary, and Gordon Berry chorus.

James R. Condrin was stage manager, with Bernard Farrell, Sr., William Meehan, Hal Green, Frank D. Kane, John J. Higgins, and William Robblee, Sr. Assistant; John J. Ennis, electrician and Hal Green, publicity agent.

THE SECOND CHURCH WEST NEWTON

Let us go out and walk upon the Road,
And quit forevermore the brick-built den,
The lock and key, the hidden, shy abode
That separates us from our fellow-men.
And by contagion of the Sun we may
Catch at a spark from that primeval fire,
And learn that we are better than our clay,
And equal to the peaks of our desire.

NEWTON POST, A. L.

At the meeting of the Post last week, State Commander William F. Doyle was a speaker and presented the chaplain, Rev. Fr. Wm. J. Farrell, with a purse of gold. Later in the evening Fr. Doyle presented the welfare fund of the Post with $100.

The nominating committee made the following nominations: Commander, Levi Libby; vice-commanders, William H. Carey, John J. Goldrick, John MacLellan; chaplain, Rev. William J. Farrell; historian, Rev. Paul Phalen; executive committee, Russell Viles, Newton; Thomas Hickey, Nonantum; Harold D. Ames, Newtonville; John P. O'Brien, West Newton; Ellsworth W. Poole, Auburndale; Oswald J. McCourt, Newton Lower Falls; Edward J. Pollock, Newton Upper Falls; Clement L. Lockwood, Waban; William Watson, Newton Highlands; C. M. Hockridge, Thompsonville; J. J. Cavanaugh, Newton Centre; Chestnut Hill will be announced later.

Newton Post is to hold a dance in the Legion Hall on the evening of Dec. 14 in aid of the welfare fund. William Greene, chairman of the entertainment committee, is in charge of the arrangements, assisted by Commanders Goldrick, Ramm, Watson, Cavanaugh, Fahey and Barry. Commander Cornerais has appointed the following men to see that Christmas gifts are sent to Newton men in hospitals, French, Noone, Murray, Poole, and O'Brien.

Newton Post was quite successful at the National Legion convention in New Orleans, and Levi Libby, the Newton Post delegate, introduced an important resolution, which was unanimously adopted. The resolution instructs the National commander to appoint a committee of three to inquire into the feasibility and probable cost of establishing and maintaining somewhere in the United States a home for the destitute and orphaned children of deceased Legionnaires. The committee will report its finding to the 1923 convention.

DEATH OF MRS. CARTER

Mrs. Frances E. Carter, widow of Frank H. Carter, died last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Adna C. Dennison of Ashmont Road, Waban.

Mrs. Carter was born in Cambridge. For about eight years she and her husband lived on Montvale Road, Newton Centre and after his death she came to live with Mrs. Dennison.

Besides Mrs. Dennison she leaves a daughter, Mrs. David Sutton, also of Waban.

The funeral services were held on Sunday at her late residence, Rev. Charles H. Cutter of the Union Church officiating. Music was furnished by the Harvard Quartet. The burial was at Lancaster, Mass., in the family lot.

At the recent Mechanics' hall show under the auspices of the Boston Terrier Club of America "There Off" went from the puppy to best dog in the regular classes, quite an achievement in the canine world.

"There Off" took the blue ribbon in the senior puppy class and came to the fore in the limit class, dogs under 15 pounds, and won also in the dogs' open class. For American bred dogs "There Off" also took first honors.

Y. M. C. A.

The city-wide free swimming campaign conducted at the Y. M. C. A., last week proved very successful, 124 different boys enrolled to the free instruction. The daily average attendance was 85, and out of 78, who took the test on the closing day, 58 passed successfully, several others who were not present for the test had learned to swim during the week, and the balance while not passing the test had gained sufficient knowledge of the fundamentals so that with a little more practice will be able to swim.

As a result of this campaign many parents will feel easier next summer when "Sonny" goes into the water.

The instruction was given by Jack Manning of the Humane Society of Mass., former crew coach at Harvard for 17 years now teaching swimming throughout New England. He demonstrated his ability as an instructor during the campaign by the way he handled and taught the large classes.

The senior swimming team will begin practice Tuesday night, 7.30. November 28, Ray Millard, present holder of the New England 100 yard title was elected captain for the coming season. Millard is an all round performer and will make an ideal leader for the team.

The Two-States Y. M. C. A. swimming championships will be held in the local Y tank, January 20, at which time the Newton team will make a strong bid for the title it won last year. Interesting dual meets will also be held in the near future.

The senior class basket ball league will soon be going again which will give all members interested in this sport a chance to play on a team. The new rules will be demonstrated before the league schedule begins so that all players will know the game as it will be played this year. Prizes will be awarded the team winning the most games.

Every Tuesday night, before class an athletic event is held for the senior class. The same events are conducted by all Y. M. C. A.'s, in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The results of each

The Newton Y. M. C. A. has entered a bowling team in the Greater Boston Y. M. C. A. League. The team has been fortunate enough to win the first two matches from Cambridge and the Boston Y. M. C. A. The next match will be with the Boston and Maine R. R., Y. M. C. A.

Ralph E. Davis, Pastor of the Methodist Church, of Newton Centre, was the speaker last Monday evening, at the Fellowship Club. This talk on "Wrestlers," or "Winning Through to Success," in all phases of life, was much enjoyed by the large number present. The speaker next week will be, Professor

George Owen of the Department of Naval Architecture, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His subject will be "Ships Past and Present." In his talk he will tell about the liner "Majestic" and the race in Gloucester just won by the Canadian Schooner, "Bluenose."

A Buick Roadster Satisfies

The "Six", $1175; the "Six-Sport", $1625
the "Four", $865

For those who want the intimacy of the roadster design, Buick provides a completely satisfying selection of models, in appearance as well as in price. Business men find the six-cylinder, two-passenger roadster well suited both to work day trips and to social motoring.

Equally fine for these, and at the same time luxurious in its appointments and smart in its snappy lines and coloring is the six-cylinder sport roadster—the de-luxe model of its kind.

While a modest, dependable and convenient car is the four-cylinder roadster. And all are Buicks with all that Buick provides in power, dependability and flawless performance.

Perfect Fitting Storm Curtains

Buick open models are fitted with side curtains of new design, having weather-proof joints to prevent wind and rain from penetrating inside. Curtains fasten tightly around the windshield which is adjusted now from the inside. They are provided with additional lights to increase the range of vision. Curtains open with the doors and the driver has a signal pocket for his convenience.

The Buick Line for 1923 Comprises Fourteen Models:

Four—2 Pass. Roadster, $865; 5 Pass. Touring, $885; 3 Pass. Coupe, $1175; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1385; 5 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1325. Six—2 Pass. Roadster, $1175; 5 Pass. Touring, $1195; 5 Pass.
